MILLS GUILTY.

SO SAY THE JURY WHO TRIED HIM.

Convicted of Murder in the First Degree

And Sentenced to be Hanged on the 30th of November.

It was just five minutes of 10 o'clock this morning when deputy sheriff Brooks, having received word from the constable, notified judge Bynum that the jury in the Mills case had agreed upon a verdict. Instantly a hush fell over the crowded court room and eyes were turned on the grave, faced jurymen who were slowly filing into the room from the jury box, with slow, deliberate steps. Lawyers, spectators, witnesses and Ransom Brodie, who himself had been indicted for murder, more eagerly than all, scanned the faces of the jurors to read, if possible, their verdict. And the man to whom their verdict meant more than any other man in the world seemed almost unconcerned.

On came the jury, and when they had seated themselves in the jury box the clerk asked in his deep tones, "Gentlemen, have you agreed upon your verdict? Who shall speak for you?" and back came the answer: "Mr. Lowry." "George Mills, stand up and hold up your right hand," said the clerk, and after he complied came the solemn command, "Jury, look upon the prisoner; prisoner, look upon the jury. What say you, gentlemen, is the prisoner guilty or not guilty?" Then the prisoner lest some of his composure, his repulsive mouth opened and his lips moved but no sound issued from them. His eyes moved rapidly from side to side. But suddenly the answer came from the jury, "Guilty!" Of what? asked the judge. "Murder in the first degree," answered Mr. Lowry. Mills sat down as if he had been shot and immediately subsided into his usual stolidity. Then the formal polling of the jury was gone through with and each juror arose and solemnly said: "Guilty of murder in the first degree."

Judge Bynum then thanked the jurors and told them they might prove their attendance and go home and the twelve men filed out. At 12:55 o'clock, after the remainder of the docket of 124 cases had either been disposed of or continued, judge Bynum asked solicitor Poirer if he was ready to proceed with No. 51, the Mills case. Mr. Argo hastened to his client's side and whispered to him to say nothing. Mills grinned appreciatively, and during the whole of the judge's talk and while the death sentence was being passed upon him not a sound escaped his lips or an expression of any sort crossed his repulsive features.

Judge Bynum before passing the death sentence made a few kindly remarks to the prisoner, warning him not to expect a new trial from the supreme court or to expect executive clemency. Pardon, he said, was not for him on this earth; perhaps there was before a higher tribunal, and he advised the prisoner, not as his judge but as his fellow-man, to prepare himself during the short time left him on earth for his appearance there. He then sentenced him to be hung on Friday, the 30th day of November, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. Mr. T. M. Argo, of Mills' counsel, then took an appeal to the supreme court.

Thus ends the most horrible, revolting and disgusting trial that has ever taken place in Wake county court and one, at least, of the guilty persons must now make atonement for his crime on the gallows.

Baseball Notes.

The New York and the Baltimore baseball teams are now playing a series of seven games, for the "Temple cup," and each club gets half the gate receipts. Two games have thus far been played and New York won both. The Baltimore players are in bad humor. In fact there is bad blood between these noted clubs, which stand respectively first and second in the league. Today the third game was played, at New York.

Chestnuts at Dugh's. Just received. Fresh and fine.

FIFTEEN YEARS.

Ransom Brodie is Sentenced for that Term.

This morning after the jury in the Mills case had given in their verdict, taking of testimony in the Ransom Brodie murder trial was begun. The testimony brought out the fact that Wiggins, the murdered man, had been heard to threaten to shoot Brodie. The prisoner proved a good character and the evidence was mostly in his favor. What caused his long term was the fact that the ball that caused the deceased, death entered in the back part of his shoulder. Perrin Busbee and W. B. Snow, Esqs., represented the defendant and Harry Irlie and A. B. Andrews, Esqs., the state. Messrs. Snow, Busbee and Irlie all made clear and creditable arguments and A. B. Andrews, Esq., assisted in conducting the examination for the state.

Right have a word should be said in praise of these youngest lawyers of the Raleigh bar. They have only recently obtained their licenses but their work as counsel in the several cases in which they have appeared during this term of court stamps them as "coming men" and young gentlemen who will be an honor to their profession and of whom Raleigh may well be proud.

After the conclusion of the argument judge Bynum sentenced the prisoner to 15 years in the penitentiary, the limit of the law. No one expected, severe a punishment and surprised "whews" could be heard from several parts of the room.

A University Student Died.

James A. West, of the sophomore class in the university, aged 18, died yesterday of tubercular inflammation of the bowels. A post mortem revealed over a dozen perforations. He was a manly, modest fellow, studious and talented and much beloved by his classmates. Before dying he called his father and mother to his side and said he regretted to leave life before completing his education. He then bade them a most touching farewell and said he was ready for God's summons. Brief services were held in the university chapel yesterday and the remains were escorted to the station by the entire university. His parents, who have been with him for some time, and his aunt, Mrs. Green, and also president Winston accompanied him to Wilmington, where he was buried today.

POISON IN A WELL.

It is Thought to Have Caused Some Sickness.

Night before last three persons who drank water from a well near the entrance of Brookside park were made violently ill. There was suspicion of the well water. This deepened into certainty yesterday morning when two persons who drank the well water became very sick. The symptoms were those of poisoning. Yesterday afternoon sanitary officer Sale closed the well. Dr. McKee sent some of the water to the state chemist for an immediate analysis.

Apples are scarce in this section, but readers are assured that they will be plentiful in Raleigh the next week or two, at least. There came today a bill of lading for a car load, (180 bbls) of apples consigned to D. T. Johnson. These apples come direct from the orchards, and will be sold soon. Watch for his local notices next week.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mr. J. H. Alford left today to attend a meeting of the international typographical union at Louisville, Ky.

Senator Jarvis is sick at Rutherfordton. He was to have spoken there yesterday, but his sudden illness prevented.

Rev. J. L. Foster and wife left today for Haverhill, Mass., to attend the American convention of the Christian church.

The Circus is on The Way.

The bills of Walter L. Main's circus adorn the walls. The date of its appearance here is October 17. The Sandusky, Ohio, Chief says: There were high expectations of the appearance of Walter L. Main's grandest and best circus and they were fully realized in every particular. The performance was equal to if not better than ever seen here before, the Barnum shows not excepted.

POLITICAL TRADE.

Republicans believe in protection and duty. The Democrats believe in free trade and William Wilson. Populists believe in North Carolina and plenty of offices. Mugwumps believe in not much of anything but themselves, and we believe in them all. We believe in protection from cold, a suit of clothes and an overcoat from D. T. Swindell's, no duty on. We believe in plenty of money so you can spend it where you please. We believe in plenty of offices, so all can have one. We believe also in North Carolina for the reason that many of the inhabitants are patronizing D. T. Swindell's store. Maybe we are selfish in these matters, but a man who don't look out for and mind his own business is apt to get lost in the shuffle. We are selling protections at $6 apiece, in the shape of a fall overcoat that is worth $10, really. Another protection we are selling is in carpets. We protect you in the safe-keeping of about one third of the price, as we think it our duty to do so. Another protection we are dispensing is in dress goods, for our duty is to give you dress goods with the duty off so you can get a nice dress and a nice, stylish hat for about the same amount of money that the dress alone would cost you when high tariff ran the concern. So, if you are free to trade where you please, remember these facts and act in accordance to your good judgment. If you run an account and belong to some one, then you need to read the emancipation proclamation and see where you stand.

Very respectfully,
D. T. SWINDELL.
