MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Interesting Items Gathered In and Around the City.

The republicans of the eighth district have nominated Romulus Z. Linney, Esq., of Taylorsville, for Congress.

Over two hundred people were on the north-bound vestibule train this morning. They were on their way to Washington from Georgia and South Carolina. There were two extra cars.

The uniform code of rules for the government of prisoners in this State has been prepared by Capt. C. B. Denson, secretary of the State board of public charities.

At the revival at St. Cyprian's church in east Raleigh last evening, a colored man professed religion who is 75 years old, and said he had not been in a church in 30 years.

A party of young people had a very enjoyable german last evening at the Park hotel. Dancing commenced at about 9:30 and ceased about 1 o'clock. The chaperones were Misses Roberta Smith and Annie Busbee and Messrs. Ed. Battle and Sam. Ashe.

The first bale of cotton brought in this year of the 1894 crop was on the market yesterday. It was graded as middling, sold for 6 3/4 cents per pound, and was bought by Messrs. Barbee and Thompson. It came from the farm of Mr. Jesse Wood, at Leachburg, Johnston county.

James Tilley, colored, was today given a preliminary hearing before mayor Badger for larceny. He was convicted and was fortunate enough to find some one to go on his bond for his appearance at the September term of court. The plunder he got away with was "salvatore" which it may be said for the benefit of the uninitiated is a white powder used in making sausage.

Excitement prevailed on Fayetteville street some time this morning, being caused by a runaway which began on East Morgan street. Two powerful bay horses, harnessed to a city wagon, came dashing up Morgan street and went pell mell into the lamp post at the corner of East Morgan and Fayetteville streets. Both horses sprawled on the side walk, unable to rise. For a wonder neither the horses or the wagon were injured. The lamp post, however, could not stand the shock and was totally demolished.

Every now and then one may hear at different points on Fayetteville street a startling explosion, followed in ninety-nine cases in a hundred, by choice and brilliant gems of profanity. The pop is the explosion of the delicate pneumatic tire of a bicycle, caused by glass, etc., being thrown on the streets. The rubbish usually comes from stores and it seems that the glass could easily be thrown somewhere else or cleaned up promptly by the city carts. Bicycle riders are not all saints and for the sake of the city's moral tone the glass should be cleared away and not cast in the streets.

A Glorious Defeat.

The Raleigh baseball team has returned from Henderson where it was defeated yesterday afternoon. Although Henderson won, its team had to fight for the victory to the bitter end and up to the eighth inning Henderson money was very shaky. At the beginning of the sixth Raleigh was five and Henderson had to be content with a large and juicy "0," but in the sixth inning Taylor weakened and Henderson succeeded in tying the score before the fatal ninth had closed. Two more innings were played, Henderson winning in the eleventh. The score was 11 to 10. The team has several excuses, etc., but says it will "let that pass." The boys are waiting for 'em the return trip.

Snow, chairman; W. A. Albright, T. B. Fuller, Rev. J. W. Wellons, Rev. C. B. King, James T. Lineback, Dr. D. W. C. Benbow.

COL. W. R. RICHARDSON DEAD

He Passed Away Yesterday and Was Buried Today.

After a brief illness, Col. William R. Richardson died late yesterday afternoon at his home, west of the city limits. He was 63 years of age and was born in Richmond, Va., and lived there and at Petersburg. He came here just before the war, and occupied several positions in the capitol. He was private secretary to Gov. Holden and clerk in the offices of state treasurer and secretary of state. Afterwards he was in the newspaper business. For five years he was editor of the weekly Era here, and for twelve years he was editor of the EVENING VISITOR. For a few years he lived at Greensboro and was on the editorial staff of the North State, published there. Last spring he became city editor of the Evening Press and was in that position when he died.

Col. Richardson was a man of kind nature and was particularly true and devoted to his friends, who fully reciprocated his feelings. He wrote well and had a large acquaintance with public men, gained during his long official and newspaper work. His last illness was of only about ten days' duration, but for a long time his health had been quite feeble. He was worn out, and death was the result of nervous prostration. He leaves a devoted wife and three children, Mr. Walter C. Richardson, Mrs. H. W. Crocker, and Willie R. Richardson. His funeral was held this afternoon from the First Baptist church, Rev. Dr. J. W. Carter officiating.

THE ROAD CONFERENCE.

The Proceedings of the Meeting Last Evening.

Last evening the road conference resumed its session, in the senate chamber, Dr. R. H. Lewis presiding. Various topics laid down on the programme were discussed, the speakers being Messrs. McMackin, D. W. C. Benbow, of Guilford; J. A. Holmes, R. H. Battle, B. P. Williamson and R. H. Lewis, Rev. Mr. Cobb, of Chatham; W. L. Kennedy, of Lenoir; Mr. Wiley Rush, of Randolph; Mr. S. J. Tally, of Chatham, and others. The following resolutions were adopted:

"That in view of the great need of trained engineers and road supervisors to take charge of the road improvement work in North Carolina, we ask the State university, the A. & M. college and the other colleges in the State to give as much instruction as practicable in studies relating to this subject."

"Whereas, the North Carolina road improvement association, which has recently been organized, is by distributing literature on the subject, by organizing branch associations in every county of the State, and in other ways, endeavoring to arouse greater and more intelligent interest in the improvement of the public highways."

"Resolved, That this conference appreciates and commends this important work of the North Carolina road improvement association, and that it asks the county commissioners of every county, and the mayors of the several cities and towns, the boards of trade, the State and county agricultural societies, and all other industrial associations in the State to send delegates to the annual meeting of the association to be held in the city of Charlotte, September 12th and 13th next."

Yesterday's Races.

The Visitor went to press yesterday while the third race, free-for-all, was in progress. But, as predicted, Clipper won easily, Cock Robin second, Maggie Watkins third, in straight heats. Time 2:28 1-2, 2:31 1-4, 2:28. Clipper has a record of 2:24 and with the right sort of driving could have made the mile in 2:20 but was "pulled." Cock Robin was also pulled, and in the second heat his driver kept him behind Clipper while the latter jogged along. This caused a great deal of complaint and the judges took action. They fined Peay and Biggs $5 each. Peay acknowledged that he and Biggs had agreed not to "distance" Maggie Watkins. It is the opinion of many that the punishment ought to have been six months suspension, certainly of Biggs. The judges were not strict enough. Many of the horsemen and race-lovers want judges from other states. Mr. Carter, of Richmond, was asked to be here, but had an engagement and could not come. He will be here at the state fair. There has nearly always been "jockeying" at the races here, and it certainly ought to be stopped.

The Weather Report.

For North Carolina: Fair in eastern portion; showers in western portion tonight and Saturday. Local forecast: Saturday, fair, with possibly a little rain in the evening. Local data for 24 hours ending a. m. today: Maximum temperature 79; Minimum temperature 63; rainfall 0.00.

The center of low pressure is still over Mississippi. It is a storm of but slight force, the barometer not being very low and the winds generally light. It has performed the unusual feat of remaining stationary for over 48 hours. The weather is generally fair except in the vicinity of the storm. The pressure is high over the Atlantic states and in the northwest. But little changes in temperature except in the northwest, where it is cooler, thermometer registering 44 at Bismarck at 8 a. m.

A Handsome Design.

Sunday the people who enter the vestibule of the Presbyterian church will see hanging on the wall a design for the new church which it is the hope of the congregation to erect on the site of the present small and old structure. The design is for a building of brownstone and brick, of graceful shape, and to cost $25,000. Under the design will be these words "Let us build a church worthy of ourselves, worthy of our profession of faith, and to the glory of God."

A LACK OF APPRECIATION.

Some Plain Talk to Raleigh People.

It is a lamentable fact that the people of Raleigh showed so little interest in the August races, or if they had the interest, were so loath to part with a small part of their money. The association, which has for its object in holding these race-meets the improvement of blooded stock in the state and encouragement for people to engage in the raising and improvement of fine stock, is certainly entitled to a fair share of encouragement and support. The entire number of tickets sold for both days racing will certainly not exceed 400 and this is surely a mean and paltry return for all that the gentlemen composing the association have done, and the trouble, time and expense to which they have gone in attempting to make the races interesting and successful. Laying all other considerations aside, the advantage to be gained by all classes of business men in Raleigh by making the races popular and by enabling the association to continue them is very great, that is in cold hard cash. In the same ratio as the races are encouraged and patronized will the races improve both in the number of entries, size of purses and last, but by no means least, in the contests furnished the public. It follows clearly that, as the races increase in interest and value, the attendance from other points will follow, and with hearty support, in three years at least, the August races will attract a crowd of 5,000 persons to this city. The work for this year has been done. The gentlemen composing the association have given some good racing and Raleigh has given them about as meagre and paltry a support as should be given to the traveling "dago" and his "monk." It is to be hoped that the association, shabbily treated as it has been, will give the people of Raleigh one more chance and that they, on their part, will see the error of their way and never repeat it.

FLAT ON THE FLOOR.—You want a carpet of some kind this fall. You may want more than one; but listen to me once in your life. Don't buy the carpets until our new ones come. The tariff bill has passed and carpets are reduced wonderfully. We have been waiting for the passage of this bill so we have not bought any carpets. Most merchants went straight on and bought carpets and had them shipped right on regardless of the tariff and they will try to argue you into believing the tariff don't affect carpets right away. This is not true. In 10 days from day of passage it goes into effect and you can save one quarter of the price of your carpet if you let good sense prevail. We will have a stock of carpets such as you rarely see. Our buyer is to go to New York this week for carpets. Yours truly,
D. T. Swindell.
