HINTS TO BUSINESS MEN!

Good advertising consists in the selection of a few strong, quick sell specialties, to stand as the representative of your stock in price, pattern and quality. No tradesman need lack for a specialty. Let specialties sell staples always and try to take rank among your competitors as one who is the quickest to recognize a good thing and the first to sell it.

Invite patrons to come and see you.
The great advertisers of the country never cease reminding the people of their names, location and nature of business. Advertising is an investment and newspaper advertising columns are a boon to man. They help him out of his troubles and into the smiles of prosperity. The Pennsylvania railroad advertises exclusively in the newspapers. There is not a great business that has been built in the past twenty years without the aid of newspapers.

This is a too bustling and competition is too great for the merchant to allow himself any longer the luxury of waiting idly behind his counter for trade. He must show in advance of the purchase just what he has to sell and how he intends to sell it, and a persistent publication of his wares is the means by which such showing can be made.

Frank Siddall, the Philadelphia soap man, says: "I have confined my advertising entirely to newspapers.
The man who does not read a newspaper does not use soap."

Eighty per cent. of American farms are occupied and managed by their owners.

The news relating to Coxy and the other commonwealers is consigned to small space on the inside pages, and to short paragraphs in the editorial columns. In other words, Coxyism has become effete.

The statement comes from Washington, on the authority of secretary Carlisle himself, that no more bonds will be issued for the purpose of replenishing the treasury, no matter how low the gold balance is reduced.

Mr. Burr introduced an amendment in the constitutional convention providing that "monopolies and trusts shall never be allowed in New York," and the Sun thinks that if monopolies and trusts are to be moved out of the state it might be easier to move the state.

A more progressive policy than ever for the farmers' alliance is to be inaugurated. Secretary Barnes will go to Buncombe county the last of this month for the purpose of making arrangements to establish a produce exchange in Asheville for the western counties. He will spend three or four weeks in placing the matter of the exchange before the different alliances.

The fact is not to be denied or disguised that the spirit of sedition is the animating force of the prevailing strikes. There is no pretense of respect for the established agencies and processes of government, but a manifest design, on the contrary, to accomplish given purposes by illegal and revolutionary means. It is now simply a case of dissatisfied workmen refusing to work for certain wages, and appealing to the public for sympathy and support. The question of wages is not involved in the matter except as a pretext and a deception.

On of the hopeful signs of the times in North Carolina, as the Charlotte Observer remarks, is the growing sentiment in favor of better roads.
There is an awakening on the subject.
Quite a number of the counties, at the meetings of the magistrates and commissioners June 4th, took steps looking to working their convicts on their public highways. In no direction is education progressing more rapidly in North Carolina than is this. The people are seeing that bad roads are costing them too much.
If the sentiment on this subject now existing in the state is made effective, the state will in ten years be transformed. Hon. Hoke Smith truly said at Greensboro the other night that educational progress North Carolina is leading the north. So also is she in manufacturing enterprise and in improvement in agricultural methods.

The masons will celebrate St. John's day at Oxford, N. C., on the 22nd of this month. The grand lodge meets there at that time. The Oxford orphan asylum is situated at that place, and is the property of the masons of North Carolina. This ought to be the rallying ground for masons in the state. They ought to be fully acquainted with their property—see how it is being conducted and what it is doing. The orphan asylum is one of the greatest factors in the state to do good in the best way, to those who without its beneficent influence would bring dishonor instead of credit.

A pathetic story of pride, hunger and suffering is related in Washington. A man from Virginia had gone to the capital to seek a government appointment. Delay followed the application, and the man was forced to support himself the best way he could in a strange city, without friends and with almost no money in his possession.
Days lengthened into weeks and months. The faithful wife in Virginia wrote him that she was on the verge of starvation. In the hope of receiving his appointment he held on until his scanty means were exhausted, and the man was actually in want. Walking out into the park in the morning, after a restless night and without breakfast, he fell fainting upon one of the walks, overcome by hunger. Relating the circumstances in which he was placed to the officer who came to his assistance, he was taken to the station house and fed. The incident, being published in the papers, awakened the sympathy of well-to-do persons, and a purse was raised sufficient to supply the man's immediate wants and to enable him to return to his home in Virginia.

McKinley's Gift Returned.

At Massillon, O., Sunday the miners' relief committee returned to governor McKinley the $10 he contributed to the subscription for the relief of unemployed miners on May 29, which he spoke of in his letter of transmission as his "mite." Here is the letter of the relief committee:

MASSILLON, O., June 9.
To William McKinley, Governor of Ohio:

Enclosed you will find $10, your donation to the miners of Massillon.
They emphatically refuse to accept a "mite" from the hand that assisted in smiting them. Your donation was solicited because the miners believed you were at least in as much sympathy with them as the ordinary citizen, but since you have divested yourself of your covering, and your true character stands out in glowing colors, they abhor the contamination of your charity. Your ambition in a political way, so far as the miners are concerned, is sure to be gratified henceforth."

NOT HURT MUCH.

The Big Cruiser Columbia Only Has a Scrape.

The big cruiser Columbia is resting on the blocks in the dry dock at the League island navy yard, high and dry.
All of the water was pumped out of the dock Monday, and a reporter of the Associated press made a personal inspection of the injury to her bottom which was inflicted during the recent trial of the cruiser. The inden-tation which has caused so much comment, and which is now being inquired into by a naval court of inquiry, is scarcely perceptible. A close inspection is necessary to discover that there is any injury at all.

In no other country is the theatre so popular as in Spain. After the bull-fight a Spaniard loves the theatre best. A true Spanish home is so dull that men and women alike scarcely ever spend a quiet evening in their inner circle. They go to the theatre as much to see their friends and gossip as to see the play. Even the children love the drama. Spanish children are little old men and women and a fairy pantomime would be too dull for them.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis. was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism; his stomach was disordered, bi-ver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was greatly reduced in flesh and strength.
Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill. had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Gattawbe, O. had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by John Y MacRae.

SAVANNAH, GA., April 26, 1890.

Having used three bottles of P. P.
P. for impure blood and general weakness, and having derived great benefits from the same, having gained 11 pounds in weight in four weeks, I take great pleasure in recommending it to all unfortunates like Yours truly,
JOHN MORRIS.

OFFICE OF J. N. McELROY, Druggist, Orlando, Fla., April 20, 1891.

Messrs. Lippman Bros., Savannah, Ga.:
Dear Sirs—I sold three bottles of P.
P. P., large size yesterday, and one bottle small size today.

The P. P. P. cured my wife of rheumatism winter before last. It came back on her the past winter and a half bottle, $1 size, relieved her again, and she has not had a symptom since.

I sold a bottle of P. P. P. to a friend of mine, one of his turkeys, a small one took sick, and his wife gave it a teaspoonful, that was in the evening, and the little fellow turned over like he was dead, but next morning was up hollowing and well.

Yours respectfully,
J. N. McELROY.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 17, 1891.
