PERSONAL MENTION

Of People Who Came and Went Today.

Miss Pierce has returned from a trip to Baltimore and New York.

Collector Simmons left this morning for the eastern part of the state.

Rev. P. F. Clapp, of Eion college, preached a strong sermon at the Christian church yesterday.

Senator Z. B. Vance of North Carolina has arrived at Jacksonville, Fla., on his way north from a sojourn at Tampa in Florida.

This morning Mr. Wash Carter, a well known carpenter, was stricken with paralysis, and his condition is thought to be serious. The head and one side are attacked.

Arrivals at the Park hotel today: A. H. Adams, Durham; Paul Garrett, Weldon; R. W. Holcombe, Baltimore; D. Wyatt Aiken, New York; E. O. Hall, Baltimore; W. H. Briard, Omaha; T. H. Sutton, Fayetteville.

The Goldsboro Argus says that Dr. W. H. Cobb, Jr., now an assistant physician at the insane asylum here, will soon resign and return to Goldsboro, to engage in the practice of medicine with his father.

The Columbian society at Trinity college has elected speakers for commencement as follows: Junior—P. A. Durham, R. B. Crawford, A. W. Finch, E. W. Euse, J. O. Rowe, E. K. McLarty; Sophomore—Roper, Aldridge, Dalley, Bivins, Hall; Freshman—Brown, Love, Cole, Houston, Ingram.

Arrivals at the Yarbrough house today: J. R. Watts, Atlanta; R. E. Little, J. A. Lockhart, Wadesboro; W. L. Terrell, Miss Zoa Riggsbee, Mrs. H. P. Markham, Durham; R. Gras, N. Y.; M. Frank, H. B. Binswanger, Richmond; T. E. Cox, Kinston; G. P. Baker and wife, Winchester, Mass.; H. H. Andrews, Roanoke; C. M. Cooke, Miss Mattie Harris, Louisville; D. B. Snyder, Chicago; M. E. Dewitt, Rochester.

This morning quite a party left here for Mt. Airy on a private car, to visit the granite quarries there. The car went via Sanford and Greensboro. On board were Gov. and Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Armistead Jones and daughter, Mrs. H. S. Scales and daughter and Miss Mordecai of New York, Mrs. R. B. Peebles, Miss Maggie Cowper, Miss Annie Busbee and Mr. G. M. Allen. The party will probably return tomorrow night.

The painters are at work on the Carter Harrison house, which Mr. Baker has rented. The interior of the house is beautiful. No less than seven different kinds of wood are used.

Mr. John H. Baker, a veteran clerk at W. O. & A. B. Stronach's store, was the victim of a painful but not serious accident there today. He missed his footing and fell down a flight of stairs.

At the house of Mr. Wm. H. Fortson, on Franklin street, yesterday afternoon, his daughter, Miss M. J. Fortson, was married to Mr. George W. McKinney of Burlington, Rev. A. M. Simms pastor of the Baptist tabernacle, performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. McKinney left for Burlington at 4 o'clock.

Rev. D. H. Tuttle preached an attractive sermon at Central M. E. church yesterday on the subject of foreign missions. Last evening his sermon was also a strong one, a regular revival discourse. The meetings at this church will continue all this week. There are Bible readings daily at 4 o'clock p. m.

A most amusing typographical error occurred in the VISITOR Saturday. A prominent "architect" was written of, but the compositor made the word "anarchist." The gentleman in question is far from being an anarchist; in fact is as gentle as a school girl's valedictory address; and no one enjoyed the error of the types more than he. The compositor will be out in a few days.

Joseph Arthur's "Still Alarm" comes to this city this season with the prestige of a successful career extending over several years, and with a company of capable actors. Few plays possess more interesting features than this spirited melodrama. The fire engine house scene was a happy inspiration and in making it the chief situation in his play the author hit the public fancy and gave to the play an enduring popularity.

Postmaster Busbee.

C. M. Busbee is appointed postmaster. Congressman Bann telegraphs his congratulations.

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Showers tonight or Tuesday. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: On Tuesday: Showers. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature, 73; minimum temperature, 58; rainfall, 0.00.

Synopsis: The pressure is generally below normal, except over the south Atlantic coast and over the northern lake region. The centers of low pressure are over New England and over Texas. The disturbance in the southwest is causing considerable rain. Very heavy rainfall is reported from Memphis. The rain area will probably cover the eastern part of the country on Tuesday. The temperature has fallen considerably in the northwest, and it is probable that it will be cooler here by Wednesday.

Thus far the fruit is unhurt by the frost.

Daghl received orders today from Atlanta and Philadelphia for Junaluska claret and a barrel was shipped to each place.

Mr. L. W. Smith has been getting Irish potatoes from his garden for several days. He says they are the earliest he has ever grown. This beats Newbern.

The new Louisburg road, north of the covered bridge, is as straight as an arrow for over a mile. There is a fine view of it from the highest point on Mr. Willis Whitaker's farm.

The street force is now leveling the pavement on West Martin street near Fayetteville street, and will do that sort of work wherever the pavement has by reason of settling become uneven.

The city authorities ought to have the street names put up at each corner, and ought also to require all houses to be numbered. Many new houses are not numbered. Both these matters really deserve attention.

As soon as shell rock, which Mr. Colin Hawkins is to give the city, arrives West Davis street for one block from Fayetteville will be laid with this material, which is found in Goldsboro to make excellent pavements.

The friends of Mr. W. E. Dewar are deeply pained at the death from pneumonia of one of his twin children, at the age of fifteen months. The death occurred last night at his home on Fayetteville street, and the funeral was held this afternoon.

The fish dealers in the market say they sold about 500 pairs of shad and at least 2,000 bunches of fish last week, the total weight of the shad being two tons and of the bunch fish three tons. Raleigh is said to be the best fish market in the state during the Lenten season.

The street commissioner says that next week Nash square will be ploughed and peas and oats sown there, in preparation for seeding in grass in the fall. He says the cause of the delay has been the desire to cover the square with street sweepings as a fertilizer.

Meekins Lane, colored, about a year ago was disorderly on the streets here. He got away before he was arrested, but a few days ago returned. Today the mayor sent him to work on the roads, and he will devote himself to improvement of the highways for at least fifty days.

A man named Davis, charged with murder in Nansemond county, Va., has been taken from Warrenton, N. C., to the former state without requisition on Governor Carr. The Governor telegraphed to the sheriff of Warren to hold Davis until requisition was received, but the sheriff replied that the man had already been taken away.

There are as yet no definite plans for street paving this year, but street commissioner Blake is urging the street committee to order the paving of east Hargett street between south Wilmington and south Blount streets, and west Hargett street between Fayetteville and south Salisbury streets. At both of these places paving is greatly needed.

An unknown thief broke into the pastor's study at the First Baptist church and took away a couple of communion plates, part of a rubber suit used by the pastor while baptizing, and a table cloth. The boots of the suit were cut away and taken; the table cloth being used to carry the plunder in. Four years ago the same room was entered and robbed. The thief then got an order, which he found in some church papers, took this to a merchant and got the cash for it. It was about as cheeky a performance as can well be imagined.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Items Picked Up and Rolled Down.

A chapel has been built at the soldiers' home.

State treasurer Tate went to Wilmington yesterday.

Maj. Berkeley, general manager of the E. & D. railway, is here.

The swimming pool at Pullen park will open for the season June 1.

The road between the city and the Pilot cotton mills is to be graded.

At the Park hotel a delightful spring dinner was served yesterday.

Iron ceilings have been put in the new building at the insane asylum.

The grain and grass fields are now almost as green as they usually are in May.

Seats for the "The Still Alarm" can be had at W. H. King & Co's drug store.

Next week sheriff Page will publish the list of insolvent and delinquent taxpayers.

Ten new scholars were received at the Christian church yesterday, making 85 since Christmas.

At a land sale today at the court house auctioneer Stronach sold eight lots in Oberlin and some Johnston county property.

Governor Carr orders a special term of the superior court for Green county, to begin May 21. Judge Brown will preside.

Mr. Frank Moseley, better known as "Spider," went to Richmond yesterday. He will join a traveling company there, as a contortionist.

The attendance at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon was large. Charles M. Busbee, Esq., delivered an address, which was given close attention.

There was a very heavy hail storm at Monroeville Saturday afternoon. Fine and grateful rains of marked benefit to crops fell in this section of the State.

Two car loads of granite for the Pullen building have arrived from the quarries at Rolesville. This store is said by experts to be fine in quality.

At Christ church yesterday palms were liberally used in the chancel. As the offertory Miss Cowper, the organist, played Faure's fine musical composition "The Palms."

Perhaps the worst piece of road anywhere near Raleigh is just beyond Col. Holleman's place. Not long ago a Virginian said he was willing to bet that there were some roads in his state which were the worst in the whole country. A Raleigh man took him up and to settle the question the Holleman road was visited. The Virginian swore as soon as he saw it it was no road, but a clay pit, and a referee had to be called in to prove it to be a road and settle the point. Now this particular bit of road is in St. Mary's township. The people of that township are interested in having it macadamized. Yet they want Raleigh or the county to do the work, and manifest no disposition to spend a dollar themselves.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York March 19—3 p. m.—Stocks closed firm but at a substantial reaction from top prices. Traders took profits in the grangers and sugar felt the pressure of long stock. The Keene brokers sold lead and western houses reduced their line of whiskey trust. Gas was decidedly firmer on a good demand to cover shorts by the Laumack brokers. National Cordage was lower on sales to realize profits. It is understood that one of the members of the old Cordage company has refused to accept a salaried position unless he is elected a member of the board of directors. It is understood that two vacancies in the directors will be created this week. New England was decidedly weak on the prospects of a peremptory foreclosure in the interest of the second bondholders.

The closing bids on stocks were as follows: Louisville and Nashville, 49 1/2; Missouri Pacific, 26 1/2; New York Central, 100 1/2; New York and New England, 104 1/2; Northwestern, 106 1/2; Omaha, 38 1/2; Distillers' and Cattle Feeders, 26 1/2; Pacific Mail, 17 1/2; Philadelphia and Reading, 22 1/2; Richmond Terminal, 4 1/2; St. Paul, 63 1/2; Union Pacific, 18 1/2; Western Union, 86 1/2; Atchafson, 1 1/2; Chicago Gas, 93 1/2; American Sugar Refinery, 81 1/2; Chicago Burlington and Quincy, 42 1/2; General Electric, 70 1/2; Rock Island, 123 1/2; Manhattan, 123 1/2.
