MADE-ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

Mr. John Ross is building a cottage in Idlewild.

Interest appears to centre in the court house these days.

This morning the painting of the interior of the market began.

The news today that a hurricane was on its way was not very cheering.

Rev. J. M. Wood will preach at the Fayetteville street Baptist church this evening.

Daniel Frohman's fine play, "Jane," will be presented at the academy of music Oct. 5.

A check for $21.05 has been sent by the Durham Light Infantry to the soldiers' home.

There were only about ten delegates present at the county prohibition convention today.

The cotton receipts today, in spite of the cool weather, were unusually heavy and the exchange was crowded.

Dr. A. B. Hawkins left this afternoon for Philadelphia in response to a telegram from his brother, Dr. W. J. Hawkins.

The "St. Luke and Willing" circles of the King's Daughters today opened a home for incurables at No. 213 E. South street.

This morning Dr. Cobb, acting assistant physician, while riding a bicycle at the insane asylum fell and broke an arm.

Sheriff McCaul, of Caldwell, brought three convicts to the penitentiary today; sheriff Williams, of Pitt, one, and sheriff Wilcox, of Pasquotank, three.

Mrs. Hayes, city missionary, requests all parents and children having old school books to send them to her at the mission room, in order that she may start children to school who are unable to buy books.

A day or two ago a lady who lives in the southern part of the city saw in her garden something which she thought was a stick. It moved and she gave the alarm and when persons reached her they found the supposed stick was a very large highland moccasin.

It is said that the health of Dr. W. R. Wood, who not long ago resigned as superintendent of the insane asylum, is not good, and that for this reason he resigned as a director, the vacancy thus caused being filled by the appointment of R. Brown, of Weldon.

It is intimated that Dr. Cobb, of Goldsboro, who so ably filled the position of second assistant physician at the insane asylum, will be elected first assistant to succeed the late Dr. F. T. Fuller. Up to two years ago Dr. Fuller was paid $2,400 a year, but then was, at his request, paid only $1,200, on account of his failing health and his inability to do so much work as formerly.

Fun at "Our Uncle's."

A lively serap occurred this morning at the shop of the "three golden balls." Several times during the morning a man, a good deal the worse for "corn liker," called at the shop and abused the proprietors for selling a piece of property he had put in "soak." Finally he came in and applied a vile epithet to Mr. Williams who promptly knocked the gentleman down. The gore was wiped from the gentleman's nose and he was sent home to his thoughts and his wife.

Japanese War Ships on a Cruise.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News says: "It is reported that the Japanese war ships have left the Tai Yantan station. Their destination is unknown. Great anxiety is felt concerning their whereabouts."

Remarkable Weather.

On a door in the rear of Mr. W. C. Upchurch's store on East Hargett street, written in chalk by Mr. Henderson Royster, is the following: "April 26, 1898.—Snow falling at 7 o'clock a. m.; still falling at 2 p. m."

DAVID B. HILL

Nominated For Governor of New York

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 26. Special by Postal Telegraph: The state democratic convention here this afternoon nominated senator David B. Hill for governor.

A GRAB GAME.

Nelson Faucett Has Plenty of Nerve.

Nelson Faucett, colored, tried to play a bold grab game this morning. Nelson was in the back part of Nick Deboy's grocery store, on N. North street, and at a moment when he thought he was unobserved grabbed a sack of flour and scotched. He went out the back of the store, through Deboy's saloon, and thence through an alleyway to Wilmington street, where he ran into the arms of a policeman, who had run around the corner to intercept him. He was arrested and he and the sack of flour, as a dumb witness, were lodged in the station house. Faucett was drunk when he committed the theft. The trial will probably come off this afternoon.

Average October Weather.

The following data, compiled from the weather bureau records here will prove of value and interest in anticipating the more important meteorological elements for the month of October. The mean or normal temperature is 58 degrees; the warmest month was that of 1890, with an average of 60 degrees; the coldest that of 1888, with an average of 56 degrees; the highest temperature was 88 degrees, on the 5th, in 1891; the lowest 31 degrees, on the 30th and 31st, in 1893. The average date on which the first "killing" frost occurs in autumn is October 10. The average rainfall for the month is 4.37 inches. The greatest monthly precipitation was 10.23 inches, in 1887. The least was 0.53 inches, in 1892. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 4.18 inches, on the 31st, in 1887. The greatest amount of snowfall recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was a trace on the 31st, in 1887.

Two Alleged Murderers.

George Mills and Ransom Brodie, two murderers, were both in court this morning and sat side by side. Brodie looked fresh and unconcerned while the confinement Mills has undergone has told on him a good deal. He is a repulsive looking object as he sits gloomily in court and stares vacantly with his almost sightless eyes. His scraggy, unkempt hair and beard and grinning mouth give his face an idiotic and hideous look. Messrs. Perrin Busbee and William B. Snow, who recently obtained license to practice law, will start their professional career by defending Brodie.

Pulpit Sensations in New York.

Last Sunday a clergyman, named Wilson, noted for his denunciation of the police, was greatly "surprised" by the appearance of two young men who interrupted the services by walking to the pulpit and handing him two bottles of whiskey purchased, according to him, in a ginmill "owned by the wife of the superintendent of police and conducted by a grand jurymen."

Sent on to Court.

D. E. Hicks, a young white man, who was yesterday afternoon arraigned before mayor Badger, charged with altering the prices on cotton tickets, was given another hearing today. His counsel waived examination and the young man, who is from Panther Branch township, was bound over for his appearance at the present term of court.

An Able Speaker.

President Kilgo of Trinity college delivered an address at the Sunday school room of Edenton street M. E. church, before its Epworth league, day after tomorrow evening. His subject will be "Our young men." The league tenders him a reception, and it is at this he is to speak. He is a fine orator and is making a marked impression.

The Fuller Trial.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C., Sept. 25.—In the trial of E. J. Fuller for the murder of Parker at Fayetteville, the state resumed its evidence.

The defendant was put in the witness chair. He made a good impression, giving substantially the same evidence as before, except as to a rib being broken and a knot on his neck, discovered since he last trial. He has some new witnesses. Opinion seems to be largely in favor of the prisoner, and that the jury will acquit. It is generally thought that the state's case is not as strong as at the last trial, and the defendant's much stronger. Large crowds of ladies attend the trial and public interest is great.

The Carolina cotillion club will meet this evening at 8 p. m. in the city clerk's office. A full attendance is desired as a constitution and by-laws are to be adopted.

PERSONAL POINTS.

ABOUT PROMINENT NORTH CAROLINA PEOPLE.

Here And Elsewhere in the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Hawkins left today for Ridgeway.

Mr. R. L. Thompson left this morning for a short trip to Franklinton.

Mr. G. A. Rens and Mr. Henry Miller left this morning for New York.

Mr. Warren Choot, who is to construct the citizens telephone line, is at the park hotel.

Gov. Carr returns tomorrow afternoon from Concord where he is attending the fair.

Charles L. Pettigrew, Esq., formerly of this city, now of Atlanta, comes to North Carolina as a special commissioner on behalf of the exposition of 1895 at Atlanta. This state will no doubt participate.

A GREAT HURRICANE.

High Tides South From the North Carolina Coast.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The weather bureau says: The tropical hurricane has recurred near Key West. A velocity of 68 miles an hour from the southwest was reached at that station. It appears to be moving very slowly northeast; the wind having increased from 24 to 48 miles at Titusville, Fla. Hurricane winds and high tides will be experienced from the North Carolina coast southward.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 25.—A terrific gale is raging along the east and west coasts of Florida and also in the interior. Reports of injury to shipping at Key West cannot be verified, as the wires are down. Owing to the storm's slow movement it is thought the orange crop will be badly damaged. Orange men are afraid that the results to the crop will be more disastrous than were those of the great storm of October, 1893.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

For North Carolina: Showers in eastern portion, followed by rain in the whole region; northeast gales, increasing to a hurricane. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Thursday, rain, continued cool. Very high northeast winds.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 64; minimum temperature 55; rainfall 0.00.

The storm has moved northward and is now central off the coast southeast of Jacksonville, Fla. The lowest barometer is at Jacksonville, but reports from other Florida stations are missing, the wires being down. Rainfall of over five inches occurred at Jacksonville since yesterday morning, and rain was falling there at 8 a. m. today. It is also raining at Savannah and Charleston. Northeast winds prevail along the entire coast, with gales at Jacksonville, Savannah and Charleston. The storm advances rather slowly, owing to the high pressure over the north Atlantic states. The weather in the lake region and in the west is clear. Frost this morning at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. It is warmer in South Dakota and Nebraska, the temperature being about 60.

More Co-respondents.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The attorneys on behalf of Charles Glascock, in his suit for divorce against his wife naming senator Stewart as co-respondent, have asked leave to include the affidavits offered by senator Stewart as evidence of the intimacy of Mrs. Glascock with W. R. Abell and Jas. S. Cobb, mentioned in those affidavits, these two persons thus being brought into the case as additional co-respondents.

Broke Her Leg.

A young lady in Oskosh, Wisconsin, who broke her leg while dancing, has brought suit against her partner in the dance for contributory negligence. He did't brace up to her sufficiently, as it were, to counter the centrifugal force, and hence the break. There was an engagement between them which was also broken.—Wilmington Star.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Some Interesting Cases Taken Up at Today's Session.

Yesterday afternoon after the visitor had gone to press one case was disposed of, this being that of state vs Joe Graham, colored, larceny; guilty; five years on the roads.

The case of state vs Albert Blake larceny, was then taken up. All the testimony was taken yesterday afternoon and the case postponed until this morning. It appeared from the evidence that Blake, who proved an excellent character, was the victim of a malicious prosecution by a colored man named Hawkins, who keeps a stall in the market house. It seems that Blake was sent by Mr. W. H. Rogers, for whom he clerks, to buy some chickens for a customer. He testified that he purchased the chickens from Hawkins' little son, who followed Blake to Rogers' store for the money. Mr. Rogers told him to tell his father that he would pay him the money on Monday morning. In a short while the boy returned, saying his father would have the money or the chickens. He got neither, as the chickens had already been delivered. Hawkins was probably afraid that the chickens would be credited on a bill he owed Rogers. The boy testified that Mr. Blake was alone when he got the chickens, but Blake's testimony was substantiated by reliable witnesses. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The next case was state vs Charles Denson, assault by attack from ambush. The case is probably one of the most complicated that has been tried here. On the night of March 20 Mr. Hamilton T. Jones, who lives near Wake Forest, was shot from ambush, as he was walking along the railroad on his way home, and painfully hurt. From the testimony, Charles Dunston is a most accomplished liar. He has told several different tales. One was that he, with two other colored men, Willie Avery and Wiley Alston, waited for Mr. Jones two nights and that he, having been hired by Avery, who had had a dispute with Jones, did the shooting; another is that he and Wiley Alston lay in wait and Wiley did the shooting. Still another story is that he and Wiley Alston laid in wait and Wiley's courage failing, that he did the shooting.

Dunston explained his different yarns by saying that he told them "for fun" at the magistrate's trial. Mr. Jones and Wiley Alston both testified that they had had no difficulty and Alston established a good alibi. The negro, Avery, is probably one of the guilty parties as he has fled the state and had cause for anger against Mr. Jones as he had been ejected by Mr. Jones from his store, but Dunston, by the evidence, is, at least, an accessory. The state was represented by Messrs. Argo and Harris and the defendant by A. E. Johnson, Esq. Dunston was one of the prisoners who broke jail here in the spring along with Orange Page.

PROHIBITIONISTS

Held their Convention today and Made Nominations.

At noon today Wake county's prohibition convention met at Metropolitan hall. The attendance was very small, only ten delegates being present. These were Messrs. A. D. Jones, M. C. Utley, J. A. Jones, and W. F. Jones, of Middle creek; Sion Holloman, J. M. Templeton, and T. Ivey of Cary; T. W. House, Rev. A. Betts, and H. J. Dowell, of Raleigh; T. J. Woodall of Swift creek. Dr. Templeton presided and Mr. T. Ivey was secretary. The committee on platform was composed of J. A. Jones, Sion Holloman and T. J. Woodall.

The platform adopted favors the issue of all money by the government; free coinage at 16 to 1 ratio; demands the suppression of the manufacture, carrying, or the sale of alcoholic beverages; favors more economical administration of national, state and county government and reduction of salaries and fees of public officers; favors election of U. S. senators by direct vote of people; favors more liberal support of public schools and demands that prohibition candidates shall vote to appropriate all school money for this purpose only; insists that the party's candidates pledge themselves to further these reforms.

Mr. T. Ivey offered a resolution that no nominations be made this year but that prohibitionists vote for men or party who will ensure free elections and prevent fraud. The convention tabled this and then nominated the following ticket:

For the senate, T. Ivey; house, Sion Holloman, A. D. Jones and M. C. Utley; sheriff, S. F. Bailey; clerk of superior court, W. A. Taylor; register of deeds, W. F. Jones; treasurer, Willis Moring.

An executive committee was appointed composed of J. C. Smith, W. F. Smith, W. A. Taylor, A. Carter, T. W. House, A. K. Weathers, Alfred Johnson and Willis Moring.

A good many persons left here this morning on the excursion to Norfolk. It is the last excursion of the season.

NOVELTY

FOR

AUTUMN AND WINTER.

No descriptions of our New Dress Goods can make our patrons so well acquainted with them as a careful personal inspection—this we invite.

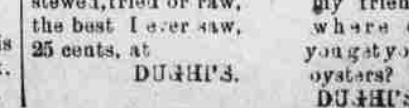

Fashion inclines towards rough shaggy effects, and the stock, accordingly, abounds in these goods; but for those of quieter tastes, who prefer the smoother weaves, we have prepared a corresponding assortment.

Among the new styles to be found in our several Dress Goods Departments, the all-wool figured Whipcord, the three-toned silk and wool mixtures, the silk and wool Persian Cheviots, with glintings of silk in Persian colorings, and the Scotch novelties. All have beautiful colors and new handsome designs.

The aggregated collection is larger than we have shown before, and more attractive, and the prices are considerably lower than in any previous year.
