LARGEST IN WAKE JAIL!

MADKINS, MISS PHILLIPS' ASSAILANT, BROUGHT HERE TODAY.

THE STORY OF HOW HE WAS CAPTURED IN ALAMANCE COUNTY.

The Confession of the Burlington Baptist.

Bob Madkins, the negro who raped Miss Mary Phillips on the 20th inst., was captured Saturday night on the farm of R. A. Mattock, in the extreme northern part of Alamance county, by mayor W. A. Hall and Dr. J. R. Stockard, Jr. They located him and closed in on him about 9 o'clock. He at once confessed that he was the guilty man and told a straight tale from the beginning and stuck to it. He was carried before the girl, who positively identified him without a moment's hesitation. He also pointed her out as the woman he outraged. On being carried to the scene of the crime he told how he caught her and where they scuffled and told which way he went—just the opposite one from the way the searchers went. The Durham Sun says Madkins is an ex-convict, who has just finished a 3 years sentence, for house breaking, in the Alamance county work house. He had been working for S. H. Webb and failing to return last week for a balance due him put the searchers on his track which resulted as above. At least 2,000 people gathered at Burlington Sunday to see him and to see what would be done. There was talk of lynching but wiser counsels prevailed. E. S. Parker, the solicitor of that district, made a speech, begging the people to desist from doing violence and told them what the consequence would be. The prisoner was turned over to the sheriff and carried to Graham jail where extra precautions were taken to keep him and as speedily a trial given as is possible to get. The Burlington Light Infantry guarded the jail Sunday night.

A special from Burlington to the Durham Globe says people came Sunday by hundreds, from farms, from factories, from stores and dwellings. When the morning service was over at the churches hundreds went from these to the town. By afternoon the town was crowded. From the calaboose up and down the street the vehicles and horses formed a perfect maze. It is estimated that 5,000 persons were gathered. Pistols and guns were not scarce. Many were the threats against the negro and several attempts were made to shoot him in the calaboose. Sheriff Hamilton went from Graham in the afternoon, and demanded the prisoner. Dr. Richard Stockard was then guarding the lockup. He told the sheriff he could not get the prisoner. Furthermore, he stood against the door with a pistol in each hand and said that the first man who tried to take the prisoner from that house would be shot. Several other guns were leveled at the guard house, and no one ventured to try to release the negro. The feeling grew hotter and more intense all the time. Solicitor Parker was in the crowd. He stepped into the left of a livery stable facing the calaboose and spoke to the crowd which quieted down and listened to him. He spoke of the gravity of the crime they proposed to commit, and said if any of them should use force, or should assault the prisoner, or should take his life, they would be guilty of a serious crime against the state. Any man who assisted in the taking of the prisoner's life would be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. The matter would be thoroughly investigated and the investigation and subsequent trial would cost the county a large sum of money. He said he would use all the means in his power to have a special session of the superior court called at once, and the negro would be tried, convicted and hung by due process of law in a few weeks at the farthest. A term of the court might be called before June 15. Then sheriff Hamilton stepped up and deputized a number of the would-be lynchers to assist him in taking the prisoner.

Madkins is 21 years old and weighs about 125 pounds, is of a copper color and has a very good face. One would not suppose by looking at his face that he would be guilty of such a heinous crime. He says he saw Miss Phillips coming down the road and said something to her, and she told him to go away or she would tell her father and have him whipped. That made him mad and he attacked her. "She got away from me twice," he said, "and the third time I dragged her across the road, and then accomplished my purpose. I didn't have a pistol, but told her I had and threatened to shoot her if she made any resistance." When asked if he realized his position, Madkins answered that he did and expected that he would be hung but he supposed he would do the same thing over again if it happened as it did.

This morning sheriff Hamilton brought Madkins here, under an order issued by judge Hoke. The train did not arrive until after 9 o'clock. It was delayed a couple of hours at Durham. When it became known that Madkins was there a great crowd gathered. There was no sensation here upon his arrival, as no one had an idea he would be brought to this city. He was in a few minutes placed in jail.

The Weather Report.

For North Carolina: "Fair weather warmer." Local forecast: Wednesday fair weather, continued cool. Thursday fair, slightly warmer. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 83; Minimum temperature 49; rainfall 0.33.

Synopsis: The high area and clearing condition is central this morning over Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. Over the Atlantic states the weather is generally clear and much cooler, with northerly winds. The storm has moved up to New England, where the rain area is now central. West of the Mississippi river the barometer is falling and the weather is becoming cloudy and warmer with southerly winds, due to the approach of a new storm from the northwest. The probabilities are for three days of fair weather, becoming slightly warmer Thursday.

The A. and M. College.

Invitations have been received for the commencement exercises of the A. and M. college. It is the second annual commencement. Congressman W. H. Hatch, of Missouri, delivers the annual address June 19. Rev. W. S. Creasy preaches the baccalaureate sermon June 17. The next day the class exercises will be held. There are eight members of the graduating class, these being C. E. Corpening, David Cox, Jr., R. D. Patterson, Chas. Pearson, Z. G. Rogers, J. H. Saunders, B. F. Walton. On the 19th of June there will be an exhibition of practical work and military drill. The next day is commencement day. J. M. Wilson is chief marshal; S. C. McKeown, C. D. Harris, H. L. Williams, E. S. Darden, G. L. Mitchell and T. V. Moore assistants.

Excursion to Bingham School.

Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock sharp the picnic train of the First Baptist Sunday school will leave the union depot for the beautiful grounds around Bingham's school near Mebane. Arrives are received that no rain fell there yesterday, that the ground is dry and everything in readiness. The weather bureau predicts for tomorrow fair and warmer weather. Amusements and games of various kinds have been provided. Friends of the school are invited to go by paying for the round trip $1.00; children 75 cents.

Trains to the University.

The R. & D. railroad will operate special trains between University station and Chapel Hill, June 5th, 6th and 7th, to accommodate persons attending the commencement exercises of the university of North Carolina. Trains will leave University at 7:10 a. m., and arrive at Chapel Hill at 8:10 a. m. Returning, they will leave Chapel Hill at 1:50 a. m., and arrive at University station at 2:50 a. m., connecting with trains at University station, enabling persons at Raleigh to spend the day in Chapel Hill and return home the same night.

Adjutant general F. H. Cameron left yesterday afternoon for Richmond, and Col. E. G. Harrell and Benahan Cameron left today for the same place. These officers will be in the great parade tomorrow, as official representatives of this state.

Mr. John Robinson, commissioner of agriculture, left last night for Augusta, Ga., to attend the southern inter-state convention. Gov. Carr and private secretary Telfair left for the same city this morning in Maj. Winder's private car and are the guests of that gentleman. They are expected to return next Saturday.

PEACE INSTITUTE.

Last Evening the Commencement, this Evening the Concert.

The chapel at Peace institute was crowded last evening, the commencement exercises, as usual, proving a great attraction. Rev. J. N. Cole opened the exercises with prayer. President Dinwiddie made the announcement of the award of distinctions. Miss Ethel Norris played a solo on the violin in a style which won her much applause. Misses Daisy Young and Lula Ives gave piano solos in an excellent manner. Miss Ella Green and Miss Mary Fort won the art department prizes; Miss Bessie Rankin the prize for greatest progress during the year; Miss Mamie Timberlake that for faithfulness and attention; Misses Dora Vick and Mamie Timberlake those for art work. The full graduates were Misses Anna Stronach, Maggie White and Eunice Worth. Diplomas were presented by Rev. R. E. Caldwell of Winston to Misses Charlotte Brown, Mary McNair, Eunice Worth, Lula L. Vick. This gold medal is presented annually by Dr. D. R. Everett.

THE CITY.

OBSERVATIONS.

An exceedingly heavy storm passed southeast of here yesterday.

A special agent of the treasury department is here inspecting the revenue office.

Mr. Fred. L. Merritt today delivered the annual address before the Apex high school.

Six convicts from Robeson and four from Halifax arrived at the penitentiary this morning.

The sixty convicts to be sent from the penitentiary tomorrow will work on the Great Falls canal.

Some of the rails of the street car track were removed today, on Fayetteville street near the postoffice.

The next session of the Episcopal diocese of East Carolina will be held at Fayetteville.

Today a mass meeting of the white citizens of Halifax county was held, to discuss the political situation.

Two companies of troops from South Carolina passed here this morning on the Seaboard Air-Line, for Richmond.

Work began today on the new forge shop at the A. and M. college. The building will be 106 1/2 feet in size, of brick, and one story high.

The handsome pony "Don," of Mr. J. M. Broughton died yesterday "Don" was a familiar figure on the streets and his death will be regretted by many persons besides his owner.

Fires were comfortable this morning. There were heavy hailstorms late yesterday afternoon in this section. The cool weather is very trying to the cotton crop.

The Goldsboro Rifles take forty men to Richmond Wednesday, and the Washington Light Infantry the same number. The company from Shelby will go. Fisher camp, C. V., of Salisbury, will take sixty men.

At the water works pump house today Capt. E. B. Engelhard celebrated his birthday by giving a picnic in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. James P. Ferrall. About thirty persons were present and the affair was delightful in every way.

The revival services at Swain street Baptist mission, conducted by Rev. A. D. Hunter of the West End mission, are growing in interest nightly. The christian people of the city are cordially invited to attend and assist in the work.

A special to the Richmond Dispatch from Wake Forest says that Mr. J. B. Ashley, one of the oldest citizens of that place, who was stunned about two weeks ago by lightning, has not yet recovered. He rapidly grew worse until he was compelled to take to his bed last Thursday. At times he seems to be perfectly insane.

This morning Denton's monkey gave an exhibition of pole climbing which was of a nature to give points to the telegraph linesmen. He was careful, however, not to monkey with the wires while the current was on. Afterwards he showed believers in the Darwinian theory how their ancestors got about in the tree-tops.

Secretary Bruner says the reports brought here by observant travelers show that this state is, agriculturally speaking, ahead of any other state in the south. The treatment of lands is improving at a great rate, particularly in the central section. The absence of all labor troubles and the fertility of lands are attractions. People from California and from Nebraska are coming here. Correspondence is now in progress.

The state museum has received the smokestack of the famous ram "Albemarle," and it will be prominently shown there. It is roughly made and is riddled with holes, many of them made by eight and ten inch shot. The Albemarle was built by Mr. Peter E. Smith, at Hill's Ferry, on the Roanoke river, near Scotland Neck. For some years the smokestack has been on exhibition at St. Louis, where it was taken from the New Orleans exposition in 1885.

Mr. R. R. Anderton, a prominent business man of Northampton county, died last Saturday.
