CAPTURED—CONFESSES!

ASSAILANT OF MISS PHILLIPS CAUGHT IN CASWELL COUNTY.

He acknowledges that he assaulted her and is in jail at Graham.

Last week the Visitor published an account of the outrageous assault committed upon Miss Mary Phillips, who is employed in a cotton mill at Burlington. She was on Sunday morning, May 20, on her way to Sunday school when she was attacked and overpowered. Search was at once begun for her assailant, and the excitement was intense not only at Burlington, but all over Alamance and adjacent counties. She said the man was a negro whom she had seen before though she did not know his name. She described him very well. About a dozen men were arrested last week in that section, but all of them were discharged, upon her saying that the right man had not been found. Friday a man was arrested who confessed that he had seen a man seize the young woman. Saturday a negro was arrested in Caswell county. Yesterday morning he was taken to Burlington. Miss Phillips saw him and at once said he was his assailant. The fellow then made a full confession, saying that he had gone two miles to commit the assault. As soon as the scoundrel was identified a great crowd gathered, not only of town but of country people, and yesterday was anything but a quiet Sunday in the town of Burlington. When the eastbound train passed there Sunday at least 1,000 people were in sight. It was then said quite positively and openly that the fellow would be hanged last night. Yesterday afternoon he was carried to Graham, the county seat, and placed in jail. Mr. E. S. Parker, the solicitor, made an earnest talk to the angry crowd of people, urging them to commit no crime by lynching the man. The speech had a great effect for at last accounts the negro was in the jail. It may be that he will be removed.

GIVEN AWAY BY HIS CHILD.

A Six-Year-Old Boy Tells of his Mother's Murder.

The trial of John Brock, a white man, at Wilmington, for the murder of his wife, attracted much attention there. The chief feature was the testimony of Brock's six-year-old son. The solicitor said that it was difficult for him to make up his mind to introduce the child as a witness to take away its father's life. The little boy when on the stand told his terrible story in a straightforward way. He said his father took him, his mother and little sister in a boat, and when in a lonely marsh struck her with a gun and shot at her, but did not hit her. Then he knocked her out of the boat and would not let her return. The boy then told of the knocking down of his mother, who said: "Please don't kill me," and said his father took the children to the beach and then buried the woman in the marsh. This done, he threw his household property in the water. Brock was a witness in his own behalf and declared that the boat filled with water and his wife was drowned, but that he saved the children.

The argument by counsel in this case were fine. Saturday evening the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree, the punishment of that crime being imprisonment for not over thirty years. The defendant made a motion for a new trial, which motion will be argued Tuesday.

A Great Opportunity to See the Sea.

You can go to Wilmington via Goldsboro or via Hamlet June 5th, on the Tabernacle Sunday school excursion. The important question is which way will you go? It is the chance of a lifetime. To the city by the sea for $3 round trip. The best time imaginable. M.

Another Chance For Free Ice Cream.

Daghi will give away two ice cream prizes next Sunday, each of half a gallon. One goes to the young lady and the other to the gentleman whose name is found on the most cards at a counting to take place Saturday evening. Any gentleman can write a lady's name on a card and any lady can write a gentleman's name on a card and leave this card at Daghi's.

MATRIMONIAL SENSATION.

The Quiet Marriage of a Young Couple Discovered

At 11:30 this morning at the residence of Rev. D. H. Tuttle, pastor of Central M. E. church, Mr. Harry A. Wilkinson, Southern Associated press reporter at the News-Observer-Chronicle office, was married to Miss Mamie Alcott, daughter of Mr. Wayne Alcott. There were present Messrs. Claude C. Barbee, P. H. Hughes, Greek O. Andrews, James W. Allison, D. H. Sneed of the revenue office, Mrs. D. H. Tuttle, Rev. Dr. Levi Branson. All were friends of the groom, a greatly esteemed young man. The bride is a very pretty woman and was a student at Peace institute, being a member of the graduating class. It was the purpose to keep the marriage a secret until after the commencement exercises this evening, but Mr. Dinwiddie, president of Peace institute, received an anonymous letter yesterday, which was given the bride's father this morning. This made necessary a change of plans and hence the morning marriage. This was also kept secret, but some one said that the marriage was to be this evening. Mr. Alcott at once took steps to prevent it, and went to the house of Dr. James McGee, where he found both the bride and groom. The bride had been at her father's house after the marriage but this afternoon she went to Dr. McGee's. Mr. Alcott was there shown the marriage certificate and found that he was too late to prevent the union of two loving hearts. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson are the recipients of many congratulations and wishes for a life of happiness and prosperity, in which the Visitor most heartily joins.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

A Fine List of Attractions at the Academy.

The theatrical season of 1894-95 will be an unusually fine one here. Manager T. P. Jerman of the academy of music says that from an artistic standpoint the attractions which will hold the boards there will be far above those before offered Raleigh theatre-goers. The season will open as usual with a minstrel performance and in all probability Barlow Bros. will give this in August. Ethel Raynes will produce for the first time Rider Haggard's "She," one of the most elaborate and costly spectacular dramas of the age. Milton and Dollie Nobles, always favorites here, will present "For Revenue Only," and immediately following this will be an attractive spectacular display, "The Spider and the Fly." In this company are said to be some of the prettiest women on the American stage. Richard Golden and Lillian Lewis will amuse the people who attend the great State fair and in all probability Gen. John B. Gordon will deliver his lecture on "The Last Days of the Confederacy" one evening during the fair. James Young, who is pleasantly remembered in Raleigh, will have two dates in October. The first few weeks in November will give some musicals and December 5 the Whitney grand opera company will present in all its magnificence "The Fencing Master." Little Mabel Paige will have a date. In January, February and March there will be Mrs. James Brown Potter and Kyrle Bellow, Robert Downing, Stanley Macy and Rita Mann in "4-11-44." Nat C. Goodwin, a great comedian, will appear February 13 in the "Gilded Fool." Salvini plays "Zamar" and Frohman's company "Jane. There are many other attractive comedy, musical, tragedy &c; a variety of the best and none but the best. In all, Raleigh will not be far behind the larger cities in the amusement line and it is due to the fact that the railway connections are better. Manager Jerman is taking an interest in the matter and is personally represented in New York by the two leading theatrical exchanges.

OBSERVATIONS.

The Pullen building is to be finished in October.

The youngest child of Dr. R. H. Lewis is very sick.
