The temporary stoppage of a number of the sugar trust refineries threatens to throw several thousand industrious workingmen out of employment. The true explanation of the stoppage is in the fact that the trust has overdone its business by producing much more sugar than the market could carry.

What queer people the Chinese are. The emperor gives general Teh, whose army, it is stated, slew no less than 5,000 Japanese from July 25 to the end of August, gifts consisting of a white gem peacock feather holder, a small knife, a pair of large purses and a couple of tinder boxes. Common soldiers were by no means overlooked.

ture is watching with great interest the results of experiments in Germany with Indian corn or maize in the making of leer. It is said that over half as much corn as barley is used in this country by brewers. A great brewing school in Berlin is now making experiments with Indian corn, and the official report of the authorities is looked for with interest. The reports from the department's agents indicate that the experiments are proving suceessful, and that the beer from the maize is well liked by the Germans.

The regular, old-fashioned fever and ague or chills and fever is, indeed, bad enough, but far worse to bear is that kindred disease known as chronic malaria. The old-time chills and fever would produce a distinct chill, followed by fever and sweating. when the victim would have a respite of preservative pills be handed to Li of one, two or three days in which to recuperate and regain his conrage and strength. But not so with chronic malaria. Every day-morning, noon and night-chronic malaria will plague horse, and tense its victim with miserable.

efforts this section has been making are bearing fruit already. The estimate, based on letters of inquiry received at various points, is that there are in New England and the north generally 25,000 people who contemplate moving south. The cheap living and the open winters tempt them.

Inhuman barbarity marks the course of the Chinese army. The general who offered a prize for Japanese heads is not a solitary instance of their savage depravity, Japanese heads transfixed on spears are reported to have graced the walls of Ping Yang, and the hands of five of their foes were nailed to the gates of Whangju by Chinese.

The United States department of state has been advised officially that the report of the beheading of the two Japanese students accused of being spies, and who were surrendered by Mr. T. R. Jernigan, the United States consul general at Shanghai, to whom they had appealed for protection, is untrue. The Japanese are now in Chinese custody, awaiting trial.

The New York constitutional convention has completed its list of proposed amendments. These number thirty-two, and wil be submitted at the November election, to take effect, if adopted, January 1, next. They prohibit gambling in every form, including bookmaking and pool-selling; abolish the office of coroner, require aliens to be naturalized ninety days before they can vote, prohibit public officers from taking, passes, forbid convict labor, fix state and local elections for different years, provide for non-partisan election boards, take steps to preserve state forests, extend home rule for cities, limit local debtedness, establish civil service rules, provide for a delay of at least three days in the passage of bills by the legislature, and make the speaker of the assembly next in order of succession to the lieutenant governor.

Started by "Lumber Kings."

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 .- W. J. Littlejohn of Chicago, in delivering the annual address before the fire underwriters' association of the northwest, today declared that the recent vast and fatal forest fires had been started by lumber kings. They had taken that method, he said, of covering up their stealings, and to them was directly due the death and destruction which followed.
