THIS IS BAD.

A Great Deal of Sickness at Caraleigh Mills.

Mrs. Hayes of the King's Daughters has visited Caraleigh Mills and finds a bad state of affairs. There are no less than twenty-seven cases of sickness among the operatives, five of these being of typhoid fever. The cause is not far to seek. If any person will go to the point in the Grimes fields where the insane asylum sewer empties into a little branch and will follow that branch, with its stench, down to the mills where it empties into the creek; then look at the disused clay pits and examine the sanitary arrangements in the mill village the whole trouble will be clear. It is a matter in which Raleigh is deeply interested, even though the mill is a mile beyond the corporate limits. Not long ago the water used at Caraleigh was examined and was found extremely bad. The examination was at the instance of a physician. Some of the operatives live in town and some of these are also sick.

The Visitor a few days ago sent a reporter to a point just beyond the southern boundary of the city. He found that some persons who had night soil out of the city had with a carelessness which is criminal unloaded it there, quite near houses, and that the stench was dreadful. Today city health officer Sale went there and found that all the Visitor said was true. Now there ought to be some arrests of the people who did the hauling, and it is hoped they will be promptly made. There are people who say do not publish these things. But in justice to the sick and the well, to the rich and the poor, such matters ought to be made known promptly and without mincing words. That will be the Visitor's policy, anyway. It will fight long and earnestly for sanitary reform.

A. AND M. COLLEGE.

The Board of Trustees Transacts Business.

At the meeting of the trustees of the A. and M. college, which adjourned today at noon, the following resolutions and report were adopted:

"The committee appointed by the board of trustees of the North Carolina A. and M. college to inspect and report the work of the department of agriculture under control of Prof. Emory beg leave to report their careful examination of the same and find the farm is in an excellent condition and admirably managed and at a profit. W. F. Green, W. E. Stevens, R. W. Wharton, committee."

The following resolutions were adopted: "The board has observed with great pleasure the zeal and interest manifested by Dr. H. B. Battle, of the North Carolina experiment station, and in consideration desires to place on record its appreciation of his value and efficiency in all phases of the various work committed to his charge and also of the official employees under him."

"The board has heard the reports of the president, faculty and officials of the college and desires to express its satisfaction with the care and efficiency with which each department has been conducted during the past year."

Knights of Pythias.

A special to the Charlotte Observer from Winson says that the 24th annual session of the grand lodge, K. of P. of North Carolina met there yesterday morning. The address of welcome was delivered by A. J. Hauser. Responses were made by T. D. Meares, of Wilmington; P. A. Cummings, of Asheville; W. S. Cook, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Watts, of Statesville. Grand chancellor Ebert's report showed that more new lodges had been organized during the past twelve months than in any former year. The increase has reached the very gratifying number of 13, giving now 45 lodges. The increase of members reaches 1,000, giving a total of 3,200.

Mr. Eckels, U. S. comptroller of the currency, is at Chicago this morning in conference with a number of national bank receivers of the west, discussing banking and financial questions.

The King's Daughters of this state are to have an official organ. The King's Daughters' Messenger, published semi-monthly, Mr. Harry A. Wilkinson editor. It will be devoted exclusively to the promotion of the work of the King's Daughters.

Mr. J. W. Chamberlain, cashier of the national bank at Tiffin, Ohio, writes to Mr. Charles H. Belvin that he wishes the address of Capt. C. S. Munro, of the First North Carolina regiment, if the latter yet lives. Mr. Chamberlain was a captain in the 123rd Ohio volunteer infantry, and while in prison at Richmond met Capt. Munro

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer says editorially: "We are glad Col. A. B. Andrews has been chosen to a position of importance in the Southern railway company, as the Richmond and Danville railway company is to be called. He is not only an able railroad man but a good North Carolinian. If the general control of the affairs of the system in this state were committed to his hands he would conduct them to the satisfaction of the public and to the advantage of the company."

The shops of Park, Royster & Co. now have a large amount of work on hand both here and at a distance. It is learned that the company now has eight contracts in Raleigh and several at other points. One contract was finished today and others will be finished in sixty days. Since February 9 the company has finished every contract it has undertaken within sixty-four days and one was finished in 54 days. It is also learned that the Briggs planing mill has several large contracts on hand.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

It Meets in Annual Session Here Tomorrow.

The woman's missionary society of the North Carolina conference meets here tomorrow, holding its first session at 8 p. m. in the Sunday school room of Edenton street M. E. church. The programme for the evening consists of devotional exercises, the address of welcome by Miss Mary T. Peseud, of this city, and the response by Miss Mary Davis, of Louisburg; the annual address by Mrs. J. A. Cunningham, president of the society, and other interesting features. An informal reception will be held at the close of the evening's programme, to afford visitors and delegates an opportunity of becoming better acquainted. Ladies who have promised contributions are asked to send them by 6 p. m. tomorrow afternoon to the Edenton street M. E. Sunday school room, where a committee will be in readiness to receive them.

The ladies and gentlemen appointed to serve on the depot committee are asked to be at the union depot in time to meet all incoming trains on Friday, beginning with the 1 p. m. train, unless otherwise notified. Badges will be provided for them and also for the delegates. Those who expect to entertain personal friends and acquaintances among the delegates are cordially invited to meet with the committee. It is earnestly requested that no delegates or visitors leave the depot until they have reported at the secretary's table to the committee on entertainment. This is very necessary, even when homes have been assigned with personal friends, and should be strictly observed, in order to avoid confusion.

The Weather Report.

For North Carolina: Fair, preceded by light showers this afternoon in east portion.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity:

Friday fair. Slight chance for thunderstorms tonight and Friday night.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today:

Maximum temperature 87; Minimum temperature 68; rainfall 0.

The pressure remains high over the south Atlantic coast, but the weather is generally cloudy from Norfolk, Va., to Florida, with rain at a number of places. The heaviest rains during the past 24 hours occurred at Norfolk, 1.53 inch, and Jacksonville, Fla., 1.14 inch. The storm in the northwest seems to be moving eastward far north of the lake region, and in consequence the prevailing winds in the central valley are southerly. The weather continues warm everywhere.

CRIME AND MUTINY.

The Queer Story of a Crew's Mistake—An Unskillful Surgeon.

The British bark Invernie, captain Wilcox, has arrived at San Francisco from Newcastle, New South Wales, with a remarkable story of mutiny and crime. Just before the vessel left Newcastle a man calling himself Dr. Armitage applied for a passage for himself and wife to San Francisco. The captain gladly took them on board, as his own wife needed the services of a physician. Two weeks ago, at sea, Mrs. Wilcox gave birth to a child, and Armitage officiated as surgeon. The captain, seeing he was unskilled, ordered the man away. Armitage appealed to the crew, telling them that the captain was killing his wife. The crew, led by the mate, mutinied, and the captain after being drugged, was locked up, but managed to get out just in time to see his wife die. Several times he was imprisoned by the crew, but he managed to break out. Armitage's real name is Eustace Alexander. He is said to have deserted his wife and baby in Sydney and fled to Newcastle with another woman, where he joined the Invernie. The bark, crew and passengers are now in the custody of the port warden and the police have made arrests.

One million men, members of the farmers alliance, are on the point of allying their forces with the knights of labor and the American railway union.
