RALEIGH, DEC 18, 1894

In this state during 1893-94 there were three legal executions and eight lynchings.

A Chinaman says frankly that China's defeat is due to the corruption of the officials who have stolen millions of dollars and to the fact that Japanese young men educated abroad are given positions of trust, whereas China will not pursue such a course.

The death of Robert Louis Stevenson, the well known novelist, at Apia, Samoa, attracts great attention over the world. He was a notable man in English letters and his death will be felt like a personal sorrow by millions in England and America.

President Cleveland is now shooting ducks in the South Carolina marshes near Georgetown. The New England club of Charleston has extended a cordial invitation to the presidential party to visit the city of Charleston.
His reception by the people is hearty in the extreme.

Edward Duncan, representative-elect from Washington county, Tennessee, to the legislature announced a few weeks ago he would accept no railroad pass to Nashville, but would tramp the whole way. To make good his announcement he left Johnson City about Friday morning, and expects to reach the capitol in time to be present at the first roll call. The distance he proposes to tramp is 400 miles.

Representatives of the engineers, conductors and firemen of the Southern railway are in session at Washington. They want not only uniform schedules, but new labor contracts between the company and the employees. The new contract under consideration, it is said, contemplated re-establishment of the pay rate in operation before the recent reduction, which officials are reported determined not to concede.

The Carlisle bill was yesterday reported in the house of representatives by chairman Springer. There was also a minority report. General debate began today and an early vote will be taken. The majority concur in reporting the bill to the house, but reserve the right to vote as they please.
The republican members of the committee declare the bill can not pass, and that a discussion of the state bank reform clause is useless and a waste of valuable time.

The state weather service has continued its operations very successfully during this year, as the meteorological division of the North Carolina experiment station. In an interview with the chief observer, Mr. C. F. Von Herrmann, it is learned that meteorological reports were received from seventy-three stations, comprising fifty-two voluntary stations of the state weather service and twenty-one belonging to the United States bureau.
Seven stations were established during the year and six discontinued.
New stations are needed in the central and eastern portions of the state.
The reports received from voluntary observers have been fairly accurate, and much credit is due to the gentlemen who voluntarily spend considerable time and trouble for the benefit of the state, without expectation of pecuniary recompense. The number of stations receiving weather forecasts by telegraph at the government expense from the central office at Raleigh is fifty-five. There are, besides, eleven receiving frost warnings only.
The number of stations receiving forecasts by telegraph will probably be increased to 100 during 1895.
Forecasts are distributed by mail to nearly 500 postoffices in the state.
Another system of distributing forecasts by displaymen has also been adopted.

RESOLUTIONS.

Seaton Gales Lodge, No. 64,
I. O. O. F.

WHEREAS, By the mysterious providence of God, our Heavenly Father, to which we bow with reverence, our brother Guilford L. Watson has been removed from our midst, therefore be it resolved:

1. That by the death of brother Watson Seaton Gales lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F., has been deeply bereaved, but deem it an honor that the name of such a man shall adorn the memorial roll of our lodge.

2. That we desire to give public testimony to his worth as a man. A strong, stalwart frame covered a true heart which he had long since dedicated to the service of God. He was faithful in the discharge of every duty and hence could always be relied on in whatever he undertook to do.
Of a quiet, general, manly disposition, he was loved and respected by those around him and thoroughly trusted by those whom he served.

His profession, that of a railroad engineer, required coolness nerve and good judgment, all of which characteristics were possessed in a marked degree by brother Watson. And when on the night of December 6th he was startled by beholding probable death staring him in the face he bravely stood at the post of duty, with his hand on the throttle, when, with a warning of only a few seconds the terrible crash came.

The mangled body of our brother was carried to the town of Rockingham where every possible attention was shown by the citizens of that place.
Away from his home, but quickly attended by the loving ministrations of his wife and a few faithful friends, he lingered unconscious until the end came on the morning of December 8th and the silver cord was loosed and the noble spirit of our brother returned to God who gave it. Exonerated from the slight blame for the collision by which his life was lost, brother Watson met his death in the path of duty as only a brave man meets it.

3. We tender our deepest sympathy to the family of our brother and pray that the richest blessings of the God of the "widow and fatherless" may rest upon them.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and that copies be given the city papers for publication.

Respectfully submitted,

A. M. POWELL,
G. H. GLASS,
W. S. PHIMMORSE,
Committee.

A Remarkable Family.

On a pretty little farm high up among the hills of Calhoun county, Ala., 1,000 feet above the sea, lives a most quiet family. Their name is Sadler. The family consists of a brother and four sisters, and the youngest has already turned her ninety first year.
The eldest is several years more than a century old. None of them has ever married. The Sadlers were born in the Old Dominion state. In 1831 the family moved to Alabama and Calhoun county, about fifteen miles east of Anniston. Two years later they came possessed of the property on which they now live, and there erected a log house, which domicile they have since inherited constantly. Years ago the father and mother died, the former at the age of ninety one, the latter at the age of seventy five.—

Girls, do You Recognize This Picture?

She—No, I cannot marry you.
He—But have you shown me so much regard. "Yes, I respect you very much; will be a sister to you. More I cannot be." "But you will be a sister to me?" "Yes, gladly." "Then just bring me my stick and hat and hold my overcoat for me; you might also brush it. Do not wear that horrid little apron any more. Be a very good girl and I may take you to the theatre some night next week. Here is a kiss for you in the meantime."
"What do you mean, sir?" "I am merely taking up my part of brother."

"Because a customer, after once using it, is almost certain to call for it when again in need of such a medicine. We sell more of it than any other cough medicine we handle, and it always gives satisfaction." For coughs, cold and croup, it is without an equal. For sale by J. Hal Bob-
