Cotton receipts were quite heavy today.

Miss Nella Grimes left today on a visit to Baltimore.

A convict from Gates arrived at the penitentiary today.

Capt. John Eady is here visiting Mr. N. L. Brown on Hillsboro street.

It is said that Mr. C. T. Bailey, Jr., will soon enter the bonds of matrimony.

Watch for J. Hal Bobbitt's big "ad" tomorrow. He will say something about soap.

The statement that Mr. Maer, lately the manager of the Park hotel, would keep a boarding house was incorrect.

The mother of Frank Debnam, colored, formerly superintendent of colored deaf and dumb institution, died here this morning.

The Raleigh delegates to St. Andrews convention now in session at Washington, D. C. are Mr. Charles M. Busbee and Rev. A. B. Hunter. Bishop Cheshire, is in attendance.

The long idle steam roller is at last at work. Hillsboro street is being thoroughly packed in anticipation of fair week. The improvement is already very noticeable.

The state chemist has made an analysis of the water from the well at Brookside park, which it was thought was poisoned, and found no traces of poison. The water is very pure.

Gov. Carr honored a requisition made by Gov. Tillman of S. C. for a man named Wimbish who is in jail at Charlotte. Today the governor was informed that Wimbish is a Georgia convict, entered to life imprisonment.

Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. J. S. Lancaster of Louisburg and Miss Mary Morriss of Raleigh, at Richmond, Va., Oct. 17th. Mr. Lancaster is a prominent merchant of Louisburg. The Visitor hopes the couple may have a joyful life journey together.

Mills Sautler, colored, was tried before mayor Badger this morning for wife beating. His weeping spouse was there to testify against him. He was sent to the roads for thirty days. There is some doubt as to Sautler's sanity and an examination will be made.

There will be a very important meeting of the junior order U. A. M. this evening at 7 o'clock at the hall in the academy of music. Every member is urged to be present, as legislation is to be enacted which will materially effect this council. It is hoped members will take notice and be promptly on hand.

Last Tuesday night burglars attempted enter the store of Mr. Wiley W. Cooper, on Halifax street, but they were frightened away by the howling and barking of a dog which was in the store. Mr. Cooper appeared on the scene with his gun and shot at the would-be thief. The latter said to him "You had better try it again." The burglar left a chisel and this may form important evidence.

The revenue collections in this district for September, which were $75,759, no less than $75,818 was on tobacco in all shapes. This shows that remarkably little tax was paid on whiskey or brandy. The amount of revenue collections during the first nine months of this year was $28,000 larger than for the same period in 1893.

The Roanoke river is rising rapidly and if it rises 25 or 30 feet may sweep away 200 acres of corn on the penitentiary farm known as the "Halifax" farm. When this corn was planted it was known that it was within the danger line, but the risk was taken and thus far it is all right. There are perhaps 1,500 acres of corn on the bottom land. The fodder has been pulled, but the corn is not ripe.

President Garfield's youngest son, who graduated from Williams in 1893, is now coaching Williams' football eleven.

TO MAKE CAR WHEELS

Next Week the New Plant Here Will be at Work.

Yesterday afternoon a reporter was at the new car wheel works of the North Carolina car company, and there met Mr. Robert G. Tolmie, who is a member of the great firm of Lobbell & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware. Mr. Tolmie had just arrived. He said he was greatly pleased with the location of the new works; that their equipment is the finest south of the Potomac; that in a year still further improvements and extensions will be made, and that it is quite possible that another building as large as the present one will be erected by that time. The plant here contains the best results of the Lobbells' experience gained during 50 years. The standard wheel will be made just the same as at Wilmington, and the enterprise is no experiment. As Mr. Tolmie says in his earnest way: "We hope to win wherever we go. We expect to compete actively for business and to get it from the Potomac to New Orleans, particularly in the southeastern states. We can turn out 40 wheels daily and the plant is so built that it can turn out 100." He said further that by the end of next week work will begin, and the first finished wheels will be shown at the State fair. This enterprise here is very important. There are car wheel works in only two states south of this, Georgia and Atlanta. Mr. Tolmie said: "Two experts from the Lobbell works will be here in a day or two. They will train your local people to do the work. We will employ of home labor from 20 to 40 men. The men who will be here from Wilmington will be simply instructors."

Mr. William J. Andrews of this city, son of Col. A. B. Andrews, holds an important position in the works and he explained the process of wheel manufacture. The building is 85 by 160 feet in size and about 30 feet high. At the west end is the cupola furnace in which the iron will be melted. This has a capacity of 125,000 pounds daily. The molten metal passes into ladles, and these run along on a trolley so they can be tipped into the peculiar molds which lie on the floor. These are of sand and iron, so made that the iron comes against the iron which runs into the mould and forms the face of the wheel. This contact of cold iron and hot iron produces what is caused a "chill" on the face of the wheel, which makes that part harder. After the wheels have been poured a few minutes they are taken out and put into wheel pits, of which there are 12, each holding a dozen wheels. A cover is placed over each pit and the wheels slowly cool for three days. Then they are finished. The test of the wheels is made by dropping a weight of 140 pounds on each from a height of 12 feet, giving a 1,640 pound blow. The wheel patterns are of mahogany. Each wheel will be lettered "Lobbell's Car Wheel, Raleigh, N. C."

COURSE OF TRUE LOVE

Mr. Trollinger Finds it Exceedingly Rocky.

Some time ago the Visitor reported an accident that occurred to a Mr. Trollinger, of Burlington, who was thrown from his buggy near Morrisville and quite badly hurt. He was on his way to see his sweetheart, Miss Cors Markham, who lives about seven miles from Morrisville. Although badly used up he continued his journey on foot. As predicted, a marriage was soon arranged for and the day set was last Tuesday. Mr. Trollinger accordingly started from Burlington bright and early Monday morning for the home of his prospective father-in-law. Remembering his mishap near Morrisville, he concluded to go by way of Chapel Hill and everything went well until he came to New Hope creek. The heavy rains had changed this usually placid stream into a raging river and to cross in his buggy was an impossibility. The thought that his sweetheart might think him purposely late worried him so much that he hired a negro to swim the creek and carry news of the accident. Even this, however, did not satisfy the impatient lover, so after putting up his horse Mr. Trollinger put his clothes on a log and himself entered the water and swam across. A walk of six miles through the mud brought him a very wet lover to his destination. The delayed marriage took place Wednesday. Mr. Trollinger has certainly proved the ardor of his love and the happy couple will probably "live happily ever after."

THE STATE FAIR.

THE WORK OF ARRANGING FOR EXHIBITS FAIRLY BEGUN.

Many Horses on the Grounds Preparing For the Races.

A Visitor reporter visited the fair grounds this morning and looked the ground over thoroughly. From the earnest manner in which work has begun in preparing for exhibits it can safely be promised that this year's fair will be the best in many years. A large force of workmen was this morning busily engaged in the east wing, putting up booths, etc. Among the firms that are having exhibit spaces fitted up are W. H. & R. S. Tucker, who have a pretty pavilion and a large booth already erected; Julius Lewis & Co., H. F. Smith and J. S. Carr. Col. Carr's exhibit will be one of the largest and most attractive in the east wing.

The central portion of the building will be devoted for the most part to vegetable products and is being tastefully decorated with evergreens. The western wing will be devoted to manufacturing exhibits and to poultry. The poultry exhibit will be the largest in several years. It will all be under cover; 54 coops will contain it.

The races this year will be exceptionally fine. There will be trotting races for 3 year olds, 3 minute class, 2:40 class, 2:35 class, 2:30 class, 2:25 class and a big free-for-all trot. There will also be half mile running heats for North Carolina 2-year-olds, half mile heats for 2-year-olds, open, and a one mile dash. Several horse owners already have horses on the grounds, exercising them on the track daily.

The horses now on the grounds and their owners are as follows: Aretus, Jr., thoroughbred, by Aretus, age 7 years; owned by J. A. Kelly, Henderson; Happy C., by Argyle out of John Happy mare, age 2 years; owned by major Tucker's estate; Morton W., breeding unknown, aged 2 years; owned by Will Black; Robert Burdette, by C. T. Clay, 2:18; out of Pansy by Pancoast, 2:21. Burdette is a magnificent animal and is owned by Mr. Black; young Magenta, by Argyle, owned by major Tucker's estate; Cock Robin, by Franklin Chief out of Ruby, age 5 years, owned by J. C. Harris; Miss Charlotte, by Pamlico, 4 years old, owned by Will Black; Lily Medium, by Robert Medium, 4 years old, owned by C. L. Woodall; Kitty Hawk, by Brown Baron, 3 years old, owned by Cross & Linehan, and Woodford K., 2 years old stallion by Pamlico out of Fidget, owned by Mr. H. T. Knott, of Oxford.

A JEALOUS HUSBAND

Attacks Jim McNeil, Colored, at Fayetteville.

The colored people of Fayetteville are much excited over a scandal. James McNeil and Tom Smith are two highly respected colored men of that place. McNeil is the town undertaker. Last Wednesday night Smith was out late and entered his house cautiously. He had for some been suspicious that McNeil was visiting his home too intimately. He found his wife and McNeil in the house and in a fit of rage jumped on McNeil and gave him numerous blows on the head with an axe handle. McNeil's skull is said to have been cracked and he may not recover. McNeil says there was nothing improper in his relations with Smith's wife.

The receipts for the season to date are 7,336 bales, against 6,080 bales at this time last season. The receipts for the week are 1,318 bales, against 2,121 last season. Number of bales on the platform, 570. Shipments for the week were 1,545. Price of strict middling 5-1-2 cents.

Had Thirteen Railroad Passes.

BURLINGTON, Ill., October 11.—John Slaughter, colored, on being searched for concealed weapons, was found to possess thirteen annual passes, on thirteen different railroads, in the name of C. M. Putnam, president of the Texas, Louisiana and Eastern railway. He was held without bail.

FEMALE FOOTBALLISTS.

They are Meeting the Men in a New Field of Effort.

For many years football has been most popular at the large northern universities and, in fact, at almost every male college and preparatory school throughout the country, but it is only recently that it has crept into the female seminaries. Such, however, is the case, Vassar and the Harvard annex both have fine teams and will struggle for supremacy on Thanksgiving day. A very select young ladies school near Baltimore has this year a well trained team, and has cleaned up everything in or near Baltimore and it is rumored that the university will give up its time-honored Thanksgiving contest with the athletic young ladies. Other things being equal, betting would be in favor of the university, but the gallantry of the tar heel boys is proverbial and their friends fear that quality may cause them to "throw up" the game to the fair ball-tossers. It may be of local interest to note that one of Raleigh's fairest young ladies is seeking intellectual and perhaps, physical culture at this institution.

"A Night at the Circus."

"A Night at the Circus" this season is said to surpass all other farce comedies in novelty, briskness and fun; and in reality it is the Barium of all farce comedies. Many alterations have been made in its business and text and an almost entirely new cast of comedians, singers, dancers and pretty girls have been secured by jolly Nellie McHenry for its interpretation. It will be seen at the academy of music Monday evening.

The finest attraction of the season is jolly Nellie McHenry Monday evening at the academy of music.

There will be a meeting of the Epworth literary circle at Edenton Street M. E. church Bible class room this evening at 7:30.

Hattie—Charlie, what in the world made you so quiet all at once?
Charlie—You don't know, do you?
Hattie—I can guess; you had that old aching tooth taken out.
Charlie—No you don't. I just went to the North Side Drug store and inserted ten cents in Birdsong's toothache remedy.

Bad—Sis, what makes you laugh so?
Sis—The "elvet cream" I bought at the North Side Drug store makes my hands so soft and smooth.
