THOMAS PESCU

CARPET TRADE.—We have prepared to do a great business in carpets. In fact we can show a stock of carpets that will elicit the admiration of any lady who should be so fortunate as to see them. Then we are prepared to make and put them down and guarantee a perfect fit of them. We have all kinds of carpets, Moquette, Wilton Velvets, Axminster, Ingrain and Cotton Chins.

D. T. Swindell.

SHOES WILL NOW INTEREST.—To say we have a big stock would be true, but while we have this big stock we also have good shoes. We are running now Krippendorf & Dittman's fine shoes for ladies, Bering fine shoes and some other makes for ladies. And in men's fine shoes we run L. M. Reynolds's shoes, James A. Banister's shoes and several other makes in children's shoes. None can do you more good.

D. T. Swindell.

LADIES, LADIES!—Our coats, jackets and capes are now in stock, and we have made a very nice little private room in the middle of our store to show cloaks in, and if you will honor us with your presence we will gladly show you the prettiest assortment of cloaks and capes to be seen anywhere. Very respectfully,

D. T. Swindell.

Swindell's new clothing stock is now on exhibition, and no nice stock of clothing can be seen. Men's nice square-cut suits, men's long cutaway suits, boys' suits, youths' suits and a magnificent stock of extra pants and is new and stylish. Give yourself the pleasure of seeing ours.

D. T. Swindell.

Extra bargains in furniture at Thomas & Maxwell. Bed lounges with detachable mattresses a specialty.

Fine photographs are now made by Moore at about half the former price.

LITTLE MONEY

Goes a long ways in buying GROCERIES from us, as every article is sold as low as quality will justify.

Did you notice what we said yesterday about HAMS?

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

Don't forget the great auction sale of horses October 1st.

Rev. John C. Kilgo will preach at Edenton street M. E. church Sunday.

Raleigh did not feel the storm much. There is no regret at its failure to be felt here.

As yet nothing is being done with regard to the cracked and dingy ceiling of the market.

The Carolina cotillion club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the city clerk's office.

The streams in this section are not high. There are fears of freshets in the larger rivers in the state.

It is proposed to have a philharmonic club here. Ten years ago there was a strong one. The plan is to have a fine orchestra and a large chorus.

The executive committee of the state fair meets this evening to consider the question of having fireworks there.

The cross ties and rails for the street car line on South McDowell street have been laid for one square from West Martin street.

The farmers have not as yet reported on the extent of the injury to cotton by this week's trying weather. No doubt there is considerable injury.

At the Raleigh cotton mills late yesterday afternoon, Jim Bishop, one of the laborers in the mill, was ascending a step-ladder and lost his foot-hold, fell and was very seriously hurt.

Mr. J. N. Hubbard desires that all young men who have heretofore been members of his class at the Baptist tabernacle Sunday school will meet him in the reunion of classes next Sunday morning.

A telegram from Philadelphia today says that a very dangerous operation was successfully performed upon Dr. W. J. Hawkins. His wife, his brother, Dr. A. B. Hawkins, his son, Mr. Colin Hawkins, and Dr. Hubert Haywood are with him.

Part of the county convict force is at work macadamizing the Milburnie road near Manly's bridge across Crabtree creek. The remainder of the force is on the Hillsboro road, which is being made a fine thoroughfare and is being prepared for macadamization.

The 214 cadets at the A. & M. college were today measured for their new uniforms, which are to be of Charlottesville gray. The coats are sack cut, with concealed buttons and the college initials embroidered on the collar.

E. W. Carr, Esq., attorney for the Atlantic Coast Line, is here. He says that the negro who had such a miraculous escape from being killed on that road while stealing a ride, was now perfectly well and suffering no bad effects from his terrible experience. It will be remembered that the Visitor was the first paper in the state to publish the facts of this occurrence and its account was extensively published in many North Carolina and South Carolina papers.

Weekly Cotton Report.

The receipts to date this season are 4,676 bales, against 2149 last season. The receipts for the week ending yesterday are 2217 bales, against 1416 the corresponding week last year. There are 581 bales on the cotton platform. The shipments for the week were 2183. The price of middling is 55-8 cents.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Dr. W. H. Cobb, late of the N. C. insane asylum, left for Goldsboro this afternoon.

President Kilgo, of Trinity college and Rev. Dr. E. A. Yates arrived from Durham this afternoon.

Mr. S. Otha Wilson, county chairman of the populist party, has opened headquarters in this city.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Gentleman Has a Startling Experience.

Last evening about dusk a gentleman who lives in this city, was splashing along through the mud and water on East Hargett street, about half way between South Wilmington and South Blount, when he noticed that the water was steadily getting deeper. He did not think much of it and splashed on through the darkness until he suddenly found himself standing knee deep in a whirling current of water which threatened every minute to take him off his feet. Under these circumstances the gentleman concluded that it was best to turn back and started to do so. As he turned and took his first step he suddenly found himself floundering in a rushing torrent in which he could feel no bottom and felt himself steadily carried away. He is a good swimmer. For ten minutes, probably, he battled with the raging waters until finally, as he was nearly exhausted, he struck something. It was a gate post. He was saved. This morning a placard was stuck up which read, "Danger Ahead. Mud and Water."

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast

For North Carolina: Rain today, and on the coast tonight, followed by fair, probably warmer Saturday afternoon. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Saturday fair, warmer. Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 69; minimum temperature 64; rainfall 1.21.

The storm is now central off the North Carolina coast. It has decreased in energy. The barometer has risen at all stations in the immediate vicinity of the storm. It is apparently moving slowly off to the northeast. The weather is generally clear except in the Atlantic states. An area of low barometer in the northwest is causing southerly winds and warm weather throughout the west.

Fire Insurance Re-Rating.

The special "rater" of the southeastern tariff association has re-rated all the buildings here, and has returned to Atlanta to make his report. From an agent here it is learned that he has reduced the rate on most of the risks, taking as his basis the rate fixed a few months ago and which aroused so much indignation. In some cases the rate is advanced. All are given an opportunity to improve the risks and thus lessen the rate of insurance.

Improved Road Machinery.

Prof. Holmes, state geologist, is deeply interested in road improvement and he and Mr. McMackin have arranged for a display at the state fair of all kinds of road-improving machinery. This exhibit will be made by a number of manufacturers. It will comprise everything in this line, from a shovel to a steam road-roller, scrapers, etc.

A Good Showing.

In the September Bulletin of the agricultural department commissioner Robinson says: "From personal observation we are fully assured of the fact that, as a class, the farmers of North Carolina are in better condition as to produce in store, preparation for future crops and as to cash in hand than those of any other state, with the exception possibly of Pennsylvania."

Making Trousers.

It is said that a new trousers factory is soon to be started here. The old factory, operated by Woolcott and son, has lately been enlarged. Its capacity is now from 100 to 300 pairs of trousers a day. About twenty persons are employed there at present.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Today's Cases. The Docket Steadily Diminishing.

Yesterday afternoon the jury on the case of Charles Brown, charged with attempted assault on an old white woman, 84 years old, brought in a verdict of guilty. Judgment was reserved.

At this morning's session the first case to come up was state vs. "Mingo" Upchurch, assault. The plaintiff in the case was Amanda Hall, a colored woman who lives near the "Bowery." She claimed that "Mingo" cursed her vehemently and attempted to strike her with a stick. Taking "Mingo's" testimony he was almost Chesterfieldian in his conduct on that occasion. Each charged the other with being exceedingly drunk and the evidence together with the counter arguments of Messrs. Perrin Busbee who prosecuted and Harry Ibrrie, who appeared for the defendant, made quite a complicated case. "Mingo" has served his time in the penitentiary and the character of none of the witnesses was entirely alabaster. The jury after some deliberation found the defendant guilty. Judgment was reserved.

Later in the day Upchurch was arraigned on the charge of perjury, committed in the magistrate's trial. This case was being argued at 4:30 o'clock.

The next case that came up of any interest was state vs. Osburn Brown, a colored sport, for keeping a gaming table. Osburn saw clearly that the "game" was up and, thinking discretion to be the better part of valor, plead guilty. This proved a good investment for him as judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

James Hawkins, colored, who got into a fight and split Ben Curtis' head with an axe and then perjured himself on his preliminary trial before mayor Badger, was tried on the charge of perjury and found guilty by the jury. Judgment was reserved.

State vs. Wilson Fawcett, larceny and receiving; guilty; prayer for judgment continued on payment of costs.

State vs. O. J. Pickett, forgery and false pretense; (2 cases); guilty; judgment reserved.

On motion, Mr. John Bond, Jr., was sworn in and admitted to practice in the courts of North Carolina.

"Dolly" Jones, burglary, was arraigned today and his counsel, A. B. Andrews, Jr., plead "not guilty" for him. No time has been set for the trial.

The Ralph Fisher Concert.

The first rehearsal for this grand concert was held last evening at the blind institution, despite the inclement weather. The next will be held Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the blind institution. All who are to take part are asked to be present. The music has arrived and is beautiful. This concert promises to be one of the finest ever given in this city. The best local talent participate, besides some from abroad. It will render instrumental solos, duets, trios and quartettes, also recitations, readings, impersonations, etc. The date of the concert will be given later. It is given to raise funds to help Ralph Fisher, a blind boy, in finishing his musical education. He is possessed of great talent and a musical education is one of the few means by which he would be able to support himself.

Italian Visitors.

Signor Landi and Signor Piaggio of New York are here, the guests of Mr. A. Dughi. It will be remembered that some ago Mr. Dughi went to New York for the purpose of inducing the better class of Italian grape-growers to immigrate to this state. Messrs. Landi and Piaggio come to look over the ground and report their observations. If their report is satisfactory it is said that many of the better class of fruit-growers will immigrate to North Carolina. These gentlemen this morning called at the capitol and had a chat with the governor.

"Our Young Men"

Is the subject upon which president Kilgo, of Trinity college is to speak this evening in the Sunday school rooms of Edenton street M. E. church.

W. P. Wood & Son will sell October 1st 180 head of fine horses. See their notice elsewhere.

AT THE ASYLUM.

The Insane Greatly Enjoy the Music and the Dance.

For many years the best patients of the insane asylum have looked forward with almost childish pleasure to the dances, which are given twice a week. Up to the past month or two these have been given in the sewing room, but now they are given in the beautiful dining room in the as yet unoccupied new building on the south wing. A Visitor reporter attended the dance Wednesday evening and enjoyed it greatly. To most persons, who have never seen the insane at a dance, it would appear that their behavior might be boisterous or even rude. But not so; for it would do credit to very many people of unquestioned sanity. There was excellent music, by Miss Ada C. Kelley and Messrs. W. H. King, J. A. Tucker, J. C. Davenport, D. L. Adams and W. R. Crawford, Jr., on piano, violins and cornet. The dances are "square." There were 100 of the patients in the handsome room, with about a dozen of the male and female attendants, and some ladies and gentlemen from the city. It was "men's night," and the majority were males, but over a dozen of the best female patients participated. This is a new feature of these assemblies and is found to be a great success. All were well dressed, and it was excessively difficult for an outsider to distinguish the patients from the attendants. All danced merrily, the visitors "tripping the measures" with zest. Among the patients in the room was a man who murdered his wife and two children, while in an insane frenzy. He seemed to be in good spirits, as he sat beside and talked to a man who was a merchant, but became insane from overwork recently. One man, who for three years has been a patient, was chatting gayly. He talked more last evening than he had done in three years. The cause of this was that a female patient, who is from the same county, met him at this dance and literally "drew him out." The effect upon him was distinctly beneficial. One female patient, very tall and slender, is a noted jig dancer and favored the assemblage with a fine display of her skill.

Superintendent Kirby, acting assistant physician Cobb, and Mrs. Whitaker, the matron, were all present. Friday evenings the female patients have their dances, and at these some of the best male patients participate.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

Two New Assistant Physicians Elected.

The directors of the insane asylum met yesterday to elect an assistant and second assistant physicians to succeed Dr. Fuller, deceased, and Dr. Cobb, resigned. All the board were present save Dr. Saunders, of Carteret. As first assistant the board elected Dr. Dr. J. A. Faison, of Mt. Olive. Dr. A. S. McGea-hy, of Fayetteville, was elected second assistant.

NOVELTY DRESS GOODS

FOR AUTUMN AND WINTER.

No descriptions of our New Dress Goods can make our patrons so well acquainted with them as a careful personal inspection—this we invite.

Fashion inclines towards rough shaggy effects, and the stock, accordingly, abounds in these goods; but for those of quieter tastes, who prefer the smoother weaves, we have prepared a corresponding assortment.

Among the new styles to be found in our several Dress Goods Departments, the all-wool figured Whipcord, the three-toned silk and wool mixtures, the silk and wool Persian Cheviots, with glintings of silk in Persian colorings, and the Scotch novelties. All have beautiful colors and new handsome designs.

The aggregated collection is larger than we have shown before, and more attractive, and the prices are considerably lower than in any previous year.
