HINTS TO BUSINESS MEN!

Good advertising consists in the selection of a few strong, quick sell specialties, to stand as the representatives of your stock in price, pattern and quality. No tradesman need lack for a specialty. Let specialties sell staples always and try to take rank among your competitors as one who is the quickest to recognize a good thing and the first to sell it.

Invite patrons to come and see you. The great advertisers of the country never cease reminding the people of their names, location and nature of business. Advertising is an investment and newspaper advertising columns are a boon to man. They help him out of his troubles and into the smiles of prosperity. The Pennsylvania railroad advertises exclusively in the newspapers. There is not a great business that has been built in the past twenty years without the aid of newspapers.

This is too bustling and competition is too great for the merchant to allow himself any longer the luxury of waiting supinely behind his counter for trade. He must show in advance of the purchase just what he has to sell and how he intends to sell it, and a persistent publication of his wares is the means by which such showing can be made.

Frank Siddall, the Philadelphia soap man, says: "I have confined my advertising entirely to newspapers. The man who does not read a newspaper does not use soap."

The annual encampment of the grand army of republic at Pittsburg is the event of this week.

According to recent statistics there are about 2,000 women practicing medicine on the continent of North America.

The sultan of Turkey has decided to rebuild the system of conduits constructed by Solomon to supply Jerusalem with water.

Since June 1 about 40,000 French-Canadians have left New England for their old homes in the farming districts of the province of Quebec.

A well known free trader has prepared a balance sheet showing that the new tariff will save consumers of woolen goods the neat sum of $163,534,000.

There is a well-founded rumor at Washington that Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, the pretty widowed daughter of Gen. Grant, and Maj. Henry Kyd Douglas, formerly of Stonewall Jackson's staff, and now adjutant general of Maryland, are shortly to be married.

The deepest mining shaft in the world has reached the copper lode in the Tamarack mine, in Michigan. The mine is in itself a wonder, and the stupendous machinery on the surface, the awesome depths of its shafts, the richness of its lode and the size of its dividends render it a most interesting property. It is three-quarters of a mile in depth.

One of the great London gas companies reduced its price 2c. last March, making the price 68c. a thousand feet, and the increased business since that date has been 5 3/4 per cent. This company has nearly 30,000 gas stoves on hire and also supplies penny slot machines to 20,000 customers. Its profits are larger than ever before, dividends exceeding 13 per cent.

A private telegram from Shanghai seems to confirm the report that negotiations for an armistice between China and Japan are in progress. In official circles it is not believed that the armistice refers to anything more than negotiations between the generals commanding the opposing armies in Korea. The opposing armies of China and Japan in Korea are now separated only by the Yalu river, which is at present impassable, owing to the annual floods, but it normally an easily fordable stream.

The brotherhood of locomotive firemen met in national convention at Harrisburg today. It is one of the most prosperous labor organizations in the world, and for the reason that it minds its own business and sensibly avoids quarrels either within or without its numerous fold.

The advance in the rates for money in the principal business centers is a good sign. It means an increase in the demand, and this stands for a trade expansion. Money is still plentiful, though, and it will not be high enough this year or next to retard the business improvement.

Eleven members of the New Orleans city council, including its president, have been indicted for corruption in office. The showing of their offenses is a most disgraceful one, and it is to be hoped that the public sentiment which has secured their exposure will also be able to secure their conviction and proper punishment.

The St. Louis union railway station recently opened for traffic is in some respects the greatest station in this country. There are thirty tracks and the building is used as a terminal by twenty-three railroad corporations. The cost, including the land and furnishings, was in round numbers $5,000,000.

At Memphis last Saturday a great mass meeting was held to condemn the work of the mob which lynched six negroes. It was attended by several hundred business and professional men and negroes. The floor of the merchants exchange could not hold the crowd, and many failed to gain admittance. Resolutions condemning the lynching were passed, and a subscription was started for funds to assist in the work of running down the assassins and aiding the families of the dead men. The committee has raised $10,000, and it has power to set aside part of the fund for the purpose of assisting the officers in their work, and the remainder will go to the twenty-four orphans. Strong speeches were made by editors, lawyers and business men. Nine men charged with complicity in this horrible crime are under arrest and are charged with murder.

STOLE TO BUY DIAMONDS.

A Pretty Little Postmistress Robbed Uncle Sam.

WAMPEN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Daisy Majors, the 16-year-old postmistress here, has embezzled about $1,500 in 14 months she has filled the office. Daisy is the daughter of Frank Majors, of the general merchandise firm of Brady & Majors, in whose store the postoffice is located. Her downfall is to love of fine dresses and jewelry. She is a petite brunette, the belle of the village, and has always been envied by the other girls on account of her captivating ways. The envy was increased some months ago when Daisy blossomed out in new and costly gowns that were not bought in the home dry goods store, but were purchased at New Castle or elsewhere. Later she added diamond jewelry to her adornments and then the tongue of scandal wagged faster than ever. The talk finally reached the ears of the girl's parents and they began a quiet investigation of the postoffice accounts, which soon revealed her girl-like, poorly concealed peculations. A postoffice inspector was sent for and he has concluded his examination, which show that the girl has embezzled about $1,500.

Family doctor—Well, let me congratulate you. Patient (very excitedly)—Am I going to recover? Doctor—No, not exactly, but—well, after long consultation we find that your disease is entirely new, and if the autopsy should prove the fact, we have decided to name it after you.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs.
