

EVENING VISITOR.

VOL. XXXII.

RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1894.

NO. 54.

FROM COVER TO COVER.

Of our holiday books you will not find dull page. This should be the happiest season of the year, and we are doing everything to make it so that we can. We have the best line of holiday books that we could secure. We bought them as cheap as we could and sell them too cheap for profit, but just cheap enough for enjoyment. We want to make everyone happy that we can. Everybody that wants a book should have one. This is why we have books at all prices—from — up. Come in and look around and you will surely find something you will want to take away. The price will be so small you will do it, too.

THE ETHICS OF CHRISTMAS.

Love is the underlying law of Christmas time, just as justice is, or ought to be, of all the times. Critics call the interchange of the season "The Annual Game of Swap." We give because we love, and are glad to give because we can. We can because at our store, at least, everybody can afford to buy.

TO SOLVE THE ANNUAL QUERY WHAT TO BUY WE SUBMIT THE FOLLOWING:

TAKE PITY

On Raleigh's Many Suffering Poor.

From all over the country come reports of bitter cold weather and of the terrible suffering of the nation's poor in consequence. Bleak Nebraska is especially unfortunate; the cities throughout the land today are taking steps towards alleviating to some extent the suffering there. The Raleigh chamber of commerce will this afternoon hold a meeting looking towards Raleigh also sending her mite to that distant state. But right here in Raleigh there is great suffering. All day long a stream of the unfortunate poor, hungry, shivering and, in many cases, weeping for the poor little ones they have left at home, have come to the mission rooms of the King's Daughters asking, imploring aid. And the pity of it is that the good ladies there have nothing to give them. They have done an inestimable amount of good but their means are exhausted. Mrs. Hayes, the superintendent, says that they have no money, no clothes, no fuel, no means of helping the many who have come seeking aid, destitute. "The good people of Raleigh, and there are many of them, are earnestly asked to help, to send something to the rooms, clothing, provisions, money. Whatever is given will fall into good hands; the ladies of the mission rooms know every deserving poor person in the city. People of Raleigh, do not forget Nebraska but by all means help Raleigh's poor. The hitherto mild winter has left them entirely unprepared; many are starving, freezing, dying. Help liberally. Charity is a good investment.

A SINGULAR CASE.

There was Never one Like it Before.

It may safely be said that the case of state vs. Hall, in which the opinion of the supreme court was filed yesterday, has had no parallel. Hall, standing just on this side of the line, and killed a man just over in Tennessee. He was tried and convicted in this state. On appeal this was reversed on the ground that "in contemplation of law" Hall was in Tennessee where the killing was done. He was then arrested and held as a fugitive from justice. The judge below refused to discharge him. On appeal, the supreme court by a majority of one decided that he must be discharged because not having been in Tennessee at the time of the killing he cannot be a fugitive from justice. Justice Clark dissents (Justice MacRae joining in the dissent) on the ground that in contemplation of law Hall was in Tennessee at the time of the killing so that he cannot be tried in North Carolina; in the same contemplation of law he must be a fugitive from justice for he cannot now be found in Tennessee, but in North Carolina. He says: "If a mob occupying the Jersey side of the Hudson should shell the city of New York, or from the opposite side of the Delaware should cannonade Philadelphia, under the decision of the court they would be liable to no punishment in New Jersey because "in contemplation of law" the mob were in New York and Pennsylvania. But if it is true, as contended by counsel that the members of the mob cannot be extradited because the mob was never in these cities it would be a singular state of things and would place those cities, as well as Savannah, Memphis, St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati, and hundreds of other border towns at the mercy of any mob which might assemble with weapons of long range across the state line."

"Civilized man must recoil from the practical ruling that the territory adjacent to the state boundaries is a 'No man's land,' and that murder is privileged if committed across a state line."

The two dissenting judges think that as a murder has been committed, if the murderer cannot be tried in North Carolina, he should be delivered up to Tennessee to be tried. That extradition is not a criminal but a remedial statute and should be liberally construed to affect the object intended, which is that an offender shall not escape trial because not to be found in the state where he committed the crime when he can be found in another state of the union. The majority of the court rely upon precedents. The dissent rests upon the reason of the thing and what is deemed by it the true construction and intention of the constitution.

Union Service of Baptists of Raleigh.

The congregation of each one of the Baptist churches of this city are to unite in a union service at the first Baptist church tomorrow night. Short addresses in the interest of city missions will be made by pastors Carter, Simms, Hunter and Messrs. John T. Pullen and N. B. Broughton.

A few days ago Mr. W. H. Horton, who lives on Franklin street, was badly scalded on the foot. He was attempting to pour hot water into a barrel from a boiler and in so doing spilled the boiling water on his foot. He is painfully injured and is confined to his room.

DOTS AND DASHES

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

"Freeze out"—the popular greeting today.

The Capital club gives a holiday get-together next week.

Glass ought to be put in the storm doors at the postoffice.

There was no quorum of the board of aldermen last evening.

A few more days and the trains will be packed with returning holiday travel.

The "bal poudre" is the most talked of and most pleasantly anticipated holiday social event.

Are more barkeepers to follow? The law has been generally disregarded. A start has been made. Keep up the work.

Gov. Carr grants a requisition made by the governor of Georgia for Lloyd White, charged with attempt to murder.

Mr. I. W. Durham, of this city, has the contract for building for $2,500 the monument over the grave of L. L. Folk in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. R. K. Williams will resign his position at the Southern depot here January 1 and will become a drummer for the Coats spool cotton company.

Many persons went to Brookside park today in the hope of finding skating on the lake. The ice was not thick enough, however.

Why isn't there a telephone placed at the union depot? The public could be saved a great deal of inconvenience by so doing.

It is said the schedule of the Seaboard Air Line is to be changed. It is understood that the time will be lengthened so as to bring the trains in on time.

Something has been said about having a union meeting of the different Raleigh churches tomorrow. It was a good idea but seems to have fallen through.

Rev. J. L. Foster united in marriage a day or two ago in Middle Creek township, Miss Alice Utley, daughter of Mr. M. C. Utley, and Mr. K. B. Johnston.

Mrs. Henry J. Brown on Christmas day gave a dinner to her little grandchildren, 18 of whom were present. The "turk" of the occasion weighed 26 1/2 pounds.

Yesterday William Hester, a colored boy, was sent to jail by mayor Badger. Today he went to the roads for thirty days. The charge was "misdemeanor."

"Cussed" a man, while he held an axe in his hand. The case of an unfortunate colored man who is now in the station house charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Rev. Isaac White has purchased of Rev. Levi Branson that gentleman's interest in the Branson house and will conduct it in future. Mr. Branson will continue to live at the hotel.

The manager of the Washington and Lee university glee and banjo club writes manager Meares that on account of sickness of the club they will not be able to appear here on the 31st.

When the southern train came in today engineer Hicks found that the water in the pipes, leading from the tender to the boiler, was frozen. Waste was burned and placed on the pipes and the train left for Goldsboro, "thawed out."

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record has suggested that as the south has been blessed with fine crops this year a solid trainload of corn and meat should be sent as a Christmas greeting to the starving farmers of Nebraska. The railways offer to carry such supplies free.

The Raleigh chamber of commerce met this afternoon in the mayor's office. The meeting was called to consider means for helping the destitute people of Nebraska. The meeting was to have been held this morning but, owing to the small attendance, the meeting was postponed.

The criminal term of Wake superior court commences on January 7th. It will be one of the most sensational sessions ever held in the county. Two revolting murder trials, and perhaps four will make the proceedings very interesting. The Visitors will be there and furnish their friends all about the proceedings that is worth reading.

Christmas is over. The repairing and overhauling of our machinery is completed. Our employes have had their holidays and return to work with renewed energy and happier faces because of the merry Christmas they have spent. We will be at the same old stand in '95, and extend to all a cordial invitation to send us any thing they have that needs laundering. This is not a meaningless invitation. We extend it in all earnestness. The work done by us for the past two months cannot be excelled by any laundry, north or south, and we are determined to keep it to this standard. Try us once and see.

Respectfully,
OAK CITY STEAM LAUNDRY,

Get a Suit of Clothes.

Right now you can get a nice suit of clothes from D. T. Swindell's for a very little money—almost no money at all. Big stock and small prices, for clothing, at D. T. Swindell's.

WHAT A WHOPPER!

"The most liberal withdrawal plan offered." I would like to ask any sensible man what the meaning of the "most liberal withdrawal plan means" in a Building and Loan Association? Does it not mean the one which pays you back the most money? Well, listen: I bought some stock several days ago, in one of these "liberal" concerns, on which $68.25 in dues had been paid. I offered this stock to said association for $60.00—$8.25 less than had been paid in dues. They received $78.25 for it, including admission fees. They refused the offer. Well, now suppose these unfortunate fellows had been in the Raleigh branch of the Southern what would they have received? Why, $68.25, and six per cent. interest. "Well, how much did you give for this stock, Mr. McDonald?" "None of your business." "How much did Mr. McDonald pay for this stock?" asked the Secretary. "Well, as this was a business transaction between myself and Mr. McDonald, and as it was my stock, and as I had a perfectly legitimate right to sell, I can't see why you should know." "The answer." "After this stock had been sold to me, one of the parties approached (after the stock had been offered to the Association) with a proposition to buy. Why? To leave the impression that he had sold something valuable. I knew what I was buying. I was figuring for McDonald. Well, I sold this stock, placed it for the Association, so it will get just as much out of it as if I had not bought it. So the Association is not damaged. I found a man who had some and wanted more. He liked it for the protection was in it—the instance—I doubt if this man can get any insurance in any other reliable insurance company. Why? Because they will not take him. So this was a good chance for him. I sold him the stock for $60.00 cash—$8.25 less than was paid in—and I made something on the trade. What do you take me for? Do you think I buy and sell stock for amusement? If you have any stock and can't get your money out of it, call and I will let you know if I can't handle it. Now, after placing this stock for the Association, which I thought was a favor, the most unkindest cut of all was for the Secretary to go around to one of the parties and tell him that Mr. McDonald has sold your stock for $60.00 and made dollars and cents out of it. The seller was amused. I paid him what he offered it to me for, and he had sense enough to know that I bought it to make something out of it. I would advise any one who sees any of the Southern stock for sale to buy it; it is as legitimate as if you were to buy stock in the Raleigh Savings Bank or Raleigh Cotton Mills. Every certificate has a transfer on the back. I will not get mad or fret because you bought or sold. I will guarantee this, though: Any stock in the Southern will be cashed by me when six months old for all that you have paid in. We will not lend you a part of it, but you get every cent you have in it, and if you want to start again you do without one cent of expense. Recollect this: After twenty four payments have been made you get every cent, and ten per cent. interest additional. Some people who have more cents in their pockets than sense in their heads are complaining of my long advertisements in our city papers. I thought I was helping Raleigh to support Raleigh papers, but I am willing to take (it is said a fool's advice is better than none) my advertisements out, so for 1895 I will not indite these chronic growlers with them. The Southern is able to get all the business it wants without advertising. I have been endeavoring to educate the Raleigh public as to what they may expect in the Southern and other Associations, and feel that the money I have spent in advertising has been well spent in being a help and a saving to them in the future. For 1895 I will expect and intend to sell 1,000 shares, making 2,000 shares which the Raleigh Branch of the Southern will have January, 1896, with its 250 members and $200,000 worth of stock.

Express Wagons.

Your boy wants an express wagon. Get him the wagon and anything else he wants (if you can). He will not be a boy long and will not pass by this way again. He will soon be a man and pass out from under your care. The kindness you show him now will be remembered by him pleasantly all along life's journey. So do all you can now for the boy. One of those wagons from Swindell's will not cost much. Swindell's has two hundred wagons and no room to keep them, because the big stock from Durham will soon be here. All wagons have been marked down to cost, at D. T. Swindell's.

TALK ABOUT CARPETS.

You ought to see those we are selling. The skillful mingling of colors is admired by all who behold them.

The fabrics where the colors play. Across the wool in rainbow chase.

Or meet and link and interlace.

We cannot say, but we know that you will be pleased with our stock. Our carpets are made of material to stand hard wear and look well, and many sell at tempting low prices.
