CITY IN BRIEF.

Items Picked Up and Boiled Down.

Interest in the flouring mill is general.
The cool weather is causing small grain to rust.

A raid was made yesterday in this county by the revenue officers but they returned empty handed.

The people of Scotland Neck have already raised in cash $150 for the Vance monument at Raleigh. The money will be here in a day or two.

At the First Baptist church last evening twelve persons were baptized who had been converted at the recent revival at the west end mission.

Mr Gerald McCarthy, the state botanist and entomologist, has bought Mr Batchelor's farm east of the city and will raise fruit there. There are 100 acres in the tract.

Mr C H Beine has found a stray cow and wants to find the owner also. The cow is a brindle and half of her left ear is cropped. She is at his place near the soldiers' home.

June 14 is the date of the commencement at St Mary's school. There are twelve members of the graduating class this year. This excellent school is in a very flourishing condition.

At the request of many persons outside of Raleigh the corner stone of the Confederate monument will be laid May 22d. Indications point to an unusual gathering of the people on that occasion.

The foot of Robert Cook, a colored boy in the employ of Barnes' printing office, was badly mashed by a job press this morning. The wound was dressed by a physician. It was a very painful though not serious hurt.

Mr P Linehan will tomorrow make the excavation for the foundation of the Confederate monument and Monday will begin to lay the foundation, of granite and cement, 4 feet deep. He says it will be completed in one week.

An observant man in this city says he knows of a case in which a goat of extra size has lived a year on tin cans and "Jamestown weeds" and has given nice wholesome milk for an entire family. This happened in east Raleigh.

Bear in mind that a large amount of money must still be raised for the Confederate monument. With this in view the ladies are placing contribution boxes in every post office in North Carolina to receive five cent donations. All can now contribute.

In the superior court today the case of O L Eatman against W H Trollinger was decided in favor of the defendant. It was for 200 acres of land at Asbury. The case of the Antietam paper company against the Chronicle publishing company was taken up and is now being heard.

In the mayor's court yesterday L D Taylor, who was charged with beating Thomas Jones, was discharged. Jones was fined $10 and costs. Taylor struck Jones with his fists, the latter having attempted to push Taylor off the sidewalk. Jones was one of the worst disgraced men ever taken to the guard house.

It is said by cotton men here that the agricultural department is in error in stating that the acreage of cotton is to be reduced; that it will be increased. One dealer says that in this section 5 per cent more will thus be planted, each farmer thinking others will not plant and that hence there will be a short crop and high prices.

Mention has been made of the interesting damage suit brought by Mr Howard, of Tarboro, against the Atlantic Coast Line for its delay in hauling a cotton gin to him. This case is before the railroad commission. Mr Henry Miller, of the Richmond & Danville railroad and Mr W E Kyle, of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad have been examined as witnesses. Other witnesses, including Mr James, of the Wilmington & Weldon, at Wilmington, were examined today.

Mr Cullen Battle and wife, of St Louis, Mo, formerly of Wilson, are at the latter place on a visit to the family of Mr B B Rhodes. Mr Battle has been eminently successful in his western home, and has accumulated a fortune.

The jury in the Royster murder trial at Roxboro failed to agree, and it was declared a mistrial. For four days the jury stood 11 to 1 in favor of murder in the first degree. The two men who were tried were charged with strangling the jailor to death.

Y M C A.

All who desire to become members of the class in physical culture are asked to call and give their names to the general secretary. The class will commence Tuesday May 10.

New Advertisements.
Mr Woolcott has purchased the entire stock of dry goods, shoes, millinery, lace, &c. at the store of Mrs Weil, on Fayetteville street, and will sell it at New York cost. A great opportunity to secure bargains is thus offered.

Read D T Johnson's specials.

Weather.
For North Carolina: "Generally fair." Local forecast: On Friday, fair weather, slightly warmer. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a m today: Maximum temperature, 68; Minimum temperature, 45; rainfall, 0.

Synopsis: The high area and clearing condition has moved to the middle Atlantic coast. There is no distinct storm visible anywhere. The weather is generally clear and cool. Small areas of cloudy weather exist over northern Florida and Georgia, northern Texas and Kansas, and the northwest.

The Junior Musicals.

An occasion of unusual interest will be the musicals to be given by the junior members of the Hospital circle of King's Daughters at the residence of Mr James Boylan Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. A very pleasing musical programme, with recitations, &c, has been arranged, and the little folks who will participate show a marked degree of proficiency in their respective parts. Contributions will be voluntary, and it is hoped that the attendance will be as large as the efforts of the children deserve, and the charitable object in view demands.

May Weather Statistics.

The chief of the weather bureau directs the publication of the following data compiled from the record of observations for the month of May taken at this station for a period of seven years: Mean or normal temperature 68 degrees. The warmest May was that of 1887, with an average of 71 degrees; the coldest that of 1891, with an average of 64. The highest temperature during any May was 94; the lowest temperature 88. The average rainfall for the month is 5.90 inches. The greatest monthly rainfall was 9.24 inches, in 1891; the least 3.10 inches, in 1892.

A Pleasant Entertainment.

An entertainment will be given under the auspices of the ladies of Central M E church, at the residence of Mr John Keith, corner of east Lane and north Bloodworth streets. Refreshments free. The entertainment will consist of vocal and instrumental music, recitations by the little folks and accomplished young ladies, besides many other new and attractive features. The small sum of 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for all children under the age of 12 years will be charge as admission. The proceeds of this entertainment will be used in connection with Central church. All friends are invited to be present Thursday evening.

The Monument Ceremonies.

The committee which has in charge the ceremonies at the laying of the corner stone of the Confederate monument met yesterday, Gov Carr presiding. It was decided to change the date of the ceremony from Monday, May 21, to Tuesday, May 22, for the convenience of the public and to afford better railway advantages. Gov Carr was requested to invite the entire State Guard to attend and to have a battery here to fire half hour guns from sunrise to sunset that day. A committee, of which Gov Carr is chairman, was appointed to receive invited guests and to act as the committee of arrangements. All civic and benevolent organizations in the state are cordially invited to attend and participate in the ceremonies.

Congressman Henderson, of North Carolina, yesterday introduced in the house a bill providing that every person holding under the government of the United States, or in or under any of the departments, who shall have given or executed to the United States a penal bond or other obligation in connection with said office, shall be free and discharged of any and all liability upon said bond or obligation for or on account of the act, default, negligence, or malfeasance of any clerk or employee serving under him when the appointment to or removal from such position of such clerk or employee is not controlled by such bonded officer.
