RALEIGH, APRIL 14, 1894

The friends of ex-Congressman Thomas E. Watson has announced him as a candidate for governor of Georgia.

The fruit in Delaware that escaped the recent freeze was reported to have been killed by the ice on the trees Tuesday night.

Today Coxe's army will enter Maryland. Surely, to be consistent, Governor Brown ought to be on hand and follow the trail of the invading legion until it quits our sacred soil.

A farmer in Clark county, Ky, has christened his girl baby Madeline Pollard. If he has no spite against the child he will probably reconsider after all the evidence is in.—Wil. Star.

Col W. C. P. Breckinridge denies that he induced Miss Pollard to go to Washington, but he admits that he several times recommended her for positions in the civil service, which she didn't get because she couldn't stand the examination. This was when she had him "hoodooed."

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

The catch of shad is about the average, while herring are comparatively scarce.—Wilmington Star.

Large quantities of cabbage are going north from here every day by boat and rail. Peas, of which the early crop here is very short, are also being shipped in small quantities.—Wilmington Star.

The case of Rev. W. J. Hopkins, the Baptist preacher charged with undue intimacy with a colored domestic, was heard in Mooresville yesterday. It was a jury trial, and the minister was acquitted of the charge. The sentiment of the town is on his side.—Charlotte News.

There are eight young ladies in the graduating class at the State Normal school at Greensboro, this year, and three essays will be read. The standard of this school is high, and Prof. McIver deserves great credit, for to his efforts is due a great measure of the success of the school, and it is undoubtedly one of the most successful institutions in the state.—Charlotte News.

While Mr. Bob Fields, son of Mr. R. M. Fields, was hunting near his home, eight miles south of Maxton, he found nine young varmits in a hollow log, which cannot be classified by anyone who has seen them. They are said to have paws like a bear, nose like a bull dog and a tail like a cat. Ed McRae, Esq., of Maxton, saw them today. He is positive that they are neither fox, wildcat, otter or other "varmint" common to these parts. A steel trap will be set for the old one tonight and the mystery unravelled if possible.—Wilmington Star.

Four Big Successes.

Having the needed merit to more than make good all the advertising claimed for them, the following four remedies have reached a phenomenal sale: Dr. King's New Discovery, for consumption, coughs and colds, each bottle guaranteed—Electric Bitters, the great remedy for liver stomach and kidneys; Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, and Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are a perfect pill. All these remedies are guaranteed to do just what is claimed for them and the dealer whose name is attached herewith will be glad to tell you more of them. Sold at John Y. MacRae's drug store.

A correspondent in the Virginia Courier, the official organ of the State Council of Virginia, relates an incident where a Past Councilor made purchases of an enemy of the Order when a brother member was selling the same article not a hundred feet away, and concludes as follows:

"Some may say that this is a small affair to talk about, but I think it is a large one for the Juniors to think about. If we have objects, let us endeavor to live up to them; if not, we should sever our connection with the Order. Remember that little things make large things, and we believe that this is a great big thing to talk about."

Such instances of the violation of obligations are of daily occurrence. We have had our attention called to such things repeatedly.

Now, we have just this to say, in reference to those who are guilty of such acts. When one does such a thing he perjures himself just as much as if he swore to a lie on the witness stand, and he should be made to suffer for it. Charges should be preferred, and no sentiment should be allowed to retain a man in any Order who thus violates an obligation.

We fully appreciate the fact that it isn't always policy to speak of such things and make charges against prominent members, and that one is likely to be made to suffer for so doing if he should be so unfortunate as to have to work for a living and the other party should be in position to make him suffer for having an opinion and the requisite backbone to express it. Yet he who has the courage of his convictions, and boldly takes his stand for right and principle has the approbation of his own conscience, which is far better than money or position secured at the sacrifice of principle for policy.

We have always made it a rule to fearlessly advocate what we believed to be right regardless of consequences, and although we have lost money by it, and been threatened with injury for so doing, yet we have never had occasion to regret any position we have taken.

The State Council convenes on the last Tuesday in May at Winston, and Raleigh Council, No. 1, will be represented by Past Councilors E. S. Cheek, M. Andrews and W. E. Faison.

It will soon be time for the election of officers, and every member should be interested.

We had a large meeting on the same floor with Cleveland's Minstrels the other night. This speaks well for our membership.

The financial secretary will be pleased to receipt for your dues.

We urge the degree team to attend regularly and keep in practice.

There are several changes that should be made in our laws at the session of the State Council at Winston, and our delegates should go instructed.

How many have you asked to join the Order in the last three months?

What's the matter of organizing another Council in Raleigh?

Be sure to attend the next meeting of the Council.

Carefully read and consider the article at the top of this column.

Always and in all things give a Junior the preference.

Coxe's Female Brigade.

Oakland, Cal, April 13.—A female brigade of the industrial army is being organized here. Two hundred names are now on the list. Arrangements are being made for the transportation east. Frank Carter has been elected colonel, and last evening the first drill was had.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be most reliable for coughs and colds. Trial bottles free at John Y. MacRae's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

A Fugitive's Confession.

Lynchburg Advance.

After the Moody meeting in Richmond Wednesday night a well dressed young man sought Rev. Dr. Landrum, and told him that he was a fugitive from justice; that his home was in North Carolina; that his mother was wealthy and that in a drunken spree he shot a man and ran away, and that he had been traveling all over the country since that time. He went to the Moody meeting, and was so much impressed that he determined to go home and surrender himself to the authorities. He wrote his mother, telling her of his determination, and she replied that she was glad of his contrition, but did not want him to stand trial, as it would result in his being sent to the penitentiary. The young man wanted to obey the mother, but felt he ought to stand his trial, and asked for advice. The Richmond preacher advised him to follow the dictates of his conscience, to go home and throw himself on the mercy of the court, and all would be well. The young man said that he would pursue that course, and he is doubtless home ere this.

So great is the distress which prevails among the unemployed in Australia that many of them resort to robbery. And yet they have no McKinley law there and no Cleveland administration to plague them.
