MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

The cotton receipts was unusually light this morning.

The revenue collections in this district during October were $90,607.95.

There was quite a heavy frost this morning but not enough to constitute a "killing frost."

There seems to be a feeling of relief among the politicians that the struggle is almost over.

The clerks in the revenue department will leave for home tomorrow in order to vote Tuesday.

The chrysanthemums in the grounds of the executive mansion are among the handsomest in the city.

The "Ministering" circle of the King's daughters will hold the annual chrysanthemum show Nov. 8 and 9.

As the time draws near for the tax-books to close the sheriff's office officials are kept busy getting in the shekels.

Sportsman who went out yesterday report that birds are more plentiful than has been the case in years.

A large force of workmen has been busy for several days replacing the old, rotten telephone poles with new ones.

There will be a meeting of the Epworth literary circle in the Bible class room of Ed-nton St. M. E. church at 7.30 this evening.

The jury which was summoned for the third week of the present term of court has been dismissed by judge Bynum as no jury cases will be tried next week.

While clerk Thompson is away no business requiring the services of the court clerk can be transacted, as the law is that no one, not even the chief clerk, can act as his substitute.

Cards are out to the marriage of Mr. J. Bryan Grimes to Miss Mary Octavia Laughinghouse, both of Pitt county. The date of the event is November 14.

Raleigh's young lawyers were well represented at today's session of superior court. Messrs. W. B. Snow, Victor Boyden and W. W. Vass all made arguments.

The leaf tobacco business here continues to "boom." Prices are good, it is strange that with cotton "away down" Wake county farmers do not pay more attention to raising tobacco.

The yard of the governor's mansion now presents a beautiful appearance. The stand of grass is splendid and as soon as the maples attain their growth it will be one of the prettiest spots in the state.

The university glee club, organization well known throughout the state, will this year be accompanied by a mandolin and banjo club. The entertainments will thus give more variety and will be greatly improved by ten additions.

The remains of Mr. James Benson, the freshman student at the A. & M. college who died early yesterday morning, were yesterday afternoon placed in a vault in the city cemetery. The faculty and the cadet battalion were the escort and Rev. J. N. Cole performed the ceremony.

Something should be done in the matter of again opening the market house. The improvements have all been completed and it now rests with the committee of the board of aldermen to pass on them. It is a great inconvenience and is a loss to the city of several hundred dollars a month.

Political schemes are something wonderful. One energetic "beeler" it is said called on mayor Badger the other day and requested that all the Washington democrats who were coming here to vote should be excluded by quarantine from Raleigh on account of the recent small-pox scare there.

The Seaboard Air Line is building a large steel bridge across the Pee Dee river. The Pencoyd bridge company, of Pennsylvania, is doing the work. There are two spans of the bridge; one 800, the other 400 feet in length. The same company will build two other bridges between the Pee Dee and Monroee; over Richardson's creek and Lane's creek.

A gentleman who has just returned from Chapel Hill says that that pretty little village is building up quite rapidly. Old students will remember the beautiful grove on the Pittsboro road in the rear of the old "Aakew place." Here four handsome residences are being erected by Dr. London, formerly of Raleigh, Dr. Headon, Mr. Giles and Mr. McCauley. A handsome new hotel is also being erected by Mr. Bunn Patterson.

Turner & Wynne received today another lot of those delicious Hams, Strips and Shoulders. Prices re-

OBSERVATIONS.

The board of aldermen meets this evening.

Attention is called to houses for rent by Wynne & Ellington.

The Raleigh Baptist association convened at 4 p. m. today.

Considerable numbers of wheels are being turned out at the car-wheel works.

The framework of two residences is going up on Hillstoro street near the capital.

The street force is doing some grading on East Jones and North Person streets near the governor's mansion.

Railway travel will be rather light during the next few days and so will be the cotton receipts. The election causes the falling off.

Several Raleigh people aver that they saw the much talked of bear last night. From all accounts the "critter" must be a grizzly.

Several of the state papers speak in a very complimentary way of the manner in which Dughi has filled orders during the past few days, particularly at Winston and Henderson.

Mr. Thomas S. Stevenson has been awarded the contract for furnishing and putting in place the heating and plumbing outfit at the large new hotel at Southern Pines, now nearly completed. The hotel is to be completed January and a well known Florida hotel-keeper will be in charge.

Dr. Kiigo, president of Trinity college will always be gladly welcomed in Raleigh. In the few days he was here this fall he aroused more favorable comment than any man who has visited Raleigh in years. Every one who heard him preach or lecture expressed the opinion that he was a great, forceful and eloquent speaker and the academy of music will doubtless be poked when he appears there next Sunday.

It is said that several efforts made to secure a meeting of the market house committee have failed. The matters to be specially considered were the steel ceiling of the market and the acceptance of the work done by contractor Bivens. It is to be regretted that the ceiling has not been put up and the market again opened. The delay has been annoying both to the marketmen and the public.

Football Notes.

The university football team is now on a trip through the north. Wednesday it played Lehigh, yesterday it met Rutgers at New Brunswick, N. J., and tomorrow it will meet the strong Georgetown eleven at Washington, D. C. For some reason the account of the Rutgers game seems to have been omitted from the press dispatches.

This afternoon the A. and M. college football team leaves for Durham where it plays Trinity tomorrow, not here, as stated in a yesterday's evening paper. Trinity's victory is conceded but the college boys hope to make a good stand.

Railway News.

It is said that a plan is on foot to build a railroad from Manassas to Ridgeway and from Hamlet to Cheraw, giving another great southern route. It is said that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad is back of this big movement. The right of way of what used to be known as the Virginia and Carolina railroad, from Petersburg to Ridgeway, will form part of the new line. A great deal of this Virginia and Carolina railway was graded 20 years ago.

Health Report.

The health report for the month of October has been made out. During the month there were 23 deaths eleven white and twelve colored. Of these four were over seventy years of age and two under five years. There were 21 births; ten white and eleven colored. Three cases of typhoid fever were reported and two of scarlet fever.

A Big Social Event.

The next social event of the season will be the "At Home" of Col. and Mrs. Julian S. Carr at Durham on November 8. It will be one of the most magnificent entertainments ever given in the state and will be in honor of Miss Carr and her visitors, Miss Sneering, Miss Doyle, Miss Grace Alice Doyle and Miss Templer. Many Raleigh people will doubtless attend.

Old "Hoss" Sale.

Mention was made yesterday of the fact that there would be on the 17th of November the annual sale of unclaimed express packages. These sales always attract a big crowd and cause much amusement. If any one will take the trouble to look at the list of packages offered for sale it will be seen that some "good things" are offered.

Send for ice cream for Sunday tomorrow. Dughi does not take orders on Sunday.

Mr. James McRae, a son of Judge McRae, who made such a good record as a football player on the A. & M. college team last season, is now at Sewanee university playing quarterback on the team of that institution.

REV. DR. CARRADINE.

The Revival at at Central M. E. Church

Still continues and with interest increasing at each service. Dr. Carradine's sermon last evening on "Jacob's wrestle with God" was among the best, if not the very best, he has yet preached. There was power in it, the vast congregation hearing with breathless interest from start to finish. Penitents were called for and a number came. The altar and front seats were filled. There were quite a number of professions amid shouts and glad hosannas of joy.

There was a large attendance at the service this morning. Dr. Carradine preached from Gal. 2:20 a most impressive searching sermon. Services this evening at 7:30 and persons had better go early if they wish a seat anywhere in the building. Dr. Carradine will be here for a week yet.

THE ROADS.

The Hillsboro Road will be a Fine Thoroughfare.

Road supervisor McMackin said today that next Monday he would put the entire road force at work on the Hillsboro road. For some days some of the forces has been at work grading the hill between the Tucker farm and the fair grounds. It will require three months time to complete the road and during that period the convicts will be quartered in one of the buildings of the fair grounds which the state agricultural society has placed at Mr. McMackin's disposal.

The wagons will haul a good deal of stone from the quarry to the asylum road, which is to be put in perfect shape.

The work on the Milburne road was completed today. A great deal has been done there.

Handling a Dangerous Wire.

When a wire is seen to fall and emit sparks any person can secure another to assist, and then run to a nearby store for a ball of twine. Both can then walk along the street, one on each side, a long way from the wire, each holding an end of a piece of twine drawn between them. When they bring the twine against the wire so as to make it bear on the wire as high as they can reach from the ground, they can meet and one take both ends and draw the wire to one side and tie it fast to a shutter hinge or other point. If it seems best to make the string hold the wire more firmly, they can pass each other and go around the wire again, so as to wind the string about it, and so make it possible to pull it aside. This can be done without either person getting within 40 feet of the wire.

Musical this Evening.

The "Willing" circle of the King's Daughters will give a musical this evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Yarbors house. Much good talent will be represented. There will be no charge for admission but voluntary subscriptions will be received in a "mite box." Go and help out the ladies.

EPWORTH CHAPEL.

Will be Dedicated Next Sunday Afternoon.

Rev. Dr. Kiigo, president of Trinity college, is expected to preach in the academy of music next Sunday at 3 p. m. the dedicatory sermon of Epworth chapel, the neat little church erected by the Methodists of this city at the northern terminus of Halifax street.

Many people wondered for a long time why it was that Raleigh churches neglected that section of the city, which contains so large and intelligent a population, while they were planting missions and building chapels and churches in other less promising places. So when it was announced that the Methodists had purchased a lot at the northwest corner of Peace institute, under the "big white oak," and proposed to build a church there, every one who remarked upon it said "that's the place for a church." And they are right, for near there are nearly or quite a thousand people within the corporate limits who are nearly a mile from any of the city churches, besides the people at Pilot mills who are still more remote from them. To prove that no mistake has been made in the selection of the place it need only be said that since the chapel was occupied on the first Sunday in July its church membership has run up from nothing to sixty, while a Sunday school has been materialized which can boast of an average attendance of between 45 and 50, and new scholars are being enrolled every Sabbath. The outlook is good for a strong church and a most excellent Sunday school there. Indeed the more that is thought about it the more thoroughly are the people convinced that it is the most eligible point around the city for the location of the church.

Dr. Cunningham, the presiding elder of the Raleigh district, has been the leading spirit in this new enterprise, aided by a board of trustees consisting of Messrs. W. J. Young, Jesse A. Jones, W. H. Hughes, Joseph G. Brown and R. E. Lumsden.

Rev. R. H. Whitaker, the pastor of the Raleigh city mission, has had the work in hand and has left nothing undone to bring the very best results out of the praiseworthy efforts which the Methodists have thus been making to establish this new field of work. The place when dedicated and turned over formally to the church will be worth $1,200. Not only the Methodists but all the good people of Raleigh have cause to rejoice over this good work. Let everybody go and hear Dr. Kiigo at the academy of music next Sunday at 3 p. m. and they will not regret it.
