The populist-republican fusion convention of the first district, held at Edenton yesterday, nominated Col. Harry J. Skinner for congress.

Two negro men engaged in an affray near the union depot this morning. None other than nature's weapons were used so no serious damage resulted to either party.

Corn and wheat took a big jump today and the future holders are scratching their heads and wondering whether they ought to sell or wait for higher prices.

If the chamber of commerce here has really succeeded in its fight against the southern tariff association, or fire insurance trust, it may be lead to a lowering of rates or a return to the old rates at other places in the state.

The revenue collections in this district during August were divided as follows: Liquors, $18,036; tobacco, $47,218; cigars and cigarettes, $26,079; playing cards, $5.

At Greensboro a man named Walter Sullivan was charged with giving saws to a prisoner in jail there. He denied the charge and finally the prisoner admitted that his own son, 14 years of age, had sent the saws, concealed in a canteloupe.

Three men, of local prominence, who have been on trial at Smithfield charged with burning their store in order to get the insurance on the stock, have all been acquitted. The insurance companies have declined to pay the insurance and have been sued.

Today's Charlotte Observer says: "The opening of the campaign under the auspices of the state association of democratic clubs at Raleigh on the 20th instant promises to be quite an event. It is to be hoped that the railroads will do what is right in the premises and that a great crowd will be present."

The Royal Knights of King David had a large parade yesterday afternoon. It was headed by the Fayetteville colored brass band, which discoursed vigorous music. While the Knights were on Newbern avenue a Wake county mule, which had never seen or heard such a band, made a break and created a good deal of excitement. However no serious damage was done.

The Greenville Reflector says that Mr. Josephus Moye, of Pitt, killed a deer with a brick. Dogs were running the deer and to escape them it jumped in a ditch close to Mr. Moye's house. There was so much water in the ditch the deer could not get out, and Mr. Moye struck it on the head with a brick and captured it. The deer was about half grown.

The chamber of commerce has just issued a very neat book descriptive of Raleigh and vicinity. The book was prepared by Mr. Hal. W. Ayer and is filled with a number of half-tone engravings, some of them excellent. The artistic work was done by Mr. J. W. Watts, of Atlanta, the press work by Edwards & Broughton.

Five thousand copies of the handbook of Raleigh are being distributed.

ATHLETICS.

Football at the A. & M. College.

Every college and most schools now have football teams and in the fall football certainly takes as much a hold on the mind of the average college boy, if not as much work, as his regular college duties. The A. & M. college being a new one it has not yet developed a team strong enough to cope with those of the universities but it is rapidly improving in this line every year. The A. & M. team last year was particularly successful and took the scalps of the Oak Ridge university second eleven and university of Tennessee team. The captain is a Raleigh boy, Joel Whitaker. The candidates for the team are already in training and this year he says he will do even more with his team than he did last year. Football is a manly sport and should be encouraged. The A. & M. college since its opening has been wonderfully successful and it is fitting that it should be up to the times in athletics also. The time is not far distant when the games between the A. & A. team and the university will attract much interest and as big a crowd of any other two colleges in the state.

The Weather Report.

For North Carolina: Fair. Local forecast: Saturday, fair and warm. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 86; Minimum temperature 67; rainfall 0.00.

The highest barometer reading is reported from Philadelphia, 30.12 inches. The barometer is comparatively high throughout the Atlantic states and the weather fair and warm. A large area of low pressure prevails in the west and southwest. It is lowest over Kansas. Considerable rain has fallen in the Mississippi valley, and Bismarck reports heavy rains, but little has occurred in the west generally. There are no indications of cooler weather for a day or two.

Cruelty to Animals.

The first result of the recent organization of the S. P. C. A. was made evident by the arrest of a colored man named Adkins. He was arrested some time ago for cruelty by starving and driving his mule to death. This was called to the attention of the officers by the poor beast, totally exhausted, falling on the sidewalk. The mule's driver and owner was fined $9 25, which he was unable to pay. He promised to pay it and was turned loose but as he never settled he was again arrested today. If he does not pay the fine this afternoon he will have to "work it out" on the roads. His time will be about 45 days.

Cyrene at the Academy.

This much talked of artiste was born in Puebla Nueva, Cuba, in 1870. The queen of her profession is the title given her. Blindfolded and upon a slack wire she makes change from street costume to that of the acrobat, and then replaces her street costume. It seems an incredible feat. The box sheet is at W. H. King & Co's drug store.

Sam McKee one of the two negroes who robbed Dr. John M. Worth at Ashboro, has shown where the securities amounting to $20,000 were hidden. All these have been recovered. As yet the $500 in money has not been found.

A Very Clever Play.

Willard and William Newell, the twin stars, in "The Operator" will be the attraction at the academy of music tomorrow evening. The Kansas City Times says "The scenic effects of 'The Operator' are elaborate. The chief are the representation of the steamer Tennessee and the wreck, the railroad operator's room, with its flashing signals and moving trains and engine." The box sheet is at W. H. King & Co's drug store.

The railroad commission is making most strenuous efforts to get the railroads to rescind the rule which they have made to charge no freight on less than 100 pounds. Two of the railroads write that they are entirely willing to have the rule rescinded. Many articles offered weigh much less than the amount taken as a minimum.

ALMOST A SUICIDE.

The Girl Was Saved Just in Time.

Miss Esther Crabtree, aged about 17, a daughter of Mr. Ocho Crabtree, whose home is on North Salisbury street, near Firwood avenue, took laudanum yesterday with suicidal intent. She was found unconscious in Devereux's meadow. Medical attention was given quickly and her life was saved. She had before taking the poison written a note to her mother, stating that she intended to take her life. In a number of states there is a law punishing attempts at suicide. Miss Crabtree is doing well today, though quite weak.

Railway Commission News.

The railway commission has addressed the following to Col. A. B. Andrews, vice-president Southern railway: "Since the consolidation of all the lines leased or owned by the late R. and D. R. R. Co. under one system known as the Southern R. R. Co. there can be no good reason why the standard freight tariff should not be enforced upon the Western N. C. R. R. Hence the commission has issued the following circular, No. 4: 'On and after October 1, 1894, all exceptions to the standard freight tariff heretofore granted to the Western N. C. R. R. from Salisbury to Paint Rock are hereby repealed and the standard tariff applied thereto.' If you desire to except to the same the commission will hear your exception on the 12th instant."

The Oldest Woman in the State.

Mrs. Sarah Carswell of Burke county is now 105 years old. She was a daughter of David Moses, who fought with the patriots at the battle of King's Mountain and carried water to the wounded in his hat. She recollects very distinctly hearing her father tell about the battle and the great victory won there by the mountain men. Her mind is still clear and she has a wonderful fund of history. Mrs. Carswell has not walked for twelve years, and for six years has not laid down in bed, but spends her time in her chair or sitting on the side of her bed. She has lost her eyesight, but hears and talks distinctly, has a good appetite and seems well and strong.

Resolutions of Respect.

The Independent cornet band, of which Mr. Jere. N. Hall was an honored member, adopted the following:

Whereas, An all-wise Providence has afflicted our community by deprived us of the helpful presence and services of a devoted member of our band, Jere. N. Hall; and

Whereas, Among the multitude of kindly deeds that marked his beautiful life none shine with brighter lustre than those identified with the band, always ready, willing and anxious to do what was best for this organization, in testimony of which fact therefore be it

Resolved 1st. That we, the members of the Independent cornet band, in full meeting assembled, hereby express our sorrow over the separation enforced by his untimely death; and that in his departure our band has lost an earnest worker, good musician and faithful member; but has gained a noble example of one who has left behind the glorious testimony that he has gained a happy entrance into the life beyond, and is now a member of the heavenly band. While bowing in humble submission to the will of the Heavenly Father, we hereby record our gratitude to "Him who doeth all things well." We would say to the bereft that as he cannot come to them, they can go to him.

2nd. That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our minutes, given the city payers for publication and a copy sent the family of the deceased. C. B. Hart, George McCallers, J. W. Cooper, committee.

The following are the registrars of election in this city: First ward, L. B. Phillips; second, B. F. Womble; third, J. Y. MacRae; fourth, T. D. Watson; fifth, D. G. Conn; outside east, Charles A. Baugh; outside west, W. E. Ashley.
