LARGEST WEEK CIRCULATION.

RALEIGH, APRIL 7, 1894.

The question of Miss Pollard's age is a puzzling one. The pictures of her published in the various papers make her anywhere from 30 to 50.

It is paralyzing in last year's election in Rhode Island the democrats secured 41 members of the house and 14 in the senate. This year they elect but three senators and three representatives. This is paralyzing, Mr. Johnson.

The Columbia, S. C. Journal takes the proper view of the situation of affairs in the Palmetto state when it advises all those opposed to the dispensary system to organize for the repeal of the law. As long as the law is on the statute book it is the duty of the state officials to enforce it. The best way therefore, to get rid of it is to agitate for its repeal, and if it is as objectionable as its opponents assert, public sentiment, exercised in the legislative elections, will ultimately cause it to be stricken from the statute book.

A woman in Dunkirk, N. Y., was in a hurry to get rid of her husband. While on his death bed she sent for the undertaker who came and proceeded to put a crape on the front door. The good wife stopped him, invited him in the house and remarked that "Henry isn't dead yet, but he can't last long. Take off your coat; he won't keep you waiting long." But the husband didn't die until the next day.

Died as He Predicted.

A Bristol, Pa. telegram says: Some time ago John M. Smith, of Pleasant Valley, predicted that he would die on his 79th birthday, then closely approaching. Yesterday was Smith's birthday, and true to his prophecy he expired.

A Godden, Druggist, Birmingham, Alabama, writes: "Please publish some of the testimonials I have sent you for Japanese Pile Cure." For sale by John Y. MacRae.

Louis Morris, who was drowned a few days ago at Mayville, Pa., had his life insured for $205,000—the largest amount of insurance ever carried by a man of his means. Morris possessed great physical strength and size, and was active and self-reliant.

Pimples, blackheads, moles, freckles, tan and sunburn removed by Johnson's Oriental Soap. Medicinal. For sale by John Y. MacRae.

In 1865 Congress passed a law forbidding the engraving of the portraits of living men upon postage stamps, notes or other government securities. Previous to that time the honor had been given to several men of more or less political importance.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be most reliable for coughs and colds. Trial bottles free at John Y. MacRae's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by John Y. MacRae.

CONDUCTED BY RALEIGH COUNCIL, NO. 1.

If things don't suit you, say so.

No one can run Raleigh Council.

Fulfill your obligations as a Junior.

If you can't talk in public, learn how.

Every man should be a member of some fraternal order.

The degree team is getting in fine shape.

If the council ceases to grow, whose fault is it?

The spirit of brotherly love should prevail in the council chamber.

Every member should go to work in earnest to secure new members.

Do you fully realize the force of your obligation?

Make every brother feel at home in the council chamber.

If you haven't attended the council in a month, come to see us next meeting and you will be interested.

If you fail to attend the meetings of the council, don't grumble at what is done.

Raleigh Council No 1, meets every Friday night in Pythian hall in academy of music building.

If you have joined the order for what you can get out of it you will never make a good member.

Every member should make it a point to be clear of the books. Consult the financial secretary and place yourself in good standing.

Why shouldn't Raleigh Council secure a state officer at the next session of the State Council at Winston in May?

Our article on "Fraternity—What is it?" was highly spoken of by numbers of the brethren, yet a few didn't like it. Wonder why?

Since our meetings do not conflict with the church prayer meetings we should have a larger attendance, and also a number of applications.

An order instituted to inculcate patriotism should receive the hearty support of all who love their native land.

The committee on care of the sick should be very attentive to their important duties, visiting promptly on their day, and allow no brother to lack for attention.

There are a few members of the council who have not missed a meeting since its organization February 3, 1893. Such brethren are the strength of the council.

Raleigh Council is moving steadily forward, and though we will probably drop from the roll in a few days for the non payment of dues, yet we will still be the banner council of the state in membership.

A prompt attendance upon every meeting is earnestly desired. Especially should every officer make it a point to be present, and if he cannot he should resign and not let the council suffer by his non performance of duty.

SHE DID NOT SCREAM.

The Great Presence of Mind of a Texas Lady at a Trying Moment.

A married lady of a Texas town, whose character is above reproach, stopped at a hotel in Brenham the other night. She was informed by the clerk that there was not a vacant room in the house. The lady did not know what to do, as she had no escort she could not go to another hotel in search of accommodations. The house-keeper was called, and after thinking a moment she said there was one room, which belonged to a regular boarder, but as he did not sleep there regularly perhaps it was unoccupied. The key to the room was procured, and sure enough the boarder was not at home, nor was it likely that he would come back at that time of night. So the lady thankfully accepted the room and retired.

The boarder arrived about an hour after the lady retired, and entering his room he saw, as he supposed, his friend comfortably tucked in his bed sound asleep, and for fear of waking him the boarder was very quiet in his movements, not lighting a lamp for the same reason. He crawled into bed and was soon asleep.

Imagine the lady's horror when she awoke the next morning to see a strange man sound asleep on the other pillow, but as she knew it was his room and he had a perfect right to be there she made no disturbance, and without waking him she dressed as quickly as possible and slipped out of the room and down stairs to the office, where she paid her bill and went away, not stopping for breakfast.

The whole thing came out at the breakfast table, when the boarder announced to his friend that he was glad to learn that he was getting over that he could sleep better and sounder, for he had crawled in bed with him last night without waking him. The friend was surprised when she said this, and said:

"Why, I was not in your room last night."

The boarder thought his friend was joking and said no more, but the veil was lifted when both of them heard the house keeper announce to the proprietor that "the house was full last night, so I put the lady in Mr. —'s room."—Galveston Daily News.
