DOTS AND DASHES

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

The cotton receipts were quite heavy today.

Very few country people came in today to see the circus.

John Dunston, a well known colored carpenter, died last night.

Great quantities of leaves are being removed from the capitol square.

Today dawned bright and cold, fulfilling the weather prophet's predictions.

Is there to be a roller skating rink here this season? is a question many young people are asking.

It is alleged that the fusion legislature will materially reduce the annual appropriation to the state guard.

Knock council, No. 5, Royal and Select Masters, will elect officers for the ensuing Masonic year this evening.

Regular convocation of Raleigh chapter, No. 10, Royal Arch Masons, in Masonic hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Election of officers.

The yawning hulk of the old second Presbyterian church is the dangerous and disgusting eyesore of one of Raleigh's prettiest streets.

At 3:30 this afternoon two drunken abandoned women were put in the station house, having been escorted down town by two policemen.

The "Eastern field trials" of bird dogs began at Newton yesterday. Pierre Lorillard, of New York, president of the club, is present.

At Asheville yesterday Mr. Charles E. Graham's leg was broken. His horse struck him on the leg with a foot, breaking the bone in two places.

"Sanctification" and the market house—two questions of vital interest to Raleigh people. Those who are losing money by the delay prefer the market.

There is now a great deal of travel on the different roads. The Florida special, the elegant Southern vestibule that was put on Sunday, is well patronized.

The reception by the young ladies of Christ church, announced for Wednesday in consequence of other entertainments has been postponed until Tuesday of next week.

The street car company has a force at work on North Blount street removing the switch there. This is preparatory to the new fifteen minute schedule which went into effect today.

Two juvenile football eleven, that of Morsen and Denson's school and the Good Shepherd choir boys, played a game here last Saturday. The school boys won easily by a score of 14 to 0.

George Hunter, a colored boy from House Creek township, was arrested last night and put in jail for affray. As is usual in such cases Hunter was the "under dog" in the fight, the victor making good his escape.

The A. & M. college football eleven will play the Oak Ridge team at Greensboro on Saturday next. The college boys will win easily. On Thanksgiving day they play the Wilmington eleven at Wilmington.

There is absolutely no excuse for delaying the matter of opening the market. The experts have been chosen and made an examination of the floor today. Twenty minutes should have sufficed them in which to come to a conclusion.

"What has turned up, Mr. Walters," that gentleman was asked. "Nothing except Tom Edwards," said he. That New Light character was here today in full force. He desires it distinctly understood that he is stopping at the Yarboro where his friends may see him.

Some days ago Colonel A. Q. Holladay, president of the A. & M. college, visited New York. On his way back he stepped from the train while in motion and fell. He was quite badly hurt, his shoulder blade being broken. The colonel is now at home recuperating and is getting on nicely.

FATALLY HURT.

William Smith, Colored, Caught in the Machinery and Nearly Killed at the S. A. L. Shops.

This afternoon about 2:45 o'clock William Smith, a colored man who has been employed in the S. A. L. shops, was seriously and probably fatally hurt. He had climbed a ladder to adjust a bolt on piece of machinery and while doing so his clothes were caught by the head of a large nut that was rapidly revolving. The unfortunate man was rapidly whirled through the air a number of times, his body banging against the brick wall of the building at every revolution. When he dropped to the floor, after the machinery was stopped, those who picked him up expected to find him dead. Such was not the case, however. Physicians were summoned and found that the poor man had received severe internal injuries. One of his legs was broken in three places, an arm was also broken and his side was also severely injured. The doctors declare that it is almost impossible for him to survive.

POLITICAL POINTS.

There Will be a Joint Caucus—Proposed Changes in County Government.

The remarks made by Col. Robert M. Douglas in opposition to a joint caucus of the populists and republicans had an echo in some quarters. It is intimated that this question will bear with much weight on the senatorial matter. It is intimated that Jeter C. Pritchard's friends will hardly favor a caucus, as they would prefer a straight republican caucus, hoping to concentrate the extreme element of the party in his favor and against Ewart. It is said further that western members will prefer a caucus of both populists and republicans to select senators. With a caucus of that character Marion Butler would be relieved of the responsibility of expressing a preference as between republicans. Still further it is said that as no legislation on either the county government or election law questions can be had without a joint caucus, therefore the joint caucus advocates assert that there is no good reason why a joint caucus should not be held to select senators, and perhaps, as was the case in Georgia recently, the caucus will hear from the senatorial aspirants personally.

It is said that the fusionists in repealing the county government system intend to let the people elect magistrates and commissioners and school committees; that they propose to abolish the offices of county superintendents and school boards, and to place upon the chairman of the county commissioners the duties of the school superintendent. Another new feature which is proposed is to have in each county a board of audit and finance (on the Wilmington plan), to be of the opposite political party to the commissioners, no draft on the commissioners to be valid until approved by the board of audit and finance.

The Monday Evening Club.
This excellent literary club met last evening at Peace institute. There was a full attendance and great interest was manifested in the subject for the evening, "Edgar Allan Poe."

The following members read papers: Mrs. T. H. Briggs, on "Poe's Life;" Miss Florence Slater, on "His True Character;" Mr. Roscoe Nunn, on "The Magazines of His Day;" Mr. W. A. Montgomery, on "His Place in Literature." Miss Maud Merrimon delighted the club with an excellently rendered solo and Miss Grace Bates' recitation of the "Mask of the Red Death" showed careful study and great power.

The club adjourned at a late hour, well satisfied with the evening's entertainment. The club is growing in popularity and its meetings never fail to interest.

New Advertisements.
The Rosenthal Clothing Co. is making a great reduction in the price of clothing. See notice in this issue. J. G. Ball & Co. wish to call your attention to their full line of sweet meats for Thanksgiving. It will pay you to call and see them. Attention is called to the advertisement of C. A. Sherwood & Co. They are prepared to suit and fit you, both in prices and goods.

Berwanger Bros. are making a great hit with their $15 overcoats and suits. These fit the purse and person at the same time.

New Street Car Schedule.
The street cars will, under a schedule which went into effect today, leave the capitol every quarter of an hour, beginning at 7 a. m. and continuing until 9 p. m., and then on a 20 minute schedule until 10:30 p. m. The last car will leave at 10:30 unless there is some special attraction such as theatrical performances, &c., and in such case will make the last trip after the close of the entertainment.

The line officers of the first regiment of the state guard are ordered to meet at Goldsboro December 4, to elect field officers, who are to serve four years.

PERSONAL POINTS.

ABOUT PROMINENT NORTH CAROLINA PEOPLE.

Here And Elsewhere in the State.

Mrs. Pierre Cox of Tarboro arrived today.

Mr. Otho Wilson left this afternoon for Goldsboro.

Supt. A. Leazar left for the state farm this morning.

Miss Bessie Parnell returned today from Washington, D. C.

Miss Bessie Henderson of Salisbury is visiting Mrs. Julian Timberlake.

Mr. Howard Alston, of Littleton, Halifax county, has been appointed a notary public.

Mr. John Blue, president of the Aberdeen and Rockfish railroad, arrived this morning.

Mr. John H. Winder, general superintendent of the S. A. L., and Mrs. Winder arrived today from Atlanta.

OBSERVATIONS.

Mr. Cooper, of the Y. M. C. A., has arranged for the performance of the Swedish quartette here December 4.

The governor has appointed Dr. W. P. Belt a member of the state board of health vice Dr. Bahson of Winston, resigned.

The Penny Post is the name of a new daily paper, published at Charlotte, the initial number of which appeared yesterday.

Sportsmen report that birds around the city are already beginning to be thinned out. Towards the end of the season they will be very scarce.

Today's show is attracting less attention than any that has ever come here. The parade was witnessed by a mere handful of colored people assembled at the capitol gate. The reason is evident. The show people didn't advertise.

Saturday night at 11 o'clock a governing wheel at the electric car power house broke, and the engine "ran away." Things were quite lively for a time. Work on the engine is in progress, and a new governing wheel is ordered.

The crop of acorns this year is one of the smallest on record. The great frost and freeze late in April is said to have been the cause of the short crop. There are also few hickory nuts, walnuts or persimmons. Usually there are a great many acorns on the trees in the capitol square. This year there are none. It is also said there will be no acorns in 1895.

Quite an interesting case is being argued before the supreme court this week. The commissioners of Forsyth county put upon the tax list property of the United Brethren or Moravians, the property in question being that from which they derive an income. It is an interesting question and important. The church claims that the property is non-taxable.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

Forecast for North Carolina: Fair, warmer.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Wednesday, fair, becoming warmer towards evening.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 55; minimum temperature 34; rainfall, 0.00.

The area of high pressure which was central over Iowa yesterday morning is now central over New York. It is accompanied by fair, cold weather throughout the eastern half of the country.

Another storm center appears in the northwest, with lowest barometer at Huron. This is causing some rain and snow in that region. In the southern vicinity of the storm considerable rise in temperature has occurred.

With the eastward advance of this area of low barometer during the next 36 hours the wind will become southerly here, with rising temperature.

County Commissioners.

The board of county commissioners met today and transacted routine business. The board approved the action of the committee that settled with the late treasurer Lougee's heirs. They found everything connected with the treasurer's office in tip-top shape, as everyone know they would.

THE MARKET HOUSE.

The Experts at Work—The Opening May be Put Off for Weeks.

This morning Mr. W. J. Hicks, the expert for the city, and Mr. W. J. Ellington, the expert chosen by contractor Bivens, began their examination of the market house floor over which the squabble between the board of aldermen and Mr. Bivens arose.

It seemed as if something would really be done about the matter and an interested crowd gathered to watch the proceedings.

A Worthy Cause.

On next Tuesday evening at Metropolitan hall a musical class from the Oxford orphan asylum will appear. The entertainment is to be under the auspices of the masonic fraternity. No charge for admission will be made but the Masons expect everyone to bring a "mite" to drop in the contribution box which will be handed around.

The orphan asylum, which is one of the state's best benevolent institutions, is supported for the most part by the Masons throughout the state. The two hundred homeless children who are there must be supported. The plea in giving the entertainment is to help them to help themselves. Besides the satisfaction one may get from helping on a worthy cause everyone who attends may be confident of enjoying a fine entertainment. Help the orphans.

Six Pen. Recruits.

Yesterday afternoon the sheriff of Hyde county brought one gentleman of color to the penitentiary. He was sentenced for larceny and will stay in confinement for ten years before he regains his liberty.

This morning sheriff Wycoff, of Iredell county, brought in five convicts. Three were colored and two white. One of them, a colored man, goes in for life for burglary. Another, a white man 70 years old, gets five years for horse stealing. The other three are sentenced for short terms for petty larceny.

He Brought Down the House.

Business was improving and the boys were correspondingly jolly. Dr. Birdsong, the manager, was relating his great success to them one day and being so well pleased with the story they passed a resolution to deal with him exclusively. Every time he commented on them after that he told the same old story about the success of the North-Side "Drug store," and "brought down the house."
