The Maiden's Mistake.

"Something in blue? Why, certainly!" The clerk said, with a smile, "For oh! the very loveliest girl is standing in the aisle! And though the clerk is sometimes cross, He is so charmed by her That he unrolls piece after piece, Without the least demur.

At last the maiden cries: "Oh, my! Now isn't that too sweet!" And, looking in her eyes, the clerk Says: "Yes; that can't be beat."

"Now, how much shall I need?" she says, "To make a pretty dress?" And he replies: "Just seven yards, You couldn't do with less."

"Seven yards," she says; "$10.50 then. All right. Please send it out." And then she wonders what the clerk is so amused about.

"Excuse me! Seventeen yards in all," He says. "The style deceives. You'll need seven yards for the dress, And ten more for the sleeves."

A WIFE'S STRATEGY.

She Calls in a Strange Man to Finish Her Quarrel With Her Stubborn Husband.

The other evening, as a muscular person was passing a house, a lady who stood at the gate called out to him: "Sir, I appeal to you for protection!" "What's the matter?" he asked, as he stopped short.

"There's a man in the house, and he wouldn't go out of doors when I ordered him to."

"He wouldn't, eh? We'll see about that." Thereupon the man gave the woman his coat to hold and walked into the house. He found a man at the supper table, and took him by the neck and remarked: "Nice style of brute you are, eh? Come out of this, or I'll break every bone in your body!"

The man fought, and it was not until a chair had been broken and the table upset that he was hauled out of doors by the legs, and given a fling through the gates.

"Now, then, you brass-faced old tramp, you move on, or else I'll finish you!"

"Tramp! Tramp!" shouted the victim, as he got up. "I'm no tramp! I own this property, and live in this house!"

"You do?"

"Yes, and that's my wife holding your coat."

"Thunder!" whispered the muscular man, as he gazed from one to the other, and realized that it was the wife's method of finishing a row she had been having with her husband. And then he made a grab for his coat and disappeared into the darkness. — New York Recorder.

SEVING, TEX., January 14, 1893.
MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have tried your P. P. P. for a disease of the skin, usually known as skin cancer, of thirty years' standing, and found great relief; it purified the blood and removed all irritation from the seat of the disease and prevented any spreading of the sores. I have taken five or six bottles and feel confident that another course will effect a cure. It has also relieved me from indigestion and stomach troubles. Yours truly,

For ten years fighting has been going on in upper Egypt. The Mahdi is now collecting his forces with the object of making an attack on Kassala, an important town now occupied by the Italian forces. The dervishes were driven out of the place by the Italian governor general, at the head of 2500 men. The Arabs fought desperately and were routed with heavy loss.
