OBSERVATIONS.

Raleigh has now only sixteen street electric lights.

Daghi today filled a handsome order for ice for a wedding at Laurel.

Supervisor McMackin will improve the road south of the Confederate cemetery.

An Indian was brought to the penitentiary from Swain county today for forgery.

There appears to be quite a great dispute in regard to the finances of Wilmington.

Forty-five convicts were sent from the penitentiary this morning to the state farms near Weldon.

Goes through without change—the incomparable "Triple Link" excursion to Norfolk July 5. 'Tis only $2.50.

The Sunday school of the church of the Good Shepherd will picnic day after tomorrow at Yates' mill.

The weather bureau says the crop returns show that there will be only half a wheat crop.

The monthly inspection, drill and dress parade of the Governor's Guard was held last evening.

Keep a close eye on the man whose wife is afraid to ask him to take her to Norfolk on the "Triple Link excursion" when it's only $2.50.

The Wilmington cotton mills are closed on account of the strike, the operatives declining to accept the reduced scale of wages.

A picnic in which some thirty couples participated was given by Raleigh people at Rand's mill, nine miles from here, today in compliment to Miss Allen of Wadesboro.

Only about a dozen people were on the special train which passed here this morning on its way to the teachers' assembly. The regular trains must be preferred. Thus far the attendance is lighter than in years.

The railroad commission today began the annual assessment of railroad, steamboat and telegraph property. There will hardly be any increase in the valuation. During the past twelve months there has been little railroad building.

Last evening there was a double concert, Raleigh and Durham participating, the music being heard over the telephone. The Durham brass band furnished the music at its end of the line. All was distinctly heard.

Widows' Son lodge, No. 4, of colored Masons last evening elected the following officers: Jonah Davis, W. M.; Moses Thompson, S. W.; Joe Mills, J. W.; S. J. Hawkins, secretary; James Baker, treasurer; B. T. Bridgefield, tiler.

The sentence of Orange Page was commuted after his escape to August 3d. Unless the governor interferes the sentence will be carried out on that day. The fact of Page's arrest was kept extremely quiet by the authorities. Cypher dispatches were used and when deputy Walters sent a message which read, "Kiss Sally for me" the messenger boys were for once thrown completely off the track.

The gentlemen who had made arrangements to give a banquet to congressman Hatch at the Yarbors this evening were of course greatly disappointed at his failure to come. In his defence it is said that the anti-option bill of which he is the champion was to come up. But all the same there were plenty of very plain expressions heard on the street in regard to his failure to keep a double engagement here. It is a way some of the "big guns" have.

Is Your Footwear in Style?

Have you tried a pair of tan shoes? If you haven't then you are standing in your own light. It is the right idea now for any man to wear tan shoes. They are worn, not as a fad, but because they have been tried and they suit—all who have given them a trial. Those who haven't tried tan shoes, should; then they will be a friend to this kind of shoe leather. It's men we are talking to now. We would like to show any gentleman our tan bluchers at $2.50. If this quality doesn't suit, then we can please along as high up as $6.00.

Doctors recommend "The Standard Sewing Machine" because of its light running.

Will You Respond?

Now that we are selling all our $5, $6 and $6.50 men's shoes at $3.85, will you get a pair? When James A. Banister's shoes sold at $3.85 the house would gladly take them in at $3.85, but we will not allow them. You can have them as a matter of advertisement at Swindell's store, Raleigh, N. C.

THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

THE ADDRESS WAS MADE TODAY BY F. H. BUSBEE.

The Work of the Students and Their Drill.

The chapel of the A. & M. college was filled this morning at 11:15 when the exercises began. In the audience were a number of people from various points in the state; of course Raleigh was well represented. On the rostrum were Mr. F. H. Busbee, the orator of the day; Gov. Carr, Rev. Dr. Eugene Daniel, Rev. J. N. Cole, president Holliday and Mr. W. S. Primrose, president of the board of trustees. Col. Holliday introduced Dr. Daniel who opened the exercises with prayer. Col. Holliday then explained the absence of congressman Hatch and in a few appropriate remarks introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. F. H. Busbee.

Mr. Busbee prefaced his remarks with a few amusing allusions to his early agricultural training and explained that the reason of his presence was that he had been solicited by the poultry committee to become an special incubator as the "Hatch" had failed. He then showed in his usual style that the agricultural and mechanical college was of vital importance and usefulness to North Carolina, a state which depended, probably more than any other in the union, on agriculture for its welfare, and deplored the fact that the state should give the college such poor support. In closing his address Mr. Busbee said:

"Finally, while I have spoken of certain hindrances to the development of the south, I should do myself and you grave injustice if I were not to declare my conviction that North Carolina offers rewards to the educated man second to no part of the union. Look upon the state with no language of apology but with well-founded pride. Its future rests upon the faith and labor of its sons. Welcome all immigration with hospitable hearts, but for its development we must look to the sons of North Carolina."

Rev. J. N. Cole closed the exercises with the benediction.

The shops of the college were thrown open for inspection and the two companies of cadets were drilled under the command of Lt. Henderson. Considering the short time since tactics were introduced, the companies did well. In a competitive drill recently held company A carried off the honors. The captains of the companies are Charles Pearson and L. T. Yarbors.

The marshals are from the Leazar society, Wilson, chief; G. L. Mitchell, T. V. Moore, E. S. Darden; from the Pullen society, C. B. Harris, S. C. McKeown and H. L. Williams.

A Double Wedding.

This morning at the home of sheriff M. W. Page at Morrisville there was a double wedding, the contracting parties being Miss Cora Page and Mr. John C. Cooper of Rowan county and Miss Mary L. Page and Mr. Julian E. Johnson, of Paducah, Ky. Both the brides are daughters of Capt. Page.

Don't You Think.

If you buy a pair of James A. Banister's fine shoes for men and save one, two or even three dollars, don't you think you could find a use for the money saved? This you can do now at Swindell's Department Store. All $6.50, $6 and $5 shoes now at $3.85 per pair.

Death of Mrs. W. C. Upchurch.

Late yesterday afternoon this truly estimable woman died at her home on South Wilmington street. She was 75 years of age, and a week ago had a paralytic stroke. Nine children survive her, as does also a husband to whom she had been united over 55 years. Eight of her children were at her death bed. Her family is the largest and best known in Wake county. She was a faithful and devoted wife and mother and was widely known in this city and esteemed by all who knew her. Her aged husband has the deep and sincere sympathy of the public in his loss. The funeral of Mrs. Upchurch was held from the First Baptist church at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

An Excellent Young Man Gone.

Mr. William E. Pell, an excellent young man, died this morning at his home on West Jones street, of consumption, in the 21st year of his age. He was a son of the late Mr. William Pell and a grand son of Rev. Wm. E. Pell who was editor of the old Daily Sentinel. He had been connected with the Biblical Recorder for several years. He leaves a mother and brother. He was of noble character and justly admired and beloved. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, from Edenton street M. E. church.

The members of Epworth league are requested to meet in the Sunday school room tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock for the purpose of attending in a body the funeral services of Mr. W. E. Pell, which will be held at 10 o'clock in the church.

The Weather Report.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: On Wednesday: Cloudy weather, with occasional light showers.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature 88; Maximum temperature 71; rainfall trace.

The slight storm yesterday central over the lake region has moved to the St. Lawrence valley. The storm west of the Mississippi river seems to be increasing in intensity and moving southeast. High winds are reported from the south side in Texas and Kansas. The weather in the southern and western states is generally cloudy with conditions favorable for light showers. Scattered showers have fallen at a number of stations. The temperature is rising west of the Mississippi and slightly lower in the lake region.

North Carolina News Notes.

The North Carolina local ministers' conference will celebrate its quarter-centennial camp meeting at Rutherford college, on July 19-23. This conference was organized at Durham twenty five years ago, with Brantley York, D. D., as president, and Levi Branson as secretary.

The C. F. & Y. V. receivership case, which was to have been heard in Charlotte today, has again been postponed at the request of Gen. Gill, the receiver. This action, the Greensboro Record says, was taken on Saturday last, but the date to which it was deferred was left to judge Dick and has not yet been fixed.

Mr. Ben Wolfe, of Mecklenburg county saw a commotion among his chickens and shortly afterward noticed a large bird fly up in a tree. He got on a gentle mule in order to get near the bird, and finally shot it. His first shot crippled it so it could not fly; but it could run well and fight like a tiger. Mr. Wolfe had no more ammunition the News states and had to kill it with a stick. He discovered that it was a very large bald eagle, and measured seven feet from tip to tip.

Get a Trunk.

Will you have a Trunk? Yes, have another; have a Valise, have another, and have them from Swindell's Department Store. We are selling them at what they cost you; not what they cost us. But, then, that is lower than they cost some merchants. Have another.
