DOTS AND DASHES

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

Sparks' circus will be here the 20th. The Baptists have a plan for the purchase of Rutherford college.

Two convicts from Johnston county arrived at the penitentiary today.

Jimmie Woodley, whose leg was broken last Sunday while wrestling, is improving.

The next issue of the Wake Forest Student will contain an article by Judge Clark on the "Physical Napoleon."

A merry party went out to Mahler's vineyard last evening, where a corn shucking was held. The revelry lasted far into the small hours.

There is as yet no clue to the two young negro boys who some time ago murdered an old negro man by striking him with a brick.

Mr. W. E. Harris, a young white man, while at work at the S. A. L. blacksmith shops here yesterday lost a finger, which was crushed by a machine.

The sheriff is busy collecting taxes. He insists that tax-payers come up and settle. After December 1st costs will be charged as allowed by law.

Two old offenders fell into the clutches of the law today. They are Stokes Crump and Will Snipes, both colored. Each gets thirty days on the roads.

Some parts of Raleigh's streets are in a miserable condition. The southern end of North Blount street is particularly muddy, owing to late so-called street improvements.

Mr. Thomas H. Briggs, commissioner for the sale of the "Oakdale" lands, northeast of the city, will sell them December 10. The site is very attractive.

Sheriff Page has made application to the governor for a reward of $100 for the arrest of Charles Walton, alias "Shackfoot Charles," who is wanted for murder.

On the 20th inst. the state board of canvassers will meet here for the purpose of canvassing the election returns. The official returns have come in quite rapidly to the secretary of state.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Luta McAlister to Mr. Miles Goodwin, both of this city. The ceremony will take place at the bride's home on Hillsboro street on Wednesday afternoon.

This evening the university german club will give a dance at Chapel Hill complimentary to Miss Lida Carr and several visiting friends. Tomorrow the football team will play the team of Washington and Lee university.

Mr. Robert Royall has been elected treasurer of the Wake Forest athletic association in Mr. Daniel's place. Mr. Christian has resigned as captain of the track team, and Mr. John H. Gore is elected in his place.

The governor has appointed Mr. W. H. Humphrey a commissioner of deeds for North Carolina, resident in New York. He also appoints Mr. Silas S. Willard a commissioner of deeds for North Carolina, resident in Chicago.

Three cases were before Mayor Badger for hearing this morning. One drunk was given 12 hours in the station house, another was fined five dollars and a third, who was drunk and disorderly, was sent to the roads for thirty days.

George Mills, under sentence of death, will not be hanged on Nov. 30th, the day set for his execution, as the supreme court has not yet reached his case. This will add another sensational feature to the Wimberly trial, as Mills will be able to testify against him.

The commissioner of agriculture says that an unusually large small grain crop is being planted. Seed are high and in demand. He feels sure the area in cotton will be greatly reduced, as this is a measure of necessity. The farmers lose money on their cotton, and this fact was never so startlingly plain as at present.

Judge Victor C. Barringer, who, with his wife, arrived in Charlotte Wednesday night, has for twenty years been a member of the appellate court at Alexandria, Egypt. He has been at this country since last May, up to which time he had not been in America for ten years. His plans now embrace a six weeks' stay in North Carolina, after which he expects to go to Washington, having retired permanently from the court of Egypt, the Charlotte Observer says.

THIEVES AT WORK.

They Entered Three Stores and Got Some Plunder.

This morning about 3 a. m. Mrs. C. S. Parker, who lives with her husband in the rear part of his store on East Hargett street, was awaked by some one moving about in the store. She woke her husband, who got up and went to the rear door of the store. Outside he saw a man who was apparently watching and inside he saw another who was attempting to get in the money drawer.

"Who's that?" said Mr. Parker. The gentleman at the drawer did not answer but jumped behind the counter. Mr. Parker fired and the next instant three men dashed by him and out to the street followed by another shot from the store keeper's revolver. The thieves got nothing. They effected an entrance by a rear door.

The shooting aroused the neighbors and it was found that two other stores had been entered, Mr. J. J. Johnson's, which is kept by Mr. J. Rowan Rogers, and the store of Mr. J. W. Sanderford, a little higher up the street. At Johnson's, a combined bar and grocery, the thieves entered by prizing open the front door. They took off, besides a side of meat and some whiskey bottles, a select supply of fancy groceries. Some of the whiskey bottles, empty of course, were found in an alley this morning.

At Sanderford's store the thieves got a side of meat, a heavy silver watch and some thirty odd cents in money.

Mr. Parker says there were at least four men in the gang. The stores, which were all small groceries, were entered between two and three o'clock. The thieves are supposed to have been negroes. There is as yet no clue.

KING'S DAUGHTERS.

A Statement of Their Work in this City.

Yesterday afternoon there assembled in the Edenton street Methodist church an enthusiastic crowd, the united order of King's Daughters of the city. The meeting is an annual institution and is always interesting and instructive.

The meeting began with song and after a prayer by Rev. D. H. Tuttle came the scripture exercises conducted by the president of the order, Miss Emma McVea. The next thing on the program was the most interesting report of the mission rooms work by the year by Mrs. Hayes, superintendent of the rooms. The work has been heavy and tiresome but has been discharged with conscientious ability. During the year 886 persons applied to the mission rooms for aid. Of these 488 were aided. Over 1,500 visits to needy people were made during the year by Mrs. Hayes and her assistants. When any one applies for help his or her case is thoroughly investigated and thus intelligent aid may be given. The homes of the people are visited and by this means the masses are better reached. Over 30 homes were procured by the mission the last year. One of the features of mission room work is sending poor boys and girls to reformatories and schools. Three girls were sent this year to a reformatory and a boy sent to school to learn a trade. Five children are now waiting to be sent. What makes the work of the mission rooms remarkable is the fact that all the funds are raised by voluntary subscriptions.

After various other exercises, including the reports of circles, etc., the installation of officers was effected. Mrs. Kendrick was installed president, Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Emma McVea vice-presidents; Miss Eliza Moore secretary and Miss Mary Pesoud treasurer. After the benediction by Rev. Dr. Marshall the meeting adjourned to Mrs. McVea's, where a reception was given by the board of directors. This was a delightful affair. Miss McVea was presented with a handsome oak wood desk as a mark of esteem from the various circles. There are 17 circles in the city, each of which has a special line of work. Thus there is no clashing. The work is a great one. Let it go on.

The Reception this Evening.

The Epworth reception, of which mention has been heretofore made, will be held this evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock in the Sunday school rooms of Edenton street M. E. church. While it is complimentary to the Methodists of the city, any of their friends will be cordially welcomed, and all are invited to attend. Visitors can come and go at pleasure, as there is to be no formality about the reception, which is intended mainly for social enjoyment. A special invitation is extended to strangers in the city.

Attention, Mechanics!

Rev. J. L. Foster will preach a sermon to the junior order U. A. M. at the Christian church next Sunday at 7:30 o'clock. The members of the order are requested to meet at their hall, in the academy of music building, at 7 o'clock for the purpose of attending in a body.

Rev. G. J. Dowell, owing to some dissatisfaction growing out of the late election, has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Second Baptist church at Durham. It is said it will not be accepted.

PERSONAL POINTS.

ABOUT PROMINENT NORTH CAROLINA PEOPLE.

Here And Elsewhere in the State.

Mr. Hamp. Jones was here today. Cyrus B. Watson, Esq., of Winston, is here.

Col. A. B. Andrews has a new private car and a very handsome one it is.

Mr. James Raines, whose arm was crushed night before last, is in the Rex hospital.

Mr. T. K. Bruner has returned from the bedside of a sick brother. The latter is much better.

Mr. W. E. Christian, of the Observer, returned from a visit to Charlotte this afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hardie is critically ill at the residence of her daughter in Richmond, Va., and there is not much hope of her recovery.

OBSERVATIONS.

Durham's street railway is being torn up.

There are 17 circles of King's Daughters in this city.

The official majority of Mr. James S. Lockhart for congress in the sixth district is 440.

The agricultural department's Bulletin to be issued next week will contain the analyses of fertilizers.

Wynne & Ellington today advertise a number of houses for rent and several shares of Raleigh cotton mills stock for sale.

The attendance at the colored state fair was very large yesterday. Tuesday it was quite good. The colored schools had holiday today.

The Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer telegraphs it that the association of American agricultural colleges and experimental stations chooses president A. Q. Holliday one of the six vice-presidents. Assistant secretary Charles W. Dabney delivered an interesting address. One of the instructive addresses last night was delivered by Prof. E. Emory Prof. B. Irbly is also in attendance.

I. O. O. F.

The New Hall is Occupied by Seaton Gales and Manteo Lodges.

Last evening Seaton Gales lodge, I. O. O. F., held its first meeting in its handsome and spacious new quarters in the Pullen building. This lodge had the hall built and has fitted it up. It subtlet the hall to Manteo lodge. It will be the 29th instant. Thanksgiving day, before the hall is entirely completed. The hall is 42.61 feet in the clear, and its pitch is high. It is well lighted. The walls and ceiling are attractively papered. On the floor is a carpet, specially made, which cost $400. There are in front of the hall four property rooms, a reception room and an ante-room. The light used is gas, through Weisbach burners. The furnishings are beautiful. The stand of the noble grand is richly decorated and is flanked by handsomely curtained windows. At the four columns in the room there are divans. The seats are quarter-sawn oak opera chairs. It is no wonder that the Odd Fellows are proud of the hall. Today they moved the furniture from the old hall in the Citizens national bank building. Twenty years ago Seaton Gales and Manteo lodges fitted up the latter hall.

Thanksgiving day the members of Seaton Gales and Manteo lodges will give a reception and an oyster supper, to which all the Odd Fellows in the city are to be specially invited. There will be a large gathering and the occasion will be very pleasant indeed. There is another lodge here, this being the Capital, a comparatively new one.

Theatrical Notes.

Tomorrow evening Boyd's modern minstrels appear at Metropolitan hall. The Elmira Gazette says: "The audience was delighted with Boyd's minstrels, as they certainly gave one of the old time, happy-go-lucky minstrel shows. Their American and European specialties were simply elegant. The quartette is certainly far above the average, and the orchestra rendered some of the finest music ever heard in the opera house. James West as a female impersonator, both in dress, make-up and acting, is a finished artist in his business. Should they ever visit Elmira again they will be greeted by a full house."

Important Meeting.

The junior order of U. A. M. meets this evening at 7:30 o'clock at its hall in the academy of music. Every member is urged to be present as the question of renting a new hall will come up for consideration.

ANOTHER LOVE STORY

Miss Willie Simmons, Dangerously ill at Wake Forest, Happily Married.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock a marriage took place at Wake Forest under rather romantic circumstances. Miss Willie Simmons, a Wake Forest young lady, was recently poisoned at a golden wedding there by eating poisoned ice cream. Since then she has been seriously ill. Some weeks ago cards were sent out announcing the coming marriage between Miss Simmons and Mr. E. Y. Webb, of Shelby. When Miss Simmons was taken ill Mr. Webb hastened to her bedside. For several days she has been improving, and yesterday was announced out of danger. Mr. Webb was impatient so yesterday afternoon, in Miss Simmons' room, the ceremony was performed. Miss Simmons is still very ill and was unable to sit up during the ceremony.

Miss Simmons is very popular at Wake Forest and Mr. Webb is a rising young man in his native town. Their many friends wish them a happy married life.

County Commissioners.

A special meeting of the board of county commissioners was held today to consider the election of a county treasurer to fill the unexpired term of the late Mr. Louis O. Lougee. The time being so short to the first Monday in December and the board being satisfied that the interests of the county would not suffer, because the sheriff could pay such necessary warrants as were issued at the last meeting, resolved not to elect another treasurer.

A committee was appointed to adopt suitable resolutions expressive of the sense of the board as to the death of Mr. Lougee. These resolutions are to be presented at the next meeting.

The Colored Marshal's Ball.

Last evening Stronach's warehouse was filled with the colored elite of the city who had assembled to have a night of gaiety at the colored marshal's ball, the big social feature of the fair. The dance was largely attended and lasted until a late hour. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. W. P. & E. D. Clements. They have a new and fresh line of groceries, which they offer to the public.

CLOTHING AND CLOTHING.

Gentlemen, Men and Boys, why don't you all get clothing from Swindell's. There is no better stock of clothing to be found in this city than is found at Swindell's and the styles are the very latest and the price is the very lowest. Now do use the common sense you are possessed of and go to Swindell's for your clothing. You can do well there.
