MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

Work is soon to commence on the street car line to the depot.

The rains are of great benefit to all the crops save cotton and they have not injured this.

The convict road force is now building a bridge across Pigeon House branch north of the city.

Chairman Holton of the republican state committee is at the Yarbore. The committee meets this evening.

The local cotton receipts have fallen off considerably during the last two days on account of the weather.

The owners of the Raleigh cotton mill will put in 5,000 more spindles during the water or early next spring.

The concert given at Peace institute last evening by the musical faculty was excellent in all its features. The rainy weather reduced the attendance.

The name of the Asheville insurance company the solvency of which is questioned and which was referred to yesterday is the "North Carolina State Fire."

The usual daily runaway occurred on North Blount street this morning. No damage was done. The country horses have not all become educated to the street cars yet.

Special attention is called to Mr. Charles C. McDonald's statement of special features of the Raleigh branch of the Knoxville building and loan association.

The fall term of St. Mary's school begins tomorrow. Rev. Dr. Smedes says the outlook is excellent for a large attendance. Several members of the faculty arrived today.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, of Lenoir, Caswell county, was choked to death a day or two ago by a piece of beef which had been given it.

The death of Dr. Pat. Booth, of Oxford, last week, was due to a spider bite. A girl here who was bitten by a spider a year ago yet has the same symptoms as those which immediately followed the bite.

Mayor Badger had two cases to try this morning. Both were drunks. An old offender was fined $5 and costs, while a young man had just started on the "road to destruction" was given 12 hours in the station-house.

Belle Boyd lectured at Metropolitan hall last evening. The weather was so bad that the attendance was small. The lecture was well delivered and extremely interesting. It was full of exciting war experiences.

A girl here aged about 11 can read print when blindfolded. She was tested a day or two ago and two thicknesses of cotton batting and a triple folded handkerchief were placed over her eyes. Then a book, opened at random, was given her. She read easily until she came to a long word which she could not pronounce but she gave all the letters of this word.

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Some Notes About their State Convention Tomorrow.

The state convention of democratic clubs tomorrow is expected to attract so many people that Metropolitan hall, the academy of music and the superior court room have been secured as places for the speakers. Arrangements are also being made to secure the use of the grounds of the Centennial graded school as a speaking-place. Most of the speakers leave Washington tonight and reach here on the "Atlanta special" early tomorrow morning. Some of the speakers will arrive via Greensboro, on the Southern railway's train, a little later. Others will come up from the south, among these being governor-elect Oates of Alabama. This evening president Carr and the state executive committee of the clubs will have a meeting at which the program will be arranged.

The following gentlemen left this afternoon for Trinity college: Rev. J. N. Cole, Rev. Dr. Cunningham and R. T. Gray Esq.

RESISTED ARREST.

Jim Bryant and George Savage Attack Officer Jones

This afternoon about 3 o'clock the police received word that George Savage and James Bryant were creating a disturbance in a house of ill reputation in east Raleigh. Policeman Jones responded and going to the house tried to persuade them to be quiet. They refused and became so boisterous that he arrested both and started in with his prisoners. After they had gone some distance both suddenly attacked the officer with stones. He fought gamely and, although wounded by a blow on the head, knocked Savage down. Bryant then fled and officer Jones brought Savage to town. The officer received a bad cut on the head and Savage is much the worse for wear. Bryant is still at large and is now being sought for by the police.

COPPER COFFINS.

86-Year-Old Twins Here Preparing for Death.

Mr. Hector McLean, of Harnett county, and his twin brother were here today on a curious mission. They are the oldest twins in the state and are devoted to each other. Both are gentlemen of the "old school." Hector today had on a richly embroidered vest which he has had for 42 years.

Although the brothers are in good health they naturally think a good deal about death and determined some time ago to be interred in metal caskets. Being economical, they hated to think of squandering money on their burial. A friend of theirs, who has been employed as a copper worker, told them if they would purchase the copper he could have a couple of caskets made for them much cheaper than they could be obtained from an undertaker. It was this that brought them here and they purchased the copper today. They expect the caskets to be ready in a short time. The Messrs. McLean are well known and respected citizens of Hamlet. Their many friends hope they will have no need for their caskets for many years to come.

Progressive Euchre.

A progressive euchre party was given last evening by Miss Jennie Pescend to a small party of friends and was most enjoyable. The first prize was won by Mr. E. S. Battle and the "booby" by Mr. W. W. Rollards. Those present were Misses Annie Morell, Mary Pescend, Bessie Mordeai, Anna Stronach, Lizzie Crow, Ella Burwell, Lilly Hicks, Annie Busbee, Rena Burwell and Etta McVea; Messrs. Palmer Jerman, Sam. Hinsdale, Robt. Gray, Ed. Battle, Will. Stronach, Howard Haywood, Robert Burwell, Watkins Rollards, Alex. Stronach, Alf. Williams and Dr. J. M. Ayer.

It Will Draw A Crowd.

One of the novelties of the season is M. B. Leavitt's spectacular pantomime, "Spider and Fly," at the academy of music Friday. All the costumes were made by a London costumer, and were imported at a cost of thousands of dollars. It is impossible to touch upon the many features of the performance. Suffice it to say that they have been most highly spoken of in other cities, and that the artists have almost without exception scored big hits in the past. All the principals have been stars in other organizations, and the several specialty people are said to be leaders in their lines. The box sheet is at W. H. King & Co's., drug store.

Congressional Candidates Fight

Yesterday at Lenoir congressman W. H. Bower, democratic nominee in the 8th congressional district, and Mr. R. Z. Linney, the republican nominee, had a discussion. A special to the Charlotte Observer says that Mr. Linney, nettled by Mr. Bower quoting his strong language denouncing populists and republicans some years ago, began, in his ten minutes' rejoinder, to make a statement which Mr. Bower said was a lie. Mr. Linney cursed Mr. Bower and the latter made a pass at him but friends grasped him. Mr. Bower landed a broken blow on Mr. Linney's cheek which drew a little blood. A serious row was barely avoided.

Notice to Raleigh Democratic Club.

The president wishes a full turnout of the members of the democratic club of Raleigh at 10 a. m., tomorrow. Prominent gentlemen will be here. We are expected to escort them to the place of speaking.

W. L. WATSON, Secretary.

PERSONAL POINTS.

A OUT PROMINENT NORTH CAROLINA PEOPLE.

Here And Elsewhere in the State.

Z. V. Walser, Esq., of Lexington, arrived this afternoon.

Mr. O. W. Belin is sick at his home on East Davie street.

Mr. Harry Pool left yesterday to enter Wake Forest college.

Miss Janet Hale, of Baltimore, is here, visiting Mrs. Richard Badger.

Mrs. A. E. Jordan, who has been sick for a month, is now convalescent.

Miss Josephine Smith returned today from a trip to the western part of the state.

Mr. Fred. Kuster left today for Richmond, Va., and proposes to make that city his home.

Maj. S. M. Finger of Hickory was among today's callers at the executive department.

Mr. Marshall Wilson, of Memphis, who has been visiting his mother here, left for home today.

Congressman B. H. Bunn arrived this afternoon, as did also editor Goslen, of the Winston Republican.

Mr. John C. King and little daughter, Myrtle, are quite sick at their home on East Davie street.

Rev. Dr. Pittinger's little daughter Louise, who recently returned from Blowing Rock, is quite sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. George Kingdon and masters Harry and George Kingdon, of Charleson, S. C., are visiting Mrs. John S. Keith, on North Bloodworth street.

Mr. G. Ed. Carter, formerly with the Seaboard Air Line, is now with the Wilmington, Newbern and Norfolk railway as assistant agent at Jacksonville.

Col. Meserve, the president of Shaw university, has arrived. The next term begin October 1. Improvements of the buildings and grounds are being made.

Mr. Marsden Bellamy, supreme dictator of the Knights of honor, has returned to Wilmington from the meetings of the grand lodge of New York at Saratoga and the grand lodge of Ohio at Cleveland.

Master Norman Cordes, who was the victim of an accident in Barnes' printing house a few days ago, in which his hand was caught in a press and several fingers were broken, is improving.

Justice Walter Clark left this afternoon for Durham where he will this evening make the address on behalf of the trustees of Trinity college, turning the college over to the new president, Dr. Kilgo.

Mr. S. T. Hunicutt, of Clayton, who played right-field on the victorious Petersburg baseball team, was here this afternoon on his way home. He leaves there in a few days to enter the state university.

Mr. J. F. Scott, the well known horse trainer, formerly of Fairview farm, now of Alamance stock farm, returned today from the north where he has been with the fast horse John R. J. Gentry.

Among today's arrivals are Rev. Dr. W. S. Black, Gen. W. R. Cox, Mr. F. D. Winston of Bertie, sheriff J. G. Kennan of Duplin, Col. Wharton J. Green of Fayetteville, R. M. Oates of Charlotte, J. R. Fozell, of Randleman, M. DeWitt Stevenson of Newberne.

Today's Charlotte Observer says: "Mr. Joseph G. Brown, cashier of the Citizens' national bank of Raleigh, spent yesterday in the city. Mr. Brown has been cashier of the Citizens' for nineteen years. Few officers are as good and none better than he."

Special agent Marburg, representing the Southeastern tariff association, is here "re-rating" Raleigh fire risks. He will rate this as a "first-class" city and then see what can be done. There is a great outcry in regard to the high rates of fire insurance and Mr. Marburg's visit is at the instance of the local agents who found business slipping out of their hands.

Fine photographs are now made by Moore at about half the former price.

A DEAD LETTER LAW.

Goldsboro Druggists Stirred by Its Enforcement.

Goldsboro has been seeing lively times lately. The druggists are mad with a prominent doctor there and the doctor is mad with the sheriff of Wayne. The latter, in turn, is trying to do his duty and keep on the good side of every one. Quite a mess, and it was all brought about by the physician, who is also a druggist. In 1891 a law was passed by the legislature to the effect that nobody who was not a registered pharmacist could fill prescriptions unless supervised, and that no druggist could leave his store in charge of any one except a registered pharmacist. It also provides that not even a duly registered druggist can either fill or refill a prescription without the order of a physician. Ever since its passage the law has been practically a dead letter and few people knew of its existence. The Goldsboro doctor, who is also a druggist, knew it, however, and he saw a way to make a big business "scoop." As it happened all this gentleman's clerks were registered pharmacists. He went to the sheriff and demanded that he enforce the law. The sheriff, as the matter had been brought to his attention, was bound to comply. The matter was investigated and it was found that every drug store except that of the shrewd doctor had been violating the law. As a consequence some deserving young men were thrown out of employment and two drug stores were compelled to close.

Since then things have been waxing hot, the druggists threatening the officious doctor, and he swearing vengeance on the sheriff for telling who started the racket. At the last term of court he did have the sheriff indicted for neglect of duty but he was acquitted.

Death of Mr. Jesse Taylor.

This gentleman, one of Wake's most esteemed citizens and widely known as an excellent farmer, died at 5 o'clock this morning at his home north of Raleigh. He was 69 years and five months of age. He had for many years been a member of the First Baptist church. He was born in Nash county, and his father, Mr. Ford Taylor, represented that county for many years. Mr. Jesse Taylor has lived in Wake some forty years. He always applied himself to farming and his attractive home is well known. His funeral will be held at 10.30 tomorrow morning from his late home, and the burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

A Surprised Cyclist.

Several evenings ago two gentlemen were riding their bicycles on a certain street which was barricaded "on account of sickness." As the riders approached the barricade the foremost one turned his head to speak to his companion behind. The next instant the rider's chin was caught by a plank and he was swung off into the air, while his wheel went gayly on. No damage beyond a few bruises was done, but the gentleman says he hasn't got over his fright yet.

A Curious Freak.

In the locality known as "Adams alley" in this city is a little negro boy baby about twelve months old who is suffering from a queer deformity. The boy's feet are terribly deformed, being turned completely over so that he has to walk on the instep of his foot. On each of his feet is a large hardened spot, showing where he has been using his feet. It is said that such cases, although very rare, are curable, but his mother has never taken the trouble to even report the case to a physician.

The Next Horse Sale.

The spring and autumn sales of fine horses held here become more and more important. Capt. B. P. Williamson says that the next sale will be held October 8 and 9, and that from 75 to 100 horses will be sold. These will be the finest yet disposed of. There are many inquiries in regard to this sale. Capt. Williamson now has about sixty horses at Fairview farm.

CARPETS BELOW TARIFF RATES.

Two weeks ago we began a special Carpet sale, with prices lower than a free wool basis.

We could offer Carpets at these low prices for two reasons:

1st. Some were past patterns—patterns that could not be duplicated.

2d. We bought for quick cash, from manufacturers who needed money, all the Carpets that suited us, at prices lower than the new tariff rates.

For another week, beginning MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 17th, Carpets will be the principal item, and our customers can have the benefit of prices which are lower than the reduced tariff figures.
