The State Medical Society.

The North Carolina medical society was called to order Tuesday at Greensboro, Dr W H H Cobb, the president, in the chair. Dr R H Stancell, Jr, read a paper on "Some New Ideas," Dr Randolph Winslow one on "Intestinal Surgery," Dr J M Hays an article on "Ophthalmology," Dr J E Ashcraft one on "Syphilis," Dr J Howell read the annual essay entitled, "The Relation of the Physician to the Family in the Prevention of Hereditary Disease." A vacancy on the board of censors was filled by the addition of Dr S D Booth. Dr Carl Von Ruok, of Asheville, read on the "Treatment of Consumption by the Family Physician."

Wednesday Dr W J Jones read the report of the obituary committee. Two new members on the board of medical examiners were elected these being Drs T S Burbank and J M Hays. The annual oration was delivered in the chapel of the state normal school, after which an entertainment was given the audience by the young ladies of that institution. The public attended in large numbers.

At noon Wednesday the state board of health was called to order by its president, Dr H T Bahnsen.

Dr R H Lewis, of Raleigh, secretary of the board, read an exceedingly able and exhaustive report of what has been accomplished by the board during the past year.

At the afternoon session the association proceeded to elect officers for the ensuing year: Dr Tucker, of Henderson was elected president; Dr Way, first vice president; Dr Harrell, second vice president; Dr McMullen, third vice president; Dr Misenheimer, fourth vice president. Dr Robert Jewitt was elected secretary by acclamation, and Dr Perry treasurer.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

The storm yesterday morning central over South Dakota has moved eastward to Minnesota; the pressure has fallen considerably in the north as far east as Washington. The weather is generally fair over the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and over the southern states, and the morning temperatures are very high over this region, with scutherly winds. The conditions seem very favorable for thunder storms. West of the Mississippi river, from Kansas northward, the temperature has fallen, with northerly winds.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Friday, generally fair; continued warm. The conditions are favorable for thunder storms Friday evening. Local data for the 24 hours ending 8 a m: Maximum temperature 80; minimum temperature 68; rainfall 0.05.

PERSONAL MENTION

Of People Who Came and Went Today.

Collector Simmons went to Newbern today, to remain a week. Mr John W Jenkins of the Durham Globe was here this afternoon.

Mrs T B Womack has gone to Johnston county to visit her sister, Mrs Saunders.

A letter to the Sentinel says that Mr Patrick Henry Winston has come out in a Spokane, Washington, paper and declared himself a populist.

Miss Kate Hale left today for Baltimore, where she will remain a few days with her sister and will then sail for Europe, to remain until September.

Messrs L A Carr, E G Lineberry and Julian S Carr were here yesterday inspecting the new company's telephones, which they will probably adopt for use there by the new exchange.

Durham's new officers are: Clerk and auditor, Geo W Woodward; chief of police, W A Williams; health officer, Dr N P Boddie; street commissioner, J B Christian; city attorney, H A Foushee; town treasurer, W W Shaw.

The Durham Globe says that Mr W T Meadows, who has made his home in Durham for two or three years as travelling salesman, has come to Raleigh to Raleigh to reside and will travel for Taylor & Moore, manufacturers of tobacco.

Rev N M Jurney, who was here yesterday on his way home from Memphis, says the Methodist General Conference will elect one bishop and will transfer to the North Carolina conference the North Carolina counties now in the Virginia conference.

No Captures Yet.

None of the ten prisoners who made their escape yesterday morning have been recaptured. A countryman who came in said he saw Orange Page near Battle's bridge, on Neuse river 13 miles from here. Other persons brought news that three of the men were seen west of here near Tucker's pond. Last night a message was telephoned from the country that three or four persons of suspicious appearance had been seen just before nightfall near Mr Ransom Hinton's farm, south of here. Officers went there and found this was a fact, but that the men had gone. Some women who came in this morning say they saw two men in the woods south of the water works and that these men ran and hid themselves.

Deputies and searchers were out yesterday from about 11 a m, and all night last night. The mayors, sheriffs and chiefs of police in all parts of the state are notified by postal card to look out for Orange Page. It is the general belief that the desperate murderer will be hard to capture. Of course he is an outlaw and the reward of $150 will be paid for him dead or alive. Would anybody in this section give shelter to Page? This is a question asked today. The reward for each of the other nine prisoners who got away is $10. About fifteen deputies are making search for him. Some new ones went out today.

Allusion was made yesterday to Mr Leary as the jailer here. He is not the jailer but the cook. It was said on the streets today that the lesson of the escape and the very practical information it gives would in the future cause some important and most necessary changes in jail management; that the steel bedsteads would be taken out of the cells; that water closets would be arranged, as they ought to be, in each cell; that the prisoners would be kept locked in the cells; that condemned murderers would be kept in a separate cell, and that the jail would be properly guarded at night by a guard in the interior who would be of some use.

A Faithful Friend.

A lady subscriber to the VISITOR, who lives here, remarked yesterday that she had been taking the VISITOR nearly 16 years, and that if she had to miss either supper or the VISITOR she would lose the supper every time. That is the kind of a friend to have. The lady has been a faithful subscriber.

The Colored Physicians.

The colored physicians of this state are in session at Greensboro the Record says, holding their annual convention. J Elmer Dellinger is the president. An elaborate program has been prepared, consisting of papers to be read, discussions, etc.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Some Notes About Their State Convention.

Today's Charlotte Observer gives a special from Statesville which says: The State association of King's Daughters convened this morning, and extensive preparations have been made by the local circle for the entertainment of delegates. Two of the principal features consist of an invitation by the local circle to the delegates to attend in a body as their guests the grand concert of the "Old North State" orchestra this evening, and Friday evening a public reception will be tendered the visiting ladies and refreshments served in the armory of the Iredell Blues. The soldier boys are making special exertion to make their hall attractive by a profusion of flowers and other handsome decorations. The State convention of King's Daughters met in the Presbyterian church and was called to order by Mrs Anis, of Oxford. She read the 37th Psalm and invoked Divine blessings on the assemblage and its work about to be done. Mrs Hayes, state secretary, was elected permanent chairman, and Miss Eliza Moore, of Raleigh, was made secretary. The address of welcome was made by Miss Mamie Adams, of Statesville, and that in reply by Miss Eliza Moore, of Raleigh. The assembly represent 25 towns of the "Old North State." An early frost in fall has lightly touched the pretty heads of a few, but eternal spring is in their hearts.

State Capitol Notes.

Col A Q Hollday was today appointed a commissioner to attend the southern inter state immigration convention to be held in Augusta, Ga., May 30.

Secretary of state Coke warns the people of several insurance companies reported as doing business in this state without license, one of these being the Farmers and Mechanics of Alexandria, Va. This is a violation of law, and the agents are liable to $300 fine and 90 days in jail, or both. People should see that agents have license, as those who have not are swindlers and ought to be arrested.

Another Bank of New Hanover Case.

An examination of the officers and directors of the defunct bank of New Hanover began yesterday at Wilmington, before G W Carroll, the commissioner appointed to take testimony in behalf of the plaintiff in the case, Mrs Annie Carr, against the officers and directors of the broken bank. The Messenger says Mr George W Williams and Col John Wilder Atkinson were examined, but no part of the testimony is allowed to be published, under a rule adopted by the court, as it is to come before a jury at some future time.

Monument Notes.

Buncombe county, through Mrs H A Gudger, vice president, has sent $190 to the monument fund.

It is said 500 mounted men from the country will be in the procession on the 23d; all being veterans and sons of veterans.

Messrs Robert L Burkhead and William H Bragg are appointed financial agents of the monument association and on the 23d will have desks near the speakers' stand, at which they will receive contributions.

Col S McD Tate and Capt S A Ashe will examine all relics to be placed in the corner stone. This stone was hauled to the monument site today by Mr Linehan. It is not the regular corner stone, but will simply be used on this occasion. It is a plain slab of granite 3½ feet long and two feet thick. The real corner stone will have a suitable date and inscription. All relics which are to be placed in the corner stone should be at once sent to Mrs Armistead Jones, president of the monument association.

The city time is now five minutes slower than the railway time.

The heavy rain north of here Monday afternoon broke Norwood's milldam, and the flood of water which rushed down the little stream badly injured crops in the bottom lands.

The revenue officials here spent last evening at Milburnie, enjoying "planked shad" and the usual etceteras. They returned about 9 o'clock and greatly enjoyed the affair. The shad were fat and fine.

The depot at Millbrook was struck by lightning Monday afternoon and set on fire. A gravel train was on the side track there and the men on this put out the fire and by quick and hard work saved the building.

Sheriff Kearney, of Franklin brought here and turned over to sheriff Page Frank Hines, colored, who ten days ago struck his wife on the head and face with a baseball bat, and then fled. He was captured at Louisburg.

The sentiment of the members of the members of the central committee which met here yesterday is strong against an early convention. They say they desire the convention held not earlier than the last of July or later than August 1st.

At the commencement exercises of the white graded school of Charlotte this evening at the auditorium, there will be 1,000 children on the stage. The exercises of the colored graded school take place in the same building Friday evening and the Charlotte News says there will be 800 scholars on the stage.
