CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, March 17.—There has been a decline in wheat during the past week. The situation has remained very bearish and there has occurred nothing that could afford holders any encouragement. But around these low prices and at this season of the year the temperament in the trade is quite different from that of a month or two ago, notwithstanding the weakness that has prevailed and does still prevail.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The market reacted sharply in the final dealings on the reports that the seigniorage bill will become a law and that gold shipments will be made next week. Sugar and national cordage were strong features, the former losing some of its early strength when insiders discovered that long stock was coming out. Cordage was bought by smaller traders and showed little reaction and tendency. The leaders took profits in St Paul R I was the most unsettled of the grangers on sales by the flower pool which were detected by the Cammack brokers, who also helped on the decline. There was scattering liquidation in Chicago gas.
