The annual picnic of the Raleigh and Gaston workingmen's relief association will come off on the 18th of July. The excursion, as usual, will be to Littleton, N. C. Let everybody who wishes a good time make his plans to go.

The rumor that the railroad commission will proceed against the Seaboard Air Line for carrying passengers at a half a cent a mile, is without foundation. Next Thursday's excursion to Chimney Rock through Rutherfordton will move as advertised. The rate of half a cent a mile will

Mr. Pullen, at the Raleigh savings bank, will receive contributions to help the many sick now about us. These people need medicine, ice, milk and food, and some nurses to attend them he will take them so they may see for themselves that there is great need of assistance.

. A Much Afflicted Family.

Mr. H. E. Holloway, of Leesville, died there last Monday. His wife who, was paralyzed some time ago is not expected to live and his son James is also in a very critical condition.

A White Man Shot.

News has been received here of what promises to be a fatal shooting affair in Johnston county.

D. L. Flower, a well know and respected citizen, was shot by a negro, Hannibal Corbett, and is not expected to live. The negro escaped and has not yet been captured.

Two Burglars Caught.

DURHAM, June 23 .- Special-John Jeffries and another negro named Haliburton, both of this place, were arrested here today and lodged in jail charged with robbing the Swiss jewelry store several days ago.

Lizzie Halliday, the triple murderess, who has been on trial at Monticello, N. Y., has been convicted of the murder of her husband and two innocent women, will be electrocuted the second week in August unless the governor interferes. The judge pronounced sentence upon her yesterday. She received it with the same listless air with which she received the verdiet of "guilty." Thus ends one of the most noted trials New York has known for years.

General Basil W. Duke's editoral in the July Southern (Louisvile) on "Causes of Panics" is wholesome reading. General Duke has lately written a history of the "Bank of Kentnky," in which he discusses the sound financial policy that has characterized that institution through three quarters of a century.

THE APEX TRAGEDY.

MISSIANA WIMBERLY YET ALIVE

John Mills Visited by his Father and Brother.

John Mills, who is in jail here charged with assaulting and outraging his niece, Miss Iana Wimberly, was visited in his cell today by his father, Britton Mills, his brother Joseph, and Herbert Norris, Esq., of Apex.

Miss Wimberly, his victim, still lives, although it was announced yesterday from Apex, both by wire and messengers, that she was dead. The doctor in attendance upon her now has hopes of her recovery. She is said to possess remarkable vitality and unless, as it is feared, meningitis sets in, she has a chance for her life. As yet, however, she has only spoken two intelligible words.

Herbert Norris, Esq., who defended Mills when he was arrested several years ago, charged with outraging his cousin, and Col. T. M. Argo have been detained by Mills as counsel.

The affair has aroused much feeling all over Wake county and it is to be hoped that swift justice will be meted out to the guilty party.

STREET CARS.

Work on them Soon to Commence.

Maj. R. S. Tucker returned from a visit to New York this afternoon. While in that city he met, by appointment, Mr. J. H. Cutler, of the General electric company, who is at the head of the syndicate that purchased the Raleigh street railway, and who said he would be here on Monday next with a competent electrical expert to inspect the road and make arrangements to resume operations as speedily as possible.

Maj. Tucker looks well but says New York city is amazingly hot just dons, of Goldsboro, responded.

Where to Spend Sunday Afternoon.

At the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Sun-Broughton will speak to men only. There will be a song service which will last twenty minutes, songs that to them. If any one wishes to visit you know, and can sing. Come one, come all and enjoy this service. There will be a plenty of ice water and fans.

Nearly Completed.

The new brick store, which is being built for the firm of Turner & Wynne, who will at an early date open a grocery store, on the corner of Halifax and Johnston streets, is nearly completed. Both of these members of the firm are well known in Raleigh and are both pleasant and able gentlemen. Mr. J. D. Turner, formerly with J. R. Ferrall & Co., is now in New York buying for the firm which will commence business on the 30th.

The Weather Report.

For North Carolina: Generally fair, Local forecast for Raleigh and vieinity:

Sunday fair and very warm. Thunderstorm probably Monday afternoon or evening.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 92; Minimum emperature 72; rainfall 0.

The pressure continues high over the south Atlantic states and low in the northwest, where a considerable storm prevails with very little rain, but considerable rain at a few places. The present arrangement of pressure. high in the south, and low in the north is the cause of the very warm weather prevailing. The winds blowing from the high to the low are from the south nearly everywhere. The warmest region this morning extends from Washington D. C., to Boston where the 8 a. m. temperature was 80 or above. Considerable rain has occurred over Florida, where the weather is cloudy, and at other scattered stations.

ST. JOHN'S DAY

The Masons Celebrated ii Handsomely.

At Oxford yesterday the St. John's day celebration was held with 1,500 present. The grand lodge of Masons met in regular session. Mayor B. S. Royster delivered an address of welcome, to which Calvin Parrish, of Durham, replied on behalf of the Masons. Grand master John W. Cotten presided at the exercises of the children. John R. Webster, of Reidsville, introduced by Dr. G. T. Winston, of the university, made an able address. N. B. Broughton spoke some excellent words. James Parks, of Hillsboro, a mason of sixty-two years, was present.

Local Assocation of Wake Forest College Alumni

Pursuant to a call of sixty old students of Wake Forest college, about 30 of her sons met at the Baptist mission rooms last evening for the purpose of organizing a local alumni association. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and the following gentlemen were elected officers: Dr. C. Durham, president; Mr. S. W. Brewer, vice president; Mr. Thos. H. Briggs. treasurer and J. W. Bailey, secretary. Great enthusiasm was shown throughout the meeting. The following gentlemen spoke at the meeting, Hon, J. C. Scarborough, Mr. S. W. Brewer, W. N. Jones, Esq., and J. W. Bailey.

Woman's Missionary Society. Last evening a reception was given to the woman's missionary society at the Sunday school rooms of the Edenton street Methodist church.

The exercises were opened by a few remarks of welcome by Rev. J. N. Cole. The society was formally welcomed in an address by Miss Mary Pescud on behalf of the young ladies missionary society; Miss Mary Davis, of Louisburg, responded. The Bright Jewels then welcomed the visitors through an address by Miss Sallie Whitaker and Miss Gid-

The annual address to the society was delivered by the president of the W. M. S. of the state, Mrs. J. A. Cunningham. Bishop Fitzgeral then made a few interesting remarks. After the exercises and informal reception was held. Refreshments were served. The occasion was in every respect an enjoyable one and everyone went away well pleased.

A New Use for a Syringe.

Mr. Angler-"It sometimes occurs that in trout fishing particularly all the known arts of the piscator will fail to allure the wary game, and once I remember having to try a very unspotsmanlike recourse."

Mr. Listener-"Yes? What was that? Mr. Angler-"I was fishing one day in the Sprain brook and discovered in an old pool a trout that must have weighed seven pounds. I tempted him first with all the artificial bait at my command, from gray hackle to flamingo flies, shook a button off my flannel shirt into his eyes, offered him a starwberry on a hook and a forelock of my red hair, flirted all the known brands of worms in front of his suggestive mouth and wasted all my lunch on him in the way of decoy, and when I was just about to give it up in despair a thought struck me.

"Acting upon it, I went to a neighboring farm house, borrowed a twoquart syringe used for the demolition of insect pests, walked back and drew all the water out of the pool, and walking into the exhausted reservoir, picked up my seven-pound speckled
