RALEIGH, APRIL 27, 1894.

The editor with the stoutest backbone and largest brain is always the one who endorses "my views"

Some men want public office solely for the honor, but most men want them for the money there is in them.

There are men prating about the likes and dislikes of the people who know more about the wants of the real people of this country than does an African savage.

A New York preacher got this off last Sunday: "Why not have a woman president? She could do better than—several Presidents we have had."

Many superstitious people believe that deaths and accidents often travel in groups of three, and two United States Senators having died since the tariff debate began they are speculating on who will be the third one.

We are told that "general debate" on the tariff bill is now over in the Senate, but fail to note any real difference. The debate now going on, whether "general" or not, is quite as tiresome and monotonous as that which preceded it.

Congressmen are already kicking because of the enforcement of the law docking their pay for absence without leave. Well, let them stay in Washington and attend to their business and there will be no occasion to enforce the law. Otherwise it should be put "on to" them to the full extent.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Mr Thos L Peay has been renominated for mayor of Durham.

A large gray eagle was killed near Enfield Tuesday, which measured seven feet from tip to tip.

Durham has the religious fever too. Four revivals of religion are in progress there.

The Concord Standard says that a divorced Union county man has been going from house to house in southern Cabarrus on the lookout for a wife. Poor fellow.

People do grow old in North Carolina. Bill Harrison died at Ringwood Tuesday nearly 100 years of age; Mrs Lizzie Matthews, of the same place, is in her 99th year and active.

Guaranteed Cure.

We authorize our advertised drug-gist to sell Dr King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, upon this condition. If you are afflicted with a cough, cold or any lung, throat or chest trouble, and will use this remedy as directed, giving it a fair trial, and experience no benefit, you may return the bottle and have your money refunded. We could not make this offer did we not know that Dr King's New Discovery could be relied on. It never disappoints. Trial bottles free at John Y MacRae's drug store. Large size 50c and $1.

Japanese Liver Pellets are the best family medicine for liver complaint and constipation. 50 pills in vial 25 cents at John Y MacRae's.

The News of a Day.

Forsyth, Mont, April 26.—The Commonwealth army, 650 strong, came in at 10:45 last night. At 11:35 the engineer went to the round house and deliberately proceeded to take out a fresh engine and prepare for the trip eastward. Col Page, of Fort Keogh, with the United States troops, arrived shortly after midnight on a special train and found a large part of Coxe's army asleep in the box cars. The surprise was complete, and the Coxeites gave up without a struggle. The troops left most of the men aboard the train.

St Paul, Minn, April 26.—General Manager Kendrick, of the Northern Pacific road, has just received a special dispatch from Forsythe, Mont, that Col Page and the troops are still there with the leaders of Coxe's army under guard. They are awaiting orders as the disposition of the prisoners. The other men are preparing to march east. Traffic on the Northern Pacific has been resumed. No trains were run yesterday, as a collision with the Commonwealers' train was feared.

Washington, April 26.—When Mr Harris moves to take up the tariff bill at 1 o'clock and keep it before the senate until 6, he will not have to depend up the votes of his own party, nor will he be confined to the 44 democratic votes when necessary to make a quorum. The silver republicans, under the lead of senators Teller and Dubois have served notice on the eastern republicans that they will be treated to the same medicine administered to the silver republicans during the fight against the repeal of the Sherman act. At that time the silver republicans were kept in the chamber day and night, the eastern republicans joining with the democrats to make a quorum. Now the tables will be turned. They take the ground that the people elected the democratic congress, and the republicans are not responsible for the kind of bill they pass. So far as able the silver republicans will afford the democrats every opportunity to pass the bill, but will vote against it on the final roll call.

Birmingham, Ala, April 26.—The closing day of the fourth annual Confederate reunion was more largely attended than yesterday. At the morning session Gen John O Underwood, of Chicago, announced that $1827 had been raised for the Confederate cemetery at Chicago. The rosters of the Confederate Guard at Johnson's island and Chicago were distributed by Gen Underwood.

Gen W L Cabell, of Texas, submitted the report of the chairman of the Jefferson Davis monument fund, stating that $12,338 had been received for the monument which is to be erected at Richmond, Va.

Washington, April 26.—Attorney General Olney was today informed that the miners of the Coeur d'Alene mines in Northern Idaho had assembled to the number of 600 men, and had threatened to capture a train and come east. The civil and military authorities have been advised to take proper measures to prevent violence to property.

Columbus, O., April 26.—A telegram received this morning at the miners headquarters from Thomas Farry, dated Fire Creek, W Va., says that now 21 mines in the state are closed. They employ 3,500 miners. The miners of Loop Creek and New River District met today to decide upon their course. Farry predicts they will decide to come out.

Albany, N Y., April 26.—Gov Flower has vetoed the annual appropriation bill because the republican legislature refused to amend the bill by striking out the section to allow the Attorney General to designate counsel employed by the state commission. This action of the governor will probably delay adjournment.

MILES CITY, Mont., April 25.—The government troops at Fort Keogh are in readiness to march at a moment's notice when the expected order is received to proceed to capture the Northern Pacific train which is now in possession of the 500 unemployed en route to this place. It is possible that the captured train will lay up for the night before reaching this city, in which case the troops will not be moved before morning. The authorities are being kept fully advised of the movements of the train by the Northern Pacific telegraph operators along the line. The garrison at Fort Keogh consists of 500 men, with a Gatling battery. Col Page is in command. The probability is that the leaders will be returned to Butte under military escort.

His Search for a Wife.

He made up his mind he ought to marry, and then started out on a still hunt for a good, sensible girl for a wife.

He saw a young lady on a crowded street car who was not occupying two seats, and he thought: "This is promising. 'I'll keep my eye on her.'"

He met a young lady on the street who wore a gown that did not trail in the dirt, and he thought: "She's worth watching. She has some sense."

He was introduced to a young lady at a ball who was not overdressed, and yet who wore a waist that was visible to the naked eye, and he thought: "Taste, modesty, and sense. That's a good combination."

He sat behind a young lady in a theatre, who took off her hat and let him get a glimpse of the stage, and he thought: "Consideration for others is a great point. I must find out who she is."

He stood behind a young lady in a dry goods store, who did not paw over everything in sight and keep one clerk busy for an hour that she might buy a spool of thread, and he thought: "She must really be a treasure."

He was accidentally pushed against a young lady in a crowded corridor, who did not stare at him and mutter "awkward brute," when he apologized, and he thought: "There's a gem."

He noticed a young lady at a street corner in the business part of the city waiting for a car, and he could hardly believe his eyes. He boarded the same car and followed her to her home.

Three days later, after he had secured an introduction, he said:

"A few days ago I saw you at a crowded street corner waiting for a car."

"Yes," she said, and some surprise. "You stood at one side of the crossing where you would not be in the way of people who wished to cross the street."

"I always do that," she said.

"Queen of your sex!" he exclaimed impetuously. "Beacon light in the darkness of woman's way! Shining star of progress toward a better conception of the court-teses of city life! Will you be mine?"

The answer is of no particular consequence in this tale. She could have him if she wished, and that is the main point it is intended to bring out.—Baltimore Herald.

Will some of the advocates of an issue of $20 bonds, to be sold to the people, explain how the people can buy bonds without money?
