A MONUMENT TO VANCE.
A Bronze Statue in Capitol Square Recommended.

Last evening, in response to the mayor's call, there was a meeting of citizens in regard to the movement to erect a memorial to senator Vance. Gov Carr presided, and Mr G O Andrews was secretary. Gov Carr asked R H Battle, Esq, to explain the object of the meeting. Mr Battle said it was to start a movement for the erection of a bronze statue to senator Vance and expressed himself as in favor of a bronze statue to be placed in the Capitol square. He thought the inclination of Mrs Vance was that the senator should have been buried here, but the senator had himself expressed a wish to be interred at Asheville. Mr Battle was one of the committee sent by the state to Washington which requested that the place of interment be here. He introduced some resolutions last evening, two of which were as follows:
"Resolved, That a bronze statue of Zebulon B Vance be erected in Capitol square, in the city of Raleigh, by the voluntary contributions of the people of North Carolina."
"Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed by the chairman of this committee to receive contributions and to advise and put in operation a plan for receiving contributions for this patriotic purpose in every county and township in the state, and for inaugurating a state association to be known as the Vance monumental association, with the understanding that the funds so raised shall be deposited in bank until they shall be sufficient for the purchase and erection of a statue worthy of him we all wish to honor."
The resolutions were adopted. Remarks were made by Messrs Kenan, Tucker, Ashe, and Holding. Gov Carr was made chairman of the committee, whose other members are A A Thompson, secretary; R H Battle, C G Latta, T S Kenan, Walter Clark and J N Holding.

Rev Dr Yates' Lecture.
A cultivated audience filled the spacious Sunday school room at Edenton street M E church last evening to hear Rev Dr Yates lecture on "Music." The theme was an attractive one and he handled it in his usual mastery manner. The discourse was scholarly throughout and both in thought and in language showed that it was the product of a well stored and highly cultivated mind. It literally sparkled with flashes of humor and the large audience seemed fully to enjoy every word. Dr Yates can always attract a large audience in Raleigh and he never fails to please and interest. The music during the evening was excellent and much enjoyed. After the lecture quite an ovation was given Dr Yates by his host of Raleigh friends, among whom he always finds a cordial welcome. The Epworth league is doing good work in the community, in educating public sentiment to the higher and better appreciation of literary effort, while at the same time developing religious thought.
