

The Tabernacle S. S. Excursion.

The Sunday school of the Baptist tabernacle will go to Wilmington this year on its annual excursion, over the S A L via Hamlet. The train will be a special and is given the right of way all the way through. This is an excellent idea and means there will be no delays. Arrangements will be made with the Wilmington Seacoast railway to take all who desire to go to Wrightsville and see the ocean. The cost of the round trip from Wilmington to Wrightsville will be only 15 or 20 cents, and those who take it can spend a couple of hours at the seaside. The entire excursion will be made delightful and arrangements will as usual be made for the friends of the school. The only stops which the special train will make will be for water. Plenty of cars will be provided.

Horse Show at Fairview Farm.

The show of high class trotting horses will take place at Fairview farm tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the speed trials will take place immediately thereafter. The entries are as follows:

"Bob Parham" bay gelding, by Robert Medium 2:29; "Alf Thompson," chestnut stallion, by Robert Medium, 2:29; "Kitty Hawk," black mare, by Baron Brown, 2:36; "Butler," brown gelding, breeding unknown; "Jim Blaine," chestnut gelding, breeding unknown.

This will be the first race over the Fairview tract, and will be half mile heats, best 3 in 5. Premiums $10 to the first horse, a cup to the second and a driving whip to the third. The horses are all owned by gentlemen of this township and have never been in a race. The public is invited and the ladies are expected. Fairview farm is one of the most attractive in the state.

Episcopal Diocesan Convention.

Winston, May 16—The Episcopal convention of the diocese of North Carolina convened in St Paul's church at 10 a. m. Bishop Cheshire presiding. Rev Dr M M Marshall, of Raleigh, was elected president, and Rev J E Engle, of Henderson, secretary. Bishop Rondthaler, of the Moravian church, was invited to become an honorary member of the convention. The communion was administered, bishop Cheshire being the celebrant. The morning sermon was preached by Rev J C Wingate, of Wilson. This afternoon was consumed in reading reports of committees. At tonight's services the sermon was delivered by Rev Stuart McQueen, of Durham. Sunday morning bishop Capers, of South Carolina, will preach a memorial sermon on the life of the late bishop Lyman.

A Mystery Solved.

Indianapolis Journal. Mr Hungry Higgins had finished eating his "handout" and was perusing the paper 't was wrapped in. "By gee," he said, "this accounts for it." "Accounts for what?" asked Mr Weary Watkins. "Why, they is a doctor says in this paper that after a man has had the grip he never gets plum over it. It leaves him kinder tired, an' in need of stimulants all the time, the doctor says. I bet I had it myself when I was a little boy."

Kelley's Army Fights.

Eldornia, Iowa, May 16—The Kelley army encamped two miles below here. The people are nervous and anxious. The Kelleyites on one boat attempted to land outside the prescribed limits last night. The guards ordered them off. A fight ensued in which several men on both sides were injured.

A California Woman Has 13 Husbands

California, which has the biggest trees, the largest cabbages, the handsomest gamblers, and, in fact, the superlative of most things, now claims to have, or to have had, the most wedded woman on record. The San Francisco Examiner says:

Mrs Marie Lemon, who recently departed this life in Alameda, and whose estate is now in contest because she left it all to a trumpet spiritualistic medium, forgetting all about her relatives in various parts of the country, was in many ways a remarkable woman. She had traveled from one end of the United States to the other, been around the world several times, but it was her matrimonial experiences that made her unusual among her sisters. She had taken no less than thirteen chances at the lottery of marriage, and, like most inveterate players of a game, she had drawn blanks the greater part of the time. She had once been possessed of great personal beauty, which, together with a charm of manner, made her born to rule over the hearts of men and turn their heads and the world topsy turvy. The history of her checkered career, extending over a period of more than sixty years, is a romance with matrimony as the foundation fact. She was once the belle of California, shone from the grand salon to the musty cabin of a merchantman, and compared with the general average of her sisters, her husbands were as the sands of the sea.

Exactly how many husbands she had no one seems to remember. Even her nearest relative, Mrs Rachael Neal, the sister who is now contesting the will, does not know. Mrs Neal can remember thirteen very distinctly but she thinks that there are more and that some of them got away in the mazes of memory. But for want of better and more authentic information, the unlucky numbering of Mrs Neal will have to be taken as the best evidence of Mrs Lemon's success in drawing from the matrimonial wheel of fortune.

Fears for Brunswick, Ga.

Surgeon general Wyman, of the Marine hospital service, in a recent letter to secretary Carlisle invites his attention to the fears of a possible recurrence of yellow fever in Brunswick, Ga., during the coming summer, and to the necessity of making provision for the prompt discovery of any case occurring in Brunswick or other city on the South Atlantic or Gulf coasts.

The apprehension of a recurrence of yellow fever at Brunswick is doubtless due to the mildness of the past winter.

Decorate, Decorate.

Let this be the battle cry. Decorate your tables and sideboards with beautiful crockery and glassware, and if you use the good judgment I think you have you will take a long and careful study of the china, crockery and glassware in Swindell's department store. From this store you can do lots of decorating with a very limited amount of money. There you have one among the largest and most varied stocks of crockery in this state to select from, not only of crockery, but of fancy and plain lamps and all kinds of glassware, jardiniere, &c. This department store of Swindell's is a hummer. Everything in modern shape and each department separate. Get a straw matting from Swindell's department store.

He is Telling You Something.

Do you drink iced tea? You want the best if you use tea. Well, in the purchase of the Durham Supply Co we got 4 caddies of the very best Oolong tea, which retails at $1 a pound in Raleigh. We propose to sell the tea from now on as long as it lasts at 45c per pound. No less than one pound sold at a time, but as many pounds as one wants. Green or black tea at D T Swindell's department store. Try a straw matting from us. The tea is 45 cents a pound, remember.

Oh, that Costume of Hers!

Show me a lady who does not enjoy admiration, and I will see a hopeless freak. Hence ladies have excellent taste. They study the art of dress, and they have it now to a scientific nicety. So the merchant who is a success has to get his selections down to a scientific nicety, or his selections will lie on his shelves till the moths walk off with them. Now, ladies, we want to state this: In Swindell's department store the dress goods sales have not only doubled and tripled, but tenfold is the rate of increase in two years. Where we used to sell one dress now we are selling ten dresses and trimmings all complete. Now let me ask you read this: If this statement is true, what does it mean? Get collars, cuffs, scarfs and ties from Swindell's department store.
