MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

That market house! Why, Oh, why isn't something done?

Yesterday, at Durham, a chamber of commerce was organized.

A game of hide-and-seek—Shacklefoot Charles and the sheriff's people.

Turkeys, geese and other Thanksgiving essentials are finding a ready sale these days.

Rev. J. A. Cuninggim, D. D., will preach at Epworth chapel tomorrow at 11 o'clock.

Raleigh has a novelty in the way of a combination store; oysters, pianos, shoes, groceries and dressgoods.

Cotton receipts continue light. It is said that many farmers are holding back their cotton for higher prices.

The Durham Sun says it is rumored that "Buck" Duke has resigned as president of the American tobacco company.

See the advertisement of Mr. J. H. Ennis, proprietor of Turner's Old Reliable almanac. The name is not a misnomer.

The Oak City steam laundry is doing a large business; and for good work and prompt delivery they are excelled by none. Give them a trial.

The railings on the side of the steps to the mayor's office were painted this morning. Any number of people carelessly grabbed them and then—not printable.

General satisfaction is being given by the new 15 minute schedule under which the street cars are running. The cars are almost invariably on time to the minute.

The register for the 'Odd Fellow's oyster supper will be kept open until Monday night. Every Odd Fellow is requested to call at the office of Jones & Powell and secure a free ticket before the register is closed.

The governor has appointed Rev. L. M. Peas, of Asheville, and Dr. Richard Dillard, of Edenton, as delegates to the "Boys and Girls National Employment Association" meeting, to be held in St. Louis on December 11th.

Joe Perry, about whom so much has been said, has succeeded in getting a bondsman and has been released from jail. It is a strange fact that the man who went his bond is his brother-in-law.

Did you ever notice the commotion that prevails among the depot officials whenever an especially pretty girl turns up? Everybody, from staid Mr. Bunch down, is wreathed in bewitching smiles on such an occasion.

Rev. Dr. Pittinger, of the church of the Good Shepherd, will deliver a sermon tomorrow evening in which sanctification will be discussed. His subject will be, "the standard of christian character as set forth in the book of common prayer."

Mr. J. M. Broughton will speak to men in the parlors of Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. If you want to hear a good talk and some good soul-stirring music. Go and take a friend with you.

Four days more and the football season will be over. The University and Virginia play at Richmond on Thanksgiving day. The University boys are in fine shape and if they don't bring back a scalp they will make the dust fly.

The game of football, which was to have been played today, at Greensboro, between the A. & M. college and Oak Ridge institute, has been declared off. The Oak Ridge boys had a little woeful experience with the A. & M. team last season and this is probably the reason they don't desire to play this year.

Miss Savannah Wimberly, daughter of "Jack" Wimberly, in jail charged with the murder of his daughter, came to the city today to visit her father's counsel, T. R. Purnell, Esq. Later she visited her father at the jail and had quite a long talk with him. She can sympathize deeply as she may be dragged in as an accomplice.

When the history of Japan comes to be written, Mrs. Potter and M. Bellew will be found to have been the first exponents of Shakespeare in that country. It was during their first visit in Japan some years ago, that they played "Romeo and Juliet," "Merchant of Venice," "Hamlet" and "Macbeth," thereby introducing these plays to the Japanese.

Yesterday Mrs. William Moncure received a telegram from her sister, Mrs. Perkins, of Memphis, saying that her new residence there had been burned. Mrs. Perkins had just finished furnishing the residence which was an especially handsome one and there was no insurance. Mrs. Perkins has visited here and her many friends will regret to hear of her misfortune.

WICKED MOONSHINERS.

Four Large Illicit Still Have Recently Been Destroyed.

During the past few days four seizures of large illicit distilleries have been reported to collector Simmons. One was in Moore county, one in Guilford and two in Caswell.

Deputy S. T. Woods seized and destroyed near Andrews, in Caswell county, a 60 gallon illicit copper distillery and outfit. The supposed owner is A. A. Massey.

Deputy J. H. Shelburn seized an 80 gallon still near Locust Hill, also in Caswell, which was owned and operated by T. A. Cobb.

Deputy C. Mcbane made a big haul when he destroyed, near Lamont, Guilford county, the 150 gallon copper still and outfit which belonged to Messrs. J. M. Thom and Abraham Cobb.

Deputy W. F. Gibson reports the seizure and destruction, near Gales postoffice, Moore county, of an 80 gallon illicit still and outfit and 800 gallons of moonshine beer. Owned by Martin Britt.

THE TURKEY CAUSED

A Coroner's Inquest in Durham Yesterday

At Durham yesterday, says the Durham Globe-Herald, just before noon, Dr. N. M. Johnson, county coroner, was notified that there was a dead body on the roof of the court house, and death was supposed to be caused by a gun shot.

A jury was empanelled, and climbed the ladder to the trap door in the slate roof. After being duly sworn, they took off their shoes to slide down to where the body lay, showing to the expectant crowd below that some of them were disciples of Jerry Simpson.

The body reached, it proved to be a young female fowl of the species turkey, and the evidence adduced proved to the satisfaction of the jury that said deceased had escaped from a country wagon and taken refuge on the pinnacle of justice where it came to its death by a shot from a policeman.

The great wrong of the whole business is the practical joke practiced on the authorities in getting the fifty cent turkey off the roof at the county's expense.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

Forecast for North Carolina: Fair; cooler tonight.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Sunday fair, cooler.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 73; minimum temperature 52; rainfall, 0.20.

A small depression in barometric pressure off the North Carolina coast is causing cloudy weather over this and the states adjoining. There is also an area of low barometer central over the northern lake region. A large area of high barometer is central over Arkansas, Texas and Kansas. Throughout the west the weather is fair and moderately cold. The conditions are favorable for fair, cooler weather here on Sunday. The disturbance now existing off the North Carolina coast will probably disappear today or tonight, and the fine weather now prevailing in the west will spread eastward.

Missionary Association.

The Christian missionary association will meet in this city Dec. 4, at 7:30 p. m., in the Christian church, and will be in session about three days. Very interesting papers on missionary subjects will be read. The public is invited to attend all these meetings. Rev. Dr. Barrett, formerly of this city is president of the association.

Still They Come.

This morning the number of convicts at the penitentiary was increased by the entrance of eleven more evildoers. Sheriff Allsbrook of Halifax, brought four; deputy sheriff N. L. Wagstaff of Person, contributed three; sheriff J. B. Smith of Cumberland, swelled the list with four "birds." All went in for short terms, ranging from 1 to 5 years.

The hotel Buford, in Charlotte, has made the innovation of having female waitresses instead of the conventional black male waiters. The new system works admirably.

Mr. John Jones, of Forestville, killed three large wild turkeys a day or so ago. He came to town today to tell his friends all about it.

The Swedish Quartette.

The Palmiro American has the following to say of the Swedish Quartette, which appears here on Dec. 4th: The Garland orchestra give its third concert at the academy of music last night to an audience that filled the spacious main auditorium to overflowing. The entire program was of the popular order, and, as each number was rendered, the interest seemed to increase until the applause was so hearty and the demonstration such as is rarely bestowed on a visiting attraction. The Swedish male quartet did capital work, and stamped themselves as artists.

A Mistake Nearly Gave Him Liberty.

Edmund Lewis, colored, was arrested here late yesterday afternoon by deputy marshal T. D. Watson and lodged in jail for retailing whiskey without going through the formality of obtaining a license.

Edmund has been at work on the roads for nearly a year for the same offense for which he now languishes in jail. When he went to the roads the understanding was, that when he finished settling his account with the county, he should be returned to the sheriff to keep until the United States could have a whack at him. This, Mr. Gray, who has charge of the workhouse gang forgot so, when Lewis' time was out, he was released. For three weeks the officers searched in vain; but they get him yesterday.

Raleigh's New Electric Lighting Company.

This afternoon the stockholders of the Raleigh electric company met here. They decided to authorize an issue of first mortgage bonds to the amount of $25,000, for the purpose of enabling the company to purchase and install its electric lighting plant and to improve and enlarge its railway equipment.

The plant is to be one of the best in the south and will be able to furnish beautiful incandescent lights at a cost little, if any, more than that of gas. The metre system will be used.

The electric plant is one more step towards making Raleigh the most modern and up to date city in the state. The enterprise deserves encouragement and will get it.

Charlotte's Debut Party.

Last evening a brilliant debut party was given at Charlotte by Mr. and Mrs. Heriot Clarkson introducing four of Charlotte's most beautiful and popular young ladies. The debutantes were Miss Elizabeth Clarkson, Miss Annie Clarkson, Miss Davis and Miss Moore. The decorations and the debutante's dresses were exquisite, says the Charlotte News.

One Thousand Years Hence.

"Tell my daughter that she must not forget that dinner will be an hour earlier today. She is in Egypt."

"Yes, mum." (Telephones a phonographic signal to Pyramid Station No. 99,999.)

"I see the airship from Market street, Japan, nearing the window. Bring my husband's slippers and dressing gown."

"Yes, mum."

"Now touch the buttons A. L. R. T. V. W. and X. I think that will be all we will want for dinner. Here comes my daughter on her bi-wing flyer, just in time. Call up No. 888."

"Yes, mum."—Boston Globe.

Wednesday evening, at Charlotte, Mr. W. S. Orr, the efficient chief of police of that city, was married to Miss Lula Smith, also of Charlotte.

Borrowed Shirts from Whom?

The Greensboro Record has an amusing story of a negro man who was tried at the last term of Rockingham criminal court for stealing a shirt from a prominent physician of Reidsville.

The case was pretty plain and it looked as if the defendant was about to get in for it, so he went on the witness stand in his own behalf.

He stated that he did have the doctor's shirt on his back on the Sunday specified, but that he did not steal it—only borrowed it. "Why," said he, "when I lived in Greensboro I worked for a doctor there and every Saturday night I took his shirt and wore it on Sunday and on Monday I put it out to wash, and he never 'kicked' up no fuss about it. I didn't think my new boss would care about such a thing."

He was acquitted, but before he came from the witness-box Col. Morehead whispered to the solicitor to ask him what doctor in Greensboro he referred to and he answered promptly, but we leave our readers to guess who it was.

The country horse seems unable to become accustomed to the street cars. An animal, hitched to a wagon load of five-cent cotton, ran away today, upset the wagon and spilled both countrymen and cotton. The driver escaped with a few bruises. "Blame that jigger," was all he said gazing angrily at the receding car.

CLOTHING AND CLOTHING.

Gentlemen, Men and Boys, why don't you all get clothing from Swindell's. There is no better stock of clothing to be found in this city than is found at Swindell's and the styles are the very latest and the price is the very lowest. Now do use the common sense you are possessed of and go to Swindell's for your clothing. You can do well there.
