DOTS AND DASHES

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

Yesterday and this morning there were exceedingly heavy frosts.

The market, the market, the market. And still nothing is done.

Many of Raleigh's streets, some of them paved, are in a terrible condition.

Sheriff Page and his force make an earnest appeal to the people to settle their taxes.

Regular communication of Hiram lodge, No. 40, A. F. & A. M. this evening at 7:30.

Mrs. Goddin of Forestville, died Saturday at the home of Mr. F. P. Dunn, her son-in-law.

The Oak City laundry has a new advertisement in today's issue. It will be to your advantage to read it.

It was said on the streets today that the populist-republican dart will have a big tar-barrel celebration here Wednesday night.

Brick for the new roller flouring mills has arrived. As soon as the lumber arrives building will be commenced.

Another pugilist killed. It is strange that every pugilist that is killed comes to his death while indulging in a friendly sparring bout.

Frank Johnson, a colored man from New Light township, who has been languishing in jail for moonshining, was released on bail today. His bond was $200.

The street cars are now all fitted with new controllers and most of them have the new heaters. These improvements add greatly to the comfort of the passengers.

The revival which is being conducted by Rev. Mr. Adams, of Reidsville, has been productive of much interest. There have been seven converts and a number of "backsliders" have been brought back.

The weather men certainly have grit. For nearly a week they have bravely asserted that a cold wave was coming the next day. In spite of the warm weather the wave is going to come. Keep prophesying.

Rev. O. L. Stringfield yesterday filled the pulpit of Rev. Dr. J. W. Carter at the first Baptist church. He gave a very interesting lecture on the Baptist female seminary and aroused much enthusiasm.

A good sized crowd of colored people, who have been attending the colored fair, left for their home today. This was the day on which the fair tickets expired and it was this fact that caused the wholesale exodus.

Health officer Sale, who is busy getting up his report for November which comes out the first of December, says the health of the city is remarkably good. There are two cases of scarlet fever.

The trial of the three men who are suspected of being the parties who robbed the stores in east Raleigh was to have come off today. The suspects, however, realize the seriousness of their case and wish to employ counsel, so the case was not tried.

Boyd's modern minstrels played in Metropolitan hall Saturday evening to a fair audience. The show on the whole was a disappointment. Three features, however, the contortionist, the trapeze performer and the Primrose quartette, were good.

There is a great deal of interest manifested in Richmond about the U. N. C.—U. Va., Thanksgiving day game of football there. Yesterday's Dispatch had a long write-up of the two teams. As far as form goes Virginia should win, but the University boys have good hopes of winning the game.

Rev. J. F. Cole preached an excellent sermon yesterday morning on "Sanctification." Mr. Cole took the ground that the nearer one approached "sanctification" the more imperfection one saw in himself. He also said that the "profession of 'sanctification'" was the best evidence that one was not sanctified.

THEY ARE OLD HANDS.

The Three Men Arrested Here Implicated in Other Places.

Cleero Burton, of Wilson, Jack Carlyle, of Weldon, and William Garner, of Roanoke, the three colored tramps who are under arrest here on suspicion of having committed the robberies in East Raleigh Thursday night, seem to be old hands at the business.

The sheriff's people, who are always "up to snuff," had heard of robberies that had been perpetrated at Garysburg and Seaboard, in this state. They suspected that the gentlemen who are under arrest here were the same parties who had been disturbing the peace at these places. A telegram was accordingly sent asking the Garysburg officials to send a description of the men wanted and whether they wished to prosecute. The telegram, which came today, had a perfect description of the three "birds" under arrest and also directed that the prisoner's shirts be examined to see if they were marked with the initials "A. E. B." Deputy Brooks and policeman Beasley made the examination and found two of the prisoners wearing garments of that description. They belonged to a gentleman at Garysburg. The pistol which the rascals pawned also belonged to the gentleman. There is hardly enough evidence to convict them of having committed the robberies here but they are "nailed" in Garysburg. They will probably be sent on tomorrow. Another feather in the cap of Raleigh's detective force.

DEATH AT THE HOME.

Two old Veterans have Fought their Last Fight.

There are two less old soldiers at the soldiers home than there were three days ago. Two of the old veterans have fought their last fight.

Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock Mr. Thomas Hanks, of Tarboro, died at the home of blood poisoning. Some years ago Mr. Hanks underwent an operation at Richmond, a leg in which he was wounded during the war being amputated. He never recovered from the operation. During the war he was a member of company K, 10th regiment. He was 52 years old. His remains were yesterday taken to Oxford, his home, for interment.

On Sunday evening Mr. W. P. Covington, company H, 43 regiment, died at the home. His death was due to a general breaking down of the system brought on by old age. He was one of the oldest soldiers at the home, being at the time of his death in his 73d year. His remains were this afternoon sent to Lilesville, his old home, for burial.

Every week or so the death of some old soldier is noted. It is sad to think that the brave old soldiers who fought so bravely for their country are so surely passing away. All honor to them in life.

Thrown Over a Bridge.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 18.—The dead body of Dr. A. C. Aultz was found this morning at the bottom of Davis creek near Montgomery. The doctor had been called from his bed about 4 o'clock to attend a case about four miles from town. An examination showed that he had been struck on the head and face with a club or blunt weapon and thrown from the bridge 40 feet to the stones. It is supposed he was murdered by some one connected with the battle between non-union miners and strikers last spring, several of whom he attended and against whom he was to have given evidence. Two months ago Dr. J. W. Davis, of the same place, was murdered from ambush for the same reason.

Executive Department Notes.

The governor has refused to grant an extra term of court for Vance county.

Governor Carr has granted an exchange of courts between judge Geo. H. Brown Jr., and judge R. A. Armfield. Judge Brown will hold the fall term of Craven court, beginning December 26th and lasting two weeks. Judge Armfield will hold the fall term of Anson court, beginning November 26th and Richmond, December 3rd. Both terms will last one week.

PERSONAL POINTS.

ABOUT PROMINENT NORTH CAROLINA PEOPLE.

Here And Elsewhere in the State.

Mr. Walter Brem, of the University, is here.

Mr. Pride Thomas, of Wilmington, arrived today.

Mr. M. T. Norris arrived from Merry Oaks today.

Colonel and Mrs. Thomas M. Holt arrived this afternoon.

Dr. A. B. Hawkins and Mr. Will Bailey returned to the city this afternoon.

Mrs. Hal M. Worth, of Worthville, who has been visiting here, returned home today.

Miss Bessie Henderson, a very popular Salisbury young lady, arrived this afternoon.

Prof. McIver, of the normal industrial college, arrived from Greensboro this afternoon.

Regret is expressed that Mr. J. E. Kautner, a popular Pullman conductor, may soon be moved to a different run.

Mr. J. G. Steed, of the revenue department, who has been ill for some weeks with typho-malarial fever, is rapidly convalescing. He was able to be up for the first time today.

Mr. W. B. Snow, one of Raleigh's most promising young lawyers, was better today. Mr. Snow has been ill with typhoid fever for two weeks. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

OBSERVATIONS.

The Western Union telegraph company today moved into its handsome new office in the Pullen building.

Thanksgiving, the day for turkey, football, hunting and religious worship, is just ten days away.

At Apex tomorrow Miss Miriam C. Olive, a daughter of Mr. H. C. Olive, will wed Mr. Harry of Charlotte.

A new Baptist Sunday school was opened at Caraleigh mills yesterday with 71 members. The building is neat and attractive.

Rev. Mr. Ramsey will hold his last service at Central Methodist church this evening. There is no abatement in the interest. The pastor will continue the meetings through the week.

There are now fourteen handsome residences, that will cost $2,000 each or more, going up in the city limits. Work will commence on another tomorrow.

Mr. Piggott, a singer of note, delighted the Good Shepherd congregations yesterday by some of the best rendered solos heard here in some time.

Every time there is a blaze people can be heard saying what a splendid fire department Raleigh has. They are right. On last Saturday when the alarm rang every company in the city was on the ground within six minutes.

Orthodox church members very frequently make a mountain of a mole hill. Sanctification, the new fangled doctrine recently so widely promulgated, has been talked about more and "cussed and discussed" by church members than anything that has occurred here in years.

Two negroes engaged in a lively fight this morning on South Wilmington street. The crowd that quickly gathered was having fine sport when some one cried "oop." The two fighters quickly separated and the fun was over.

What Senator Peffer Says.

Senator Peffer attributes to President Cleveland a wild and strange ambition, nothing less than a purpose to dominate the republican party of the future. According to Mr. Peffer in the very near future the two great parties in this country will be the gold party on one hand and the silver inflationists on the other. Mr. Peffer's idea is that Mr. Cleveland is ambitious to be the Moses of Wall street, giving the inspiration for a financial policy which will have the support of the republican party and of the so-called sound money democrats.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

Forecast for North Carolina: Generally fair; decidedly colder. Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Tuesday, fair, decidedly colder.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 48; minimum temperature 44; rainfall, 0.01.

The area of low barometer which has caused cloudy and rainy weather in the Atlantic states during the past two days is now disappearing off the northeast coast.

A large area of high barometer and clear, cool weather prevails in the west. This will very probably move eastward during the next 24 hours, causing a fall of 10 to 20 degrees by Tuesday night.

The Monday Evening Club.

The Monday evening club, Raleigh's leading literary club, will meet this evening at Peace institute. The subject for discussion will be Edgar Allan Poe. Members will respond to roll call with quotations from that author.

A Dead Pugilist.

"Con." Riordan, Bob Fitzsimmons' sparring partner, who was injured Thursday night in a sparring contest with Bob Fitzsimmons, died Saturday morning. Fitzsimmons is out on $10,000 bail. He says:

"I am not fearful of my position. Everybody in the opera house was aware that the blows which I struck Riordan were light as I could possibly make them. Naturally it makes my blood run cold when I think of the condition of my friend; not because I have any fear of the results to me, but I do not want that man's death laid at my door."

He Took the Train.

Smith always knew a good thing when he saw or heard of it; and this good judgment was backed up by his taking everything in sight worth having. When he heard of the low prices, nice Christmas presents, the twenty-odd valuable prizes, etc., at the North Side drug store he sent Jones to investigate. He was so well pleased that "he took the train" and came down and engaged his next year's supply.
