THE STAGE.

The old stage, the past is gone, driven out by the march of improvements. The live horse has been supplanted by the iron horse, the picturesque driver by the jolly engineer. Notwithstanding this fact there are thousands of people still anxious to go "on the stage." Why, oh why, don't somebody write a new farce comedy for the stage, one that won't be a rehash of all the ones that have gone before, one that has't been sung to death, or a new dance that has never been danced before? Why don't somebody in this dry and generation that has run realism to death, this time when real snow, real rain, real horses, real cars, real water tanks, real pile-drivers and real pugilists are on the stage, why don't somebody write a new Hamlet and use real ham? Speaking of stages, there are several stages used in getting to the front in business. First, the experimental stage; second, the stage of uncertainty; third, the successful stage. We're already riding on the third stage, up on the front seat with the driver, permitted to crack the whip ourselves occasionally. In one short year we passed the experimental and the uncertain stages, and today there's no guess-work about our business success. What has been the means of our rapid transit? Straight work, hard work—work all the time. In one year men and women have learned to believe in us, to know that we always give value—good, big value for every nickel that goes into our money drawer—and we don't do it for one day or on any one line of goods, but we do it every day and on every line of goods we sell. We are showing some emphatic values at the furnishing counters this week, values that are crowding the wide aisles full of customers. We have already done a good winter's business in underwear and we are prepared for a good deal more. Remember, we are selling underwear—fifty cent values at 30c., sixty-five cent values for 40c.; seventy-five cent values for 50c.; ninety cent values for 60c.; dollar twenty-five values for 80c.—and the values are not fictitious; it wouldn't pay, and this stage of the game and the same good values can be found in the dress goods department; values entirely worth your time to see. And in carpets some principles hold good. This is what makes our store so popular right now in the fad of low price cotton.

Respectfully,
D. T. SWINDELL.

THE ELECTION.

The Result Unfavorable to the Democrats
Yesterday's election was a surprise to most people. The democrats are blue, while the fusionists of course are full of rejoicing. Today's Charlotte Observer says: "The result in North Carolina is in grave doubt. It is tolerably certain that we have lost the senate branch of the legislature, and much of the house appears to have gone with it—that is to say, it looks as if the fusionists will have a majority on joint ballot in the next legislature, and that we shall lose both senators. Along with the legislature, of course, go the state and judicial tickets. We seem at this time to have lost these. It will be understood, however, that we write from very incomplete returns and that for days may put a very different aspect upon matters."

In an interview today with a well-known democrat here, he said that the news was bad; that it now appeared that the democrats had elected congressmen in only three districts; Woodward in the second, Shaw in the third and Lockhart in the sixth. He said he was prepared to concede the defeat of Branch, democrat, in the first district.

A well-known fusionist said that according to his figuring the democrats had failed to carry five districts, the first, fourth, fifth, eighth and ninth. A democrat who made what he claims is a close calculation on the legislative vote says it shows a small democratic majority in the legislature. Interest in Wake county has been very great, the fusionists claiming it by very heavy majority, while the democrats denied the claim. Mr. W. C. Stronach, democratic district chairman, said that from the present outlook the county and legislative democratic ticket had been elected by a majority of from 300 to 400. In regard to the congressional contest Mr. Stronach said the result was very doubtful; "so doubtful," he said, "that I do not wish to express an opinion."

Mr. Otho Wilson, fusion chairman, was seen and said that the fusionists had carried the county ticket by 1125 majority, with five precincts yet to be heard from, and that the legislative ticket was elected by at least 1200 majority, leaving five townships yet to be heard from. He said that Stroud's majority, over Cooke for congress would be at least 3,000 and gave the following as returns of votes in various counties as made to him: Johnston, Cooke 700 majority; Franklin, Cooke 200 majority; and the following Stroud majorities: Randolph, 500, Chatham 800, Wake 1,100, Nash 800, Vance 750.

The vote on congressman in Raleigh was as follows: First ward, Cooke 364, Stroud 77; Second, Cooke 198, Stroud 344; Third, Cooke 165, Stroud 22; Fourth, Cooke 124, Stroud 288; Fifth, Cooke 384, Stroud 143; Outside east, Cooke 128, Stroud 241; Outside west, Cooke 140, Stroud 318; total, Cooke 1,503, Stroud 1,432.

Democrats who came from Durham county today were very blue. They say Settle's majority will be 2,500 over Graham.

Raleigh Musical Association.
The Raleigh musical association will meet this evening in the blind asylum chapel, after the services in the several churches. This change, as Thursday was the evening selected, was made to accommodate many members who have another engagement tomorrow evening. A full attendance is requested.

125 Miles in 104 Minutes.
A special from Harrisburg Pa., says that a special train, with general manager Provost and other Pennsylvania railroad officials, made the run from Morrisville, N. J., to Harrisburg Monday, a distance of 126 miles in 104 minutes, including several delays.

Will Play Next Saturday.
The game of football which was to have been played between Trinity and the A. and M. college has been postponed until Saturday next. The game will positively be played then at Durham.

RALEIGH'S SCHOOLS.

The Garfield Colored School is Excellently Conducted.
The Garfield school, the smaller of the two city public schools for colored children, is a splendidly conducted institution.

A Visitor reporter called there this morning and was struck with the discipline and order that prevailed and with the general excellence of the school work. The school needs another building badly, although an addition has already been made.

As at the Washington school, colored children, both male and female, are admitted and there are now 325 children enrolled. This number will be greatly increased during the spring term. The ages of the students run from 5 to 17 years. Besides the principal, C. N. Hunter, and his assistant, Mrs. A. P. Martin, there are three teachers, Miss Nichols, Miss Love and Miss Meary. There are now four recitation rooms, two of which open on the assembly room in which the farthest advanced students sit. The other two rooms are given up to the primary department which is so large that the day is divided, half coming to school in the morning and half in the afternoon. In this department as in the primary department at the white schools, the little students are taught to read and spell by the sound method.

The reporter saw a class of beginners, about 5 and 6 years old, recite and it is wonderful how the little ones make progress. They did fully as well as the white children and, considering the advantages they have had, their recitation was truly wonderful.

The same "system" that was started by Prof. Moses and that has placed Raleigh's public schools on such a high plane, is in vogue here. The students at the Garfield after having advanced as far as the 5th grade, according to the old system, are transferred to the larger Washington school.

CHINESE WHIPPED.

They are Thrown into a Panic by Japanese Victories.

London, Nov. 6.—A dispatch from Shanghai says the Chinese army has been thrown into a panic by the Japanese victories and is still fleeing. The Chinese troops in Manchuria are robbing the natives and committing horrible atrocities wherever they go. The Japanese, on the other hand, are treating the Chinese well and are, consequently, received with open arms by the natives, who are furnishing them with supplies of various kinds. Viceroy Li Hung Chang has been ordered to Peking. Prince Kung announces that China cannot withstand the Japanese; that she is whipped, and calls on the nations of the world to intervene and arrange for peace. China withdraws all claim to Corea and offers to pay Japan an indemnity. She will do anything to stop the war.

The fact is that Peking, the great capital of China, would have been captured in a few days. The Japanese have seized the important strategic port of Kichow, near New Chang, and on a railroad leading in one direction towards Tien-Tsin and in other toward the Manchurian capital, Mounden. The latter is thus threatened from two sides, as the Japanese forces which crossed the Yalu river from Korea are advancing rapidly from the southwest upon the doomed capital, and another force has gone northward from Kin Chow to join them. The distance from Kin Chow to Tien-Tsin is only about two hundred miles and the roads are best in China. Tsin is well fortified but the Japs would have taken it and the way to Peking would be open to them.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas R. Jernigan will be extremely pleased to learn that his course of action at Shanghai as consul general has been so just and acceptable that he has received congratulations from the Chinese government for it, and that he has also been specially complimented in a dispatch from United States minister Denby to the department of state. Mr. Jernigan is making a fine record at a critical and trying time.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Yard Engine Runs Over and Terribly Mangles Mr. D. Jones at the Johnson Street Station.

Mr. D. Jones, a flagman on the Raleigh and Augusta railroad, was horribly mangled and almost instantly killed by a yard engine at Johnson street station this morning. The accident occurred just below the crossing and was simply a terrible mistake; no one being to blame.

The unfortunate young man was preparing to go on his run and had started across the track to his shanty with a bucket of water. A shifting engine was rapidly approaching and Mr. Jones stepped directly in front of it. The engineer saw him and reversed his engine but it was impossible to avert the catastrophe, the two drivers passing over the body before the engine could be stopped. A crowd quickly gathered and soon extricated Mr. Jones from beneath the engine. The wheels had passed over his abdomen and after a gasp or so the ill-fated man died. So horribly mangled was he that his body was entirely severed. Mr. Jones was a popular man and much sympathy is expressed for his father and brother, both of whom live here. He was about 25 year old and was married. The remains will be taken to New Hill this afternoon where the burial will take place tomorrow.
