

OLD NORTH STATE.

Interesting News Notes From Here and There.

A drum, life and bugle corps, consisting of twenty young men, is formed in connection with Wilmington's Zeb Vance division uniform rank Knights of Pythians.

The government telegraph line between Wilmington and Southport has been purchased by Capt. J. T. Harper from senator Ransom for $500, will now be known as the Wilmington and Southport telegraph line, and will be kept in good order.

Dr. Andrew H. Harris was severely hurt last Wednesday at Wrightsville the horse he was riding falling on the turnpike at the railroad crossing. The horse fell upon Dr. Harris' right leg, and the doctor's head was cut by striking one of the iron rails. He was unconscious when picked up, the Star says.

The trial of Edward J. Fuller, which has been progressing at Rockingham, Richmond county, several days ended yesterday with a verdict of acquittal. He was charged with the murder of R. C. Parker, at Fayetteville, and was tried there last March, convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged. The case went to the supreme court, which granted a new trial. Change of venue was then made to Richmond county.

The storm Wednesday night caused much alarm among the people at Ocean View and the Hammocks. Every body deserted the beach Thursday morning, the ladies crossing the trestle to the Hammocks on hand-cars and the men following on foot. The Star says at Ocean View the tide washed over the beach, and was knee deep in several places. The piazza of Hon. D. L. Russell's cottage was blown away. A great deal of damage was done to the "shelter of the Silver Cross." The colored people's pavilion and the bath houses were blown down.

A Duel Across a Dinner Table.

HENNESSEY, Okla., Sept. 20.—Today at the house of John Patterson, a shooting scrape occurred between Geo. Goodman and Alf. Mathews. The trouble arose on a count of money matters. Both drew their revolvers and commenced shooting across the dinner table. Eleven shots were exchanged, when Goodman received a serious wound, the ball entering the abdomen, coming out near the backbone. Mathews has escaped, and officers are in pursuit.

Lover Sues for Damages.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Sept. 28.—Under promise of marriage John Robbins made many presents to Fanny Stephani. At the eleventh hour Miss Stephani backed out, and gave her love to another. Robbins then had her arrested for accepting goods under false pretenses. Squire Ford bound the woman over in the sum of $300 for a trial.

Corbett Talks About His Class.

LEWISTON, Me., Sept. 28.—Champion Corbett said yesterday regarding Fitzsimmons' challenge after his victory over Creedon Wednesday evening: "Fitzsimmons may keep on fighting middle weights until doomsday, but I will not meet him until he gets into my class. He has been challenged time and again by O'Donnell, and he has got to recognize him before I will fight him."

No Pay—No Fight.

Of the Europeans in the service of the king of Korea only one draws his pay quite regularly, viz., the electrical engineer at the palace. The king and his court are terribly afraid of ghosts, and consequently sit up at night. Only magicians and the electric light are capable of laying the spectres. Whenever the engineer's salary is not paid to the day, the electric current suddenly gives out, and does not resume its activity until all arrears have been settled.

Heartless.

Mrs. Rhoades—Think of it, Josiah. There are people heartless enough to sell their own flesh and blood.

Josiah Rhoades—How do you know, Maria?

"Maria—Why, here's an advertisement in this paper, 'Heavenly Twins,' 40cents."

Beyond the Doctor's Care.

Doctor (shaking his head)—"Well, my dear sir, I can do nothing more for you—"

Patient—"Wh-a-a-t? Good gracious, doctor!"

Doctor—"No, really my friend, you are in perfect health."—Der Schalk.

WISE WORDS FOR WOMEN

Hints That No Female Should Ever Neglect.

A LADY'S GOOD ADVICE.

A Careful Explanation of the Cause of Most of Their Trouble and What They Should Do.

"Women are great sufferers."

"Pale, sunken-eyed maidens who gaze with regret on their hollow chests, slender arms, and projecting collar bones; bloodless, haggard looking mothers, miserable sufferers from stomach troubles and distressing ailments peculiar to their sex such as the modern women," says a recent writer in the Home Doctor. "And is it not a lamentable fact," she asks, "that there are really very few women today who are hale and healthy to the core, and that this sad state of affairs is to be attributed to our fast, nervous way of living?"

"But," some one objects, "if this is so, why are men blest with greater power of endurance and better health?"

One main reason is that men pay more attention to their health. They know that sickness means not only misery but loss of time and money. Women too often allow themselves to become the slaves of weaknesses that could be easily overcome by the use of a timely remedy.

And yet there are thousands of bright, happy women who have discovered the truth of this. They are never sick or despondent, dragged out or irritable. They are always well because they have discovered that a reliable remedy taken at the right time enables them to keep healthy and strong. This is why so many women think so highly of Warner's Safe Cure, and recommend it at all times as being the best remedy that a woman can take. If it were not so Warner's Safe Cure could never have stood the test of years and received so many strong endorsements from eminent physicians. It has made friends through merit alone. It is popular everywhere because it is known to be safe and reliable.

Nothing demonstrates so clearly the value of this great medical discovery as the unsolicited testimonials of those who owe health and strength to its use. Here, for instance, is one selected from letters written by ladies which tell of the benefit they have received through taking this splendid remedy:

ORISKANY FALLS, N. Y., Feb. 27, '94. Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I cannot find words strong enough to praise Warner's Safe Cure, but as it might do some of my afflicted sisters good I will briefly state what six bottles of Safe Cure have done for me. Two years ago my right side was completely paralyzed, owing to what doctors term congestion of liver.

I could not dress myself; my right side and arm were entirely useless; my skin yellow as parchment; my extremities always cold, and so completely used up was I that doctors gave me up to die. One day a pamphlet was put in my house, and as I saw that others whose cases were somewhat similar, had been cured I determined to give Warner's Safe Cure a trial. Before I had used two bottles I could use my hand and dress myself; and after taking six bottles, using at the same time Warner's Safe Pills, I was entirely restored to health. I was able to walk and work, and am in better health now than I have been for several years.

There are many kinds of medicine in the market, but I know that when everything else failed, Warner's Safe Cure and Safe Pills saved my life and made me well. MARGARET FOSTER.

$75,000 IN THE WARDROBE.

The Old Thing Had Stood There Fifty Years.

While an old wardrobe that had stood for fifty years in the house of the late David Morrison, of No. 226 Western avenue, Allegheny, was being moved today, says a Pittsburg telegram, the bottom fell out and with it came $75,000 in bank notes and government bonds. Morrison died five years ago. His widow refused to tell her relatives anything about his affairs. They thought he had nearly $100,000, but she disclaimed all knowledge of it. The secret of the hiding-place of the money died with her last month. John Fitzsimmons, one of the four heirs, who lives at No. 1637 north Seventeenth street, West Philadelphia, settled up the affairs of the woman and began moving the furniture today. As the men were carrying the wardrobe from the garret where it had stood so long it fell to pieces.
