HINTS TO BUSINESS MEN!

Good advertising consists in the selection of a few strong, quick sell specialties, to stand as the representatives of your stock in price, pattern and quality. No tradesman need lack for a specialty. Let specialties sell staples always and try to take rank among your competitors as one who is the quickest to recognize a good thing and the first to sell it.

Invite patrons to come and see you.
The great advertisers of the country never cease reminding the people of their names, location and nature of business. Advertising is an investment and newspaper advertising columns are a boon to man. They help him out of his troubles and into the smiles of prosperity. The Pennsylvania railroad advertises exclusively in the newspapers. There is not a great business that has been built in the past twenty years without the aid of newspapers.

This age is too bustling and competition is too great for the merchant to allow himself any longer the luxury of waiting supinely behind his counter for trade. He must show in advance of the purchase just what he has to sell and how he intends to sell it, and a persistent publication of his wares is the means by which such showing can be made.

Frank Siddall, the Philadelphia soap man, says: "I have confined my advertising entirely to newspapers.
The man who does not read a newspaper does not use soap."

During the past year 21,496 patents were granted.

Mr. Holman, of Indiana, has been elected to congress for sixteen terms and defeated three times.

President Cleveland, accompanied by secretary Lamont, private secretary Thurber and Dr. O'Reilly, left Washington yesterday for Gray Gables.

Silver is in a position in which it can laugh at congress. Its price is going up notwithstanding the adverse legislation of ten or eleven months ago.

Councilman Dondasat, of New Orleans, was caught in the act of taking a bribe from Charles Sherman yesterday. The amount taken was $100. He was caught by detectives and lodged in the station house.

The Chinese language has 1,098 phonetic sounds and 43,000 written characters, and yet the Chinese object to exchanging it for simple, vigorous, expressive English. No wonder China is suffering from arrested civilization.

The treasury's gold fund is near the $55,000,000 line. This is low, but as it is almost $3,000,000 higher than it was ten or twelve days ago, and as it is going up, the situation is encouraging.

In addition to conflagrations causing an average loss of $500,000 a day, this country loses $25,000,000 a year by forest fires. The United States has some grand opportunities to make money by saving it.

Rochester is a thrifty city, and its working people are as well-to-do as any in the country. Yet for the year ending July 1 they drew from their savings banks $1,990,379 more than they deposited. The balance in ordinary years is the other way.

Official reports received at the state department indicate a serious situation in Peru. It has been found necessary to suspend several articles of the constitution, including the writ of habeas corpus, and the president of the republic is practically clothed with dictatorial powers. The provision allowing all persons to meet peacefully in public as in private is suspended, also the provision which prevented the sending of a person from the republic or his residence without executive sentence.

Congress has authorized the bureau of labor statistics to make a thorough inquiry into the effects of labor-saving machinery in superseding hand labor.
This is an important field of research in which little work has been done as yet.

The pioneer flying machine will, in all probability, be a large kite-like affair, with power in the shape of a gasoline motor and screw propeller. It will be provided with a means of guiding both up and down, and sidewise. It will carry but one operator, who must feel that the machine is almost part of himself. It speed will be small, probably.

It is officially announced that 3,361, 386 acres of arid lands in South Dakota have been reclaimed and under cultivation by irrigation, thus increasing their value from $77,000, 000 to nearly $300,000,000. Where there is such a profit as that to be made, would it not pay the people to do their own irrigating, instead of asking to have it done by the government?

Notwithstanding all the flight made in congress last spring to compel the secretary of the treasury to coin the seigniorage silver, the passing of a bill to that effect and its subsequent veto by the president, the government is doing the very thing that Cleveland said should not be done if he could help it. Director of the mint Preston, says 423,000 silver dollars were coined last month.

It appears from the statistics of the traffic passing through the Suez canal in 1893 that the number of ships and the amount of tonnage were both less than in 1892, and considerably below the figures of 1891. A comparison with the canal at Saut Ste. Marie shows the latter to be ahead. That is to say, more freight is carried through the American canal than the Suez canal, which goes to show the importance of the trade of the great lakes.

The Philadelphia Record says that the doom of the cotton industry was predicted at the close of the war. Yet cotton crop of last year was nearly double in quantity that of 1860. The south produces today over 60 per cent of the cotton of the world. But cotton does not reign exclusively. From Norfolk alone is shipped annually over $8,000,000 worth of fruits and vegetables. The grain crops are now nearly equal to the cotton. The standing timber is equal in value to that of all the balance of the union. The limitless iron ore can be mined at an advantage of $3 per ton over the northern ore, and iron production has increased 500 per cent. The coal fields cover over 60,000 miles, seven times the coal area of Great Britain. With lumber, cotton, iron and coal, the south is bound to develop beyond the ken of prophecy.

IT WAS HORRIBLE.

A Fearful Leap from a Burning Building.

A six-story building in New York was burned yesterday morning. The six floors were occupied by tailor shops.
The fire started on the third floor and in less than ten minutes the flames had started up the stairways to the roof.
The firemen were on the ground three minutes after the alarm was sent out and ladders were put up against the iron fire escapes. Fireman Collins was the first to start up and had not climbed more than ten feet when a wild yell was heard above the noise of the roaring flames and the horrified crowd saw a boy clad only in an undershirt shoot out from the fifth floor.
The boy landed on Collins' hard rubber helmet and the boy and fireman went to the ground together. The boy was killed almost instantly and Collins knocked insensible. He is seriously injured and his recovery is doubtful. When the flames were extinguished the firemen found on the fifth floor the bodies of the watchman named Herman and a boy. Both boys were Herman's sons.

PARBOILED IN A DYE VAT.

Terrific Plunge of Peter Kelly in West Philadelphia.

Parboiled in a giant vat of dye water was the awful fate which befell Peter Kelly at a dye works yesterday.
Kelly ascended to the top of the huge vats for the purpose of stirring the materials in process of dyeing in the steaming liquid. He walked out upon the plank over the top and with a long pole began stirring. Suddenly his foot slipped and down he plunged head foremost into the scalding liquid.
The vat is eight feet deep and was full of liquid. Kelly disappeared, but struggled to the surface and seized the wooden wall of the great tub, to which he clung in a death grip.
His wild cry drew the attention of his fellow-employees, who quickly sprang to his rescue. They pulled him out and despite the sickening sight that followed worked like heroes to relieve the poor man's sufferings. As they carefully carried him to the floor below his flesh peeled off at their touch.
Such clothing as could be removed without tearing off great patches of flesh with it was taken off, and such relief as could be afforded with the few materials at hand was quickly administered. The moans and cries of the parboiled man turned many of the strongest men to tears. He lapsed into unconsciousness, and the surgeons found that his whole body from scalp to toes was a mass of blisters and quivering flesh. They did what they could to relieve the sufferer, but said it was hopeless. The man cannot live.
