ROBERT L. GRAY, CITY EDITOR

RALEIGH, DEC. 12, 1894.

The sugar trust is now trying a game of bluff to protect its own interests.

The republic of Hawaii has been officially recognized by all the leading nations of the world

Every bushel of grain which left New York for Europe last year was carried under a foreign flag.

Canada has arranged in London for a loan of $12,500,000 to continue its work of canal enlargement and general improvement.

It is estimated that the syndicate which brought the recent issue of bonds will realize a profit of $2,000,- 000 in the transaction.

One of the needed currency reforms is a system of bank examination that will prevent a $354,000 by the daily falsification of accounts, as in the case of the Shoe and Leather bank of New York.

The eighteen provinces of China speak several different languages, and are loosely held together by an administrative policy at Peking which is nearing an end. The empire is evidently about to break up.

Half a dozen kinds of bullet-proof garments have been invented this year, and also an infantryman's shield, which can be combined into breast-works and a gun-rest. They will hardly cut much figure in the next war, but may suggest something new in armor for the sanguinary and bone-cracking football crews.

The low price of sugar is due in some degree to the same causes affecting wheat, cotton and other agricultural products. The European beet root crop is about 900,000 tons larger than last year, and the world's supply of raw sugar shows an increase of 927,000 tons over 1893, making the crop the largest on record.

Three million bales of cotton will go to market from Texas this year, and it is safe to predict that within a few years that state will produce all of the staple that is needed in the United States. This not only indicates the greatness of Texas, but it also emphasizes the fact that the south should raise less cotton and more corn, hay, fruit and vegetables.

The decline of the immigration to this country during the last fiscal year to 288,028, against 502,917 in 1893, is not due alone to the business depression. There are increased attractions for immigrants in South America, Africa and Australia, and the tide that has been running so strongly in this direction has been partially diverted. In addition British immigration has been falling off steadily for ten years. These facts are not unacceptable to the American people, who have looked on the foreign tidal wave of the last dozen years with no little apprehension.

Large ships can get within 140 miles of Peking, China. In winter the river is closed by ice and though the United States has a fleet of five ships in those waters, two must seek a safe winter harbor 385 miles from the Chinese capital. Americans at interior points in China are now without protection, and dependent on the good will of the native authorities for safety. The greatest danger is mob law.

The medical profession of Baltimore is deeply interested just now in an important discovery which has been made by an eminent southern physician. The Morning Herald says if the discovery proves to be what is at present indicated it will rank among the most important discoveries made by medical science and will revolutionize the treatment of the deadly diphtheria, for the discovery is claimed to be no less than a specific for that disease. From the information gained it appears that the great discovery has been made by Dr. Richard K.
Gregory, of North Carolina, a very eminent physician, who has heretofore given to the medical science some of its most important inventions and discoveries. He is a graduate of the university medical college of New York, of the class of 1860, served five years in the United States army, and during the late war was surgeon-in-chief in charge of the hospital at Charlotte.

FRIGHTENED INTO RABIES.

A Bitten Boy Died After a Few Days' Suffering.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Dec. 11.— Frightened into what seemed hydrophobia of the most acute form, 18-year-old Harry Lott, died last night.
Five weeks ago he was bitten on the finger by a pet dog. The wound was very slight and nothing was thought of it. Friday conversation drifted to the subject of hydrophobia. Young Lott became very much interested and nervous. His head went back, his limbs stiffened, and he gasped for breath. This soon passed off, and nothing more was thought of it until Saturday, when the boy had another attack of the same nature.
From this time he grew steadily worse, and medical aid was summoned.

When the doctor arrived he found the patient in a high state of excitement. His arms would straighten out and stiffen, his head go suddenly backward and he would froth at the mouth. Then he would attempt to grab his attendants by the throat, and at other times would jump into the air with such force as to strike his head against the ceiling. Nearly all of this time he was conscious, and only at intervals was unable to know what was going on. Water and liquids would cause him great pain, and, rather than take water to aid in swallowing a pill, he would chew the pill to atoms.

Sunday evening the doctor called and found him sitting in an easy chair.
After a few moments' conversation the boy said he would go up-stairs.
He started, but, after taking a few steps, was seized with a convulsion and fell backwards. After recovering he said:

"I will go, and when I start I want you to see that I do not stop." This time he was successful, and on getting upstairs went to bed, from which he soon got up, and began his wild flights around the room, with such violence that it took three men to hold him.
His cries were so loud they were heard in the street, and quite a crowd gathered in front of the house. Finally, the poor lad gave up from sheer exhaustion, and went into a comatose state, dying about midnight.

Fate of Fredrick Villiers.

Verification of the death of Fred.
Villiers, the famous war artist, is not yet received. But the fears are strong that the headless trunk of an European found on the bank of the Yalu river is none other than that of the foremost special artist of the time.
His kin-man, Lord Clarendon, declares that China shall answer for his life.

"It is a pleasure to sell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Stiekney

"Because a customer, after once using it, is almost certain to call for it when again in need of such a medicine. We sell more of it than of any other cough medicine we handle, and it always gives satisfaction." For coughs, cold and croup, it is without an equal. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt, druggist.
