Miss Agnes Wears Shoes. Now, Miss Agnes, we will sell you the very best make of fine shoes at same price you must pay for inferior shoes. We sell Krippendorf & Dittman's fine shoes; Bering Bros. fine shoes at wholesale prices. You know these to be the best make of shoes. These are from the Durham Supply Co's stock, now at Swindell's Department Store, Raleigh, N. C.

Who Burned the Bridge? Who did that? You did that. We cut the shoe price down. Why did we do that? Because we could not help it; we got in the Durham stock about fifteen thousand dollars in fine shoes and could not sell them fast enough so cut the price. Men's $8 shoes, $5 shoes, $4 shoes all $3.85. All shoes reduced to $3.85, at Swindell's Department Store.

She Still Lives

We knew a lady once upon a time who knew a good thing when she saw it. This same lady had a husband and she taught him to know a good thing when he saw it. Now we have made it all uniform. All shoes at six, five and four dollars a pair will be sold at one price—$3.85 a pair—from now on as long as they last. We mean men's shoes. Banister's $6 shoes and $5 shoes, L. M. Reynolds' $5 shoes and Baller Lewin's $6 and $5 shoes—all will now be sold at $3.85. If you want shoes and don't grasp this opportunity there is something wrong. These are fine shoes we got in the Durham Supply Co's stock, now selling at Swindell's Department Store at $3.85 per pair.

THE STREET RAILWAY.

Judge Seymour Confirms the Sale.

It will be remembered that May 2d the street railway was sold at auction and Dr. McAden, of Charlotte, and a number of other gentlemen bought it. Much interest was aroused as to whether Judge Seymour would confirm the sale. Today he signed the decree of confirmation, so that now the matter is all right and Raleigh will soon have a street railway in operation. Mr. J. H. Cutler, of the General electric company, will be here in a few days. That company will equip the road. A great deal of work will be done. New engines will be put in, the track relaid in many places, the lines no doubt greatly changed, and new and better cars will be put on. In other words there will be a complete re-equipment, far better than was ever known here. Such is the outlook. Mr. Cutler, when last here, said no time would be lost in getting the road ready.

The Weather Report

Over most of the country the weather is clear with temperature apparently below normal except in the northwest. A large area of high pressure is over the interior of the country as far west as Iowa, Kansas and Texas. Beyond these states the pressure is low. The center of the low area is over the Dakotas. It is accompanied by cloudy weather, with some rain and rising temperature. The temperature at Marquette is 70, which is high for the season. The indications for this section are fair weather tomorrow and slightly warmer.

For North Carolina: Fair till Sunday. Probably slightly warmer in the interior Saturday afternoon. Local forecast: Saturday, fair, stationary temperature. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 73; Minimum temperature 54; rainfall 0.00.

A New Factory

Mr. A. R. Love, one of Raleigh's well-known and popular young men, has begun operations at a smoking tobacco factory in Raleigh. He will manufacture two brands—"Oak City Pride" and "Love's Capid." Raleigh merchants ought to handle his products and pipe-smokers here ought to use his brands. That is the way to keep money at home and give employment to home labor.

The next term of Peace institute will be made memorable by the establishment of the "Peace Conservatory of Music." President Dinwiddie has been working upon this feature of the institution for a long time, and has now brought the scheme to perfection. The directory of music comprises five of the very best instructors to be found in this country, and girls may now obtain a post-graduate course in music in our state.

The young woman, a murderess, who was brought here yesterday in chains was Lou Parris. She is 18 years old. It was her sweetheart whom she stabbed to the heart. The Charlotte News says it is the general belief that she will be pardoned. The sheriff who brought her said he chained her because she was desperate. The young man whom she killed had said she was unchaste.

There is now a post office named "West Raleigh," with Mr. B. S. Skinner as postmaster. The office is on the Hillsboro road quite near the A. and M. college. There is a postoffice at Oberlin. RALEIGH MALE ACADEMY.

The Exercises of the Commencement Day.

The closing exercises of the Raleigh male academy, Messrs. Morson and Denson, principals, were held this morning at the school house, in the presence of a large audience comprising many of the most cultured and prominent citizens of Raleigh. After a most appropriate and touching prayer by the Rev. Dr. A. M. Simms, of the Baptist tabernacle, Capt. C. B. Denson made a brief address upon the character and scope of the work performed by the school in its various departments of classical, scientific and business instruction. The special means employed to call forth the expression of the facts and principles acquired in each subject of study were explained in detail, and the system of mental development illustrated. The gratifying results were pointed out in the after career of the students who had remained long enough to enter college and business life with full preparation. The thorough and complete course of English in all departments of its study was especially advocated.

The long lists of honors were then read, embracing the names of those who had made the highest percentage in Latin, Greek and English literature, the mathematic, physical sciences and commercial studies, as well as the work of the primary department under the immediate charge of professor Lentz.

Mr. J. C. Scarborough then delivered the annual address, filled with broad and patriotic spirit and directed mainly to the need of building character in the young men of the future. He deprecated the consideration of education from the point of view of its monied value. His remarks, while extemporaneous, were pointed with apt illustrations, some of which were felicitously introduced, from his recent trip to Gettysburg and Sharpsburg. He dwelt eloquently upon the success open to every man who has sincere desire to accomplish good in the world. North Carolina must educate her children, not merely to get the wealth of some of her northern sisters, but to develop the noblest faculties of her people, and to uplift herself to the highest possible plane of social and individual happiness.

The address received hearty applause, in which the students joined enthusiastically. The certificates of distinction were distributed. Prof. Hugh Morson announced that the catalogue would soon be issued, and that the school, under the same management, would reopen the first Monday of September next. The Rev. A. B. Hunter pronounced the benediction. General satisfaction was expressed by all who were present, and the principals were warmly congratulated by the parents of pupils and others.

The following note, which explains itself, was received too late, unfortunately, to be read as intended:

Raleigh, June 8, 1894.

"My Dear Messrs. Morson & Denson: Please announce that beginning with your fall term of 1894 I will present to the young man attending it a gold medal, to be known as 'The Nesbitt Kendrick' medal, for DEPARTMENT; the mark to be 100. With best wishes I remain, your friend,

M. N. KENDRICK.

Dr. Hubert A. Royster, who graduates this week as first in a class of 271, at the university of Pennsylvania, was thoroughly prepared at this academy. The present students are keeping up the old reputation. Junius Grimes, of Pitt, a pupil of the academy, has just taken the position of alternate in the examinations at Edenton, the first place being awarded to a competitor three years older than himself and specially prepared for the examination by several years drill.

The appearance of "Jack the Peeper" about Goldsboro is not heralded with much delight by the citizens. His objective points are private bath and bedrooms usually frequented by the gentler sex. The Headlight says there is a notice displayed at the postoffice warning the unknown intruder of the fate awaiting him when caught.
