SHOT HER DOWN. A Fierce Quarrel Between a Woman and a Man She Calls Husband.

A policeman at New York yesterday was standing between Grand and Broome streets when a man and a woman, quarteling, attracted his attention. As they passed him the man seemed to be trying to persuade the woman to turn back. A moment later he heard the report of a pistol. He turned in time to see the woman sink to the sidewalk as the man fired a second shot at her, point blank. The assassin sent a third bullet into the neck of his fainting victim.

When the policeman seized him the man fought like a mania:, and managed to fire the pistol a fourth time before a smart blow from the policeman's club sent it spinning to the side-

Between her gasps the woman said her name was Anna Firoe, and that she was 23 years old. Her assailant was Michael Coppezuto. She said he was her husband and that they came from Boston. "He was angry with me because I would not consent to live in a shameful house." she explained. Copperato was committed without bail to await the result of the woman's injuries. He refused to say a word in explanation of his deed. "The woman is seriously wounded.

BROKE A PARSON'S ARM. An Athletic Colored Woman Throws :

Preacher Out of His Pulpit.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., Nov. 6 -Revival services are being held in the colored Baptist and Methodist churches, and excitement runs high. An unknown person appeared at the door of the Baptist church just as pastor Blake was closing a sermon. Dressed in woman's apparel, the stranger entered the building with a colored woman. Her first greeting was the ery, "We's all Heavenbound, hallelujah! With arms extended and face skyward, she swept up the aisle, shouting all the way. The congregation caught the infection and in a moment was in an uproar. The woman pro-

Day before yesterday at Savannah eight fires in a few hours broke out in vessels which were being loaded with cotton. Investigation shows traces of phosphorus everywhere on the burning cotton ships. A sample of cotton with a peculiar odor was examined. The sample ignited and fell. It was quickly put out and will be analyzed. In some instances the cotton ties took on a phosphorescent glow last night. It is said that some of the men who loaded the vessels and who were recently on a strike spread the phosphorus. The men deny this indignantly. The matter will be thorough ly investigated, The loss is $50,000.
