PERSONAL MENTION

Of People Who Came and Went Today.

Mr Charles M Parks, of the Atlanta Journal, is here.

Collectos Simmons returned from Beaufort this afternoon.

The noted Prof. Woodrow Wilson is to deliver an address at Trinity college tomorrow evening.

Mr P H Hughes returned today from a trip of inspection of the Postal telegraph lines as far as Fayetteville.

Representative Brann says William T Cheatham will be appointed postmaster at Henderson in a day or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey of Whiteville, Maine, are at Mr. J E Barkley's, to remain a month in Raleigh's genial climate.

The North Carolina state educational association, which meets at Durham Friday, will have as its guest of honor Gov Carr.

Congressman Bryan of Nebraska, delivers the address before the State Industrial and normal school at Greensboro at the commencement in May.

Mr. D F St Clair, formerly owner of the Charlotte Observer, is at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, as the correspondent of the New York Herald.

The N O dental association meets this year at Durham, May 1. Dr. C A Rominger, of Reidsville, is president; Dr. J E Wyobe, of Oxford, secretary.

Rev Dr R H Whitaker, who has been the Spirit of the Age, was the oldest editor in the state, having been in harness 41 years. His first work was on the Live Giraffe in this city in 1858.

F H Busbee Esq., will deliver the address before the graduating class of the University college of medicine of Richmond, Va., (formerly the college of physicians and surgeons) on April 5.

Dr. Edward S Banks, son of Dr. T L Banks, of this county, has graduated at the school of medicine of the university of Baltimore. He is a brother of Dr. Braxton Banks, of Garner's Station.

The cases against the officials of the bank of New Hanover are up in the criminal court at Wilmington. Attorney general Osborne and State treasurer Tate, of Raleigh, and W R Allen E-q, of Goldsboro, will represent the state in these cases.

Mrs. John A Gill died yesterday at her home on south McDowell street, after a long illness. She was a native of England, was 40 years of age, and was married in 1879 and came here in 1883. She was a devoted member of the Congregational church. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr Daniel officiating.

Governor Carr and the ladies and gentlemen who accompanied him on the visit to Mt Airy are greatly pleased at the reception given them and at what they saw there and at the great granite quarries four miles from Mt Airy, where 200 men are getting out stone. The party stopped at the Renfro inn, of which Mr Bryan is the landlord.

Arrivals at the Park hotel today: F R Hindman, Clarion, Pa; P H Frayser, Richmond; A D Lippitt, E D Lippitt, Wilmington; O S Bann, Richmond; J O Smith, Norfolk; J H Waddey, Atlanta; J W Finch, O B Baker, Louisville, Ky; C D Wilson, J Wistar, Philadelphia; E P Albee, Winston; W J Orr, Richmond; O O Napier, New York; James McKeel, Cold Spring, N Y.

At the Yarboro today: Jas Graves, E G Muse, N C; D N Bennett, Norwood; A B Young, Concord; C F McRoney, N C; B F Little, Baltimore; A O Thompson, Chicago; Otho Esser, N Y; J W Mason, N C; F H Walker, N Y; B O Stanard, Durham; J E Freeman, Dayton Ohio; G Duzeberry, Oxford; W O Lankford, Wake Forest; W H Upton, Rutland, Vt; C E Morris, Philadelphia.

Today's Charlotte Observer says editorially: "We congratulate Raleigh and Raleigh's new postmaster upon the action that has been finally taken in the case. Mr. Busbee is not only a fine gentleman, but a deserved democrat. In Mr. Stronach he had a competitor of the same sort. Whether deserts, personal worth or the good of the public service were considered no mistake would have been made in the selection of either. The incident has been closed without friction, and in a manner satisfactory, doubtless to the community, as it is agreeable to Mr. Busbee's friends."

The Weather.

For North Carolina: Showers today and on the coast tonight. Fair Thursday. Local forecast: On Thursday: Occasional showers. Colder weather may be expected within a few days. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today: Maximum temperature, 83; minimum temperature, 61; rainfall 0.01.

Synopsis: The weather is generally cloudy and threatening, with showers, in the eastern states. The storm which was central over Arkansas yesterday is now over Nebraska and Iowa. Warm weather continues everywhere except in the extreme northwest, where there has been a considerable fall in temperature, and some snow.

New Advertisements.

Central Cafe—Specials.
Woolcott & Son—Specials.
Lyon Racket—Spring Opening.

O A Sherwood announces the arrival of Blacker & Gerstle's shoes, which are of excellent make.

Briggs & Sons advertise one of the luxuries and at the same time necessities of the season—baby carriages, in all colors of trimmings.

Miss Gattie Pierce, the milliner at Woolcott & Son, has returned from New York, having made a carful and tasteful selection of goods.

J G Ball & Co are strictly business in the grocery line and have both a new store and a new stock at No. 7, east Hargett street. The line of goods carried is selected with care and both high quality and low prices are guaranteed.

The annual statement of that sound company, the Employer's Liability Assurance Corporation, of which Mr T T Hay is the general agent, was published yesterday. The company's financial standing is high, and its business in this state is in good hands, Mr Hay's agency being widely known.

The mayor's court was barren of cases today.

The Capital club will give a german Monday evening.

There are now 280 children at the Oxford orphan asylum.

Will Wynne is on the A & M college baseball team this season.

The oaks in the capitol square show signs of coming into leaf.

The savings bank will probably be in its new quarters by April 15.

It is said that the front of the Holleman building will probably be remodeled.

The street force is now grading North Harrington street, near West Jones street.

Mr. W F Perry sprained his ankle while going to the fire last night and is on crutches today.

Very few farmers have been in the city this week. They have no time to spare from their work.

Officer Beasley, of the police force, says he is the first seller of spring chickens, having disposed of 34 today at 25 to 30 cents each.

Epworth league meets this evening in the Sunday school room at Edenton Street Methodist church, at the usual hour. Members are requested to be present.

Rev Mr Cole preached an excellent sermon at Central Methodist church last evening. Several were added to the church. Rev Mr Tuttle will preach tonight.

Up to date there have been issued from the executive department 17,026 warrants in settlement of claims for direct taxes. There were in all some 30,000 claims.

There are now 100 students at the Raleigh male academy, which is doing excellent work. Its representatives at the University are acquiring themselves with marked credit.

Mr. Busbee's nomination to be postmaster was confirmed promptly yesterday. He will probably receive his blank bond tomorrow. This will be filed and sent to Washington for approval.

Mr Z J Lemay, of Johnston county, who came here with sheriff Ellington in charge of three convicts, says there was what is believed to have been an incendiary fire at Benson, in that county, last Saturday night. The hardware store of E H and B H Woodall, and the general stores of L W Mangum & Co, and Ryals & Co, were burned, as was also the dwelling of a man named Johnson. The fire originated in the store of Mangum & Co, and it appears that suspicion rests upon that firm. Several lawyers left Raleigh for Benson Sunday. The investigation into the alleged incendiarism began Sunday and was continued yesterday and it was expected that arrests would be made.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Items Picked Up and Boiled Down.

The streams near here are full but very clear.

The bedding for the Rex public hospital is now being made up.

Capt B P Williamson has occupied his new office adjoining his residence.

The train from the west, due here at 10:35 this morning, was two hours late.

Some of the shrubbery in Nash square is dying. An expert ought to ascertain the cause of this.

Dr A J Buffalo has nearly completed an attractive cottage on West Edenton street, in which he will reside.

Crimson clover is in bloom, fully 20 days earlier than ever before known in this section. This clover is now 15 inches high.

On the evening of the 31st instant the glee and banjo club of the University of Pennsylvania will appear at the academy of music.

Today's markets are incomplete, owing to the storm, which at 4 o'clock this afternoon had moved as far southward as Danville, Va.

Remember the sale which will be tomorrow at 12 m, at the shops of Royster, Park & Co. They will sell several articles of value. See advertisement.

At the academy of music the N O University glee club appears next Monday evening. Wilfred Clarke presents the comedy "Tit for Tat" Wednesday evening.

Attention is being paid to the raising of grass in this section. At Fairview farm Capt Williamson has completed the sowing of 35 acres in grass, and at his farm on Neuse river 40 acres.

One of the "sights" of Fayetteville street is the morning reception of Mr Ed Denton's monkey at the Central cafe. The monkey always draws a crowd by his laughable performances.

A man named Carroll, charged with carrying a pistol, was before the mayor Monday and asked a postponement of the case until yesterday. He has not yet appeared. The police think he has left the city.

Brick are being delivered at St Paul's A M E church, corner West Edenton and North Harrington streets and work will be resumed there tomorrow. For perhaps ten years no work has been done.

In the market eggs are priced at 15 cents a dozen, 2 dozen for 25 cents; cabbage 2 1/2 to 5 cents each; lettuce 10 cents a head, which is certainly a fancy price; radishes 5 cents a bunch, salad 10 cents a peck; onions, quite large, 5 cents a bunch.

Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock is the bimonthly meeting of Murphy lodge, No 3, A O U W, at its hall in academy building. Members who were absent from last meeting are notified that an important matter will come up for discussion.

The stirring play "The Still Alarm" was presented to a small audience at the academy last evening by a company of extremely clever people. The acting was capable and the performance was well received. The Lenten season was the cause, no doubt, of the light house.

The Winston Republican says: "The University Glee club is a 'hammer.' It can sing and no mistake. Its two concerts here were complete successes. The program of fifteen selections won public approval. We congratulate the club for giving the Twin City people this most pleasant evening."

At one o'clock this morning the kitchen at the residence of Mr Ruffin Roles, corner Saunders and West Jones streets, was found to be on fire. Mr Roles went to the fire alarm box only a few yards away, but did not know how to turn in an alarm and thus lost ten minutes time. The department made quick time after the alarm was sent in. The fire originated in the kitchen, which was burned, as was also part of the dining room. The roof of the house and about half of the upper story were burned; the lower floor is damaged only by water. Most of the furniture in the house was saved, somewhat damaged by water. A piano was uninjured. The kitchen and dining room furniture were burned. There is $5000 insurance on the house and furniture. The planing mill of Roles & Son, only a few feet from the house, was not injured in the least. The work of the firemen is highly complimented.
