Bessie and Ruby.

NEW YORK, May 24 .- The village of Flatlands is gossiping over the discovery that Bessie and Ruby, handsome twin daughters of farmer Daudsworth, have eloped with the wrong men. Popular excitement rose even higher when the villagers learned that Ruby had run away with Bessie's intended husband on the eve of the day set for the wedding, and that Bessie, in a moment of pique, had then eloped with a former flame. The sisters were just 20 years old, their joint birthday having been celebrated three weeks ago with one of the most brilliant parties Flatlands has ever enjoyed.

Wonderful Night Photography.

During the world's fair at Chicago

everal attempts were made to secure night photographs of the electric lighting effects by means of their own light, and the results were surprisingly beautiful, especially in pictures of the electric fountains and buildings or statuary under the search light. Encouraged by the success obtained, one of the leading photographers of San Francisco has made further efforts at the "Midwinter Fair." and the views thus secured are triumphs of the photographic art. Some of them are so clear that it seems incredible that they were taken at night until the method is explained. While the building or object is being taken, the beam of a strong light is continually swept to and fro across it, and it thus comes up gradually on the negative, the darkness being literally washed away by the flood of light. This process can be arrested at any stage, or the beam can be focussed on any special features, so that extremely novel and picturesque effects are obtainable. In some of the photographs are lights are seen burning brilliantly in front of the buildings. and the interiors are at the same time shown to be brightly illuminated, yet the edifice itself is bold and strong in every outline, as though under a midday sun. The appearance has been eleverly described as that of a building in which a lot of light had been caught in the daytime and there boxed up for use at night.
