AN OLD COLD

Is Chronic Catarrh, the Worst Disease Known.

The first stage of catarrh is commonly called catarrh. It may begin in the head, nose, throat or lungs. In the majority of cases no attention is paid to a cold, therefore nearly half of the people have chronic catarrh in some form. To neglect a cold is to invite catarrh.

The second stage of catarrh is sometimes called an old cold. If in the head, there is roaring, cracking in the ears, periodical headache and confusion of the senses. If in the nose, discharge, noisy breathing, and bad breath. In the throat it produces enlarged tonsils, hoarseness, sore throat, hoarseness or weak voice. When the catarrh reaches the bronchial tubes and lungs it produces cough, pain in the chest, expectoration, high sweats, loss of flesh and shortness of breath.

A cold in the head which a single bottle of Pe-ru-na will cure, soon becomes a case of chronic catarrh, which will require many bottles to entirely cure. A sore throat, which one bottle of Pe-ru-na will cure, soon becomes chronic pharyngitis or enlarged tonsils, which will require many bottles. A slight cough, which, without a vestige of doubt, would soon disappear with the use of Pe-ru-na, becomes chronic bronchitis, which requires a persistent use of Pe-ru-na for some time. There are a great many cases of consumption each year due directly to a neglect of coughs, colds, etc., which, if Pe-ru-na had been kept in the house and used according to directions, would have been prevented.

For a free treatise on catarrh, coughs, colds, consumption, and all diseases of winter, send to the Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing company, Columbus, Ohio.

A Great Deal of Method in Madness.

There is no news whatever of the missing lunatic (?), Davis. He seems to have made good his escape. Now, the question is raised, is Davis insane? Has he ever been insane? It is learned that if he is discharged as cured he may be again brought to trial and sent to the penitentiary. His escape does not look like the escapade of a mad-man. There is too much method in his madness. It is very strange that he has kept so quiet during these years until, when it was announced that he would soon be given up as cured, he slides away. Did he not know that, if declared cured, he would be tried again? Has he not fled to escape justice? And now something should be done, some investigation should be made. His escape was accomplished entirely too easily and he was not missed for too long a time.

A Row Among the Editors.

A special in yesterday's Charlotte Observer from Rutherfordton gives an account of hottimes among the editors of that place, of whom there are three. Thursday morning the editor of the Rutherford Herald, I. D. Carter, was tried before a magistrate for throwing rocks into the office of the Democrat and injuring type, cases, etc., in that office. Editor Carter was bound over to court in the sum of $300 and, as he was unable to give bond, went to jail. Editor Tipton also swore out a peace warrant against Carter alleging that he was fearful he would do him secret injury. The hearing in this case, however, was postponed.

Mr. George V. Strong is very ill.

Mr. Crawford J. Biggs, of Oxford, is here.

Mr. Thomas F. Brockwell recovered quickly from his injury and is again at his place of business.

Woodlett & Sons are awarded the contract for making the uniforms for the cadets of the A. & M. college.

Rev. Dr. Yates will hold his first quarterly meeting here tomorrow, preaching at Edenton street church.

Rev. S. C. M. Orpen, of Rhode Island will preach at the cathedral of the Good Shepherd tomorrow morning.

Several prominent Raleigh druggists have been indicted by the grand jury for raffling, or gambling as it is termed in the bill. A cigar dealer is also indicted.

The contractor says that in five weeks with anything like favorable weather, the confederate monument will be finished. All the stone except two carloads has arrived from the Mt. Airy quarries and is being delivered at the cotton platform.

The attendance upon the union meeting at the First Presbyterian church last evening was excellent. The subject of prayer this evening, "Families and Schools," ought to call together a large body of Christian people.

A meeting of the woman's Christian temperance union will be held at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Worth, 127 N. McDowell street on Monday, January 14th at 8:30 o'clock. Ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Railroad News.

The Seaboard Air Line is making extensive improvements on its roadbed and is building iron bridges over the streams the road crosses. Three of these are rapidly approaching completion. One is over the Pee Dee river and is said to be the finest in the south. Another is over Richardson's creek and another over Lane's creek. All are to be composed throughout of iron and are strictly modern in every respect. Trains will be running over them at full speed before spring.

A wreck is rumored on the Carolina Central, off the main line, near Hamlet. A Visitor reporter tried to get information from railway men today but it was impossible.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

For North Carolina: Saturday, fair, cold wave.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Light snow this afternoon or evening. Sunday fair with cold wave.

Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 48; minimum temperature 32; rainfall 0.00.

The cold wave from the northeast has spread rapidly over the Ohio valley. The temperature is reported 10 degrees below zero this morning at Cincinnati and 2 degrees below at Nashville. It is 14 degrees above at Knoxville, with northwest wind and snow. It appears certain that the cold wave will begin to overflow the mountains this afternoon, and that a rapid fall of temperature will occur over North Carolina within 24 hours. The high area is central over the central over the Missouri valley. The storm is central over Western Pennsylvania and is causing light snow in northern states.

SPECIAL BULLETIN.

A Cold Wave Coming Tomorrow.

A severe storm is developing on the North Carolina coast; will probably move northward along the seaboard causing dangerous gales and will be followed by a severe cold wave during Sunday.

Nagles Certain Cough Cure, and Hick's Eragrant Almonds guaranteed to cure or money returned. 25c. SNELLING & HICKS, Druggists. Jan. 2 ly

PERRY ON TRIAL.

THE MURDERER OF MR. BAILEY ARRAIGNED IN COURT

And Put on Trial for His Life—The Testimony.

A few minutes before 11 o'clock the state against Wyatt H. Perry was called in court. "Wyatt Perry, stand up and hold up your right hand," rolled out the solemn voice of deputy clerk Moye and the trial of a human being for his life had begun. March 21 Perry committed the crime for which he is being tried, when he stabbed and killed Thomas E. Bailey in the latter's own door. The case is a noted one, Perry having fled and evaded capture a long time. He was captured in Durham and brought here and jailed.

Mrs. Bailey, the wife of the murdered man, was the first witness. She said that her husband died on the 17 of April, having been stabbed on the 21st of March. She said on the 21st of March just after the family had risen from the supper table she heard Perry call out, "Hello! Tom." Her husband then answered and Perry called out, "Come out a minute; I want to speak to you." Her husband then went out and the next thing she knew of the matter was when her daughter cried out to her that "father is being killed." When she rushed out she found her husband very weak and bleeding from a cut in his throat and ten other cuts. "I am bleeding to death and going to die," said he to her. He then told her that Perry had said "I have come to kill or to be killed, — you," and that he then struck Perry in the face with his fist. The witness said that she heard a report of a gun just before she rushed out. Her husband had fired at Perry but was too weak to hold the gun. She traced blood marks for twenty feet to a rock. She followed Perry several yards and came back to find her husband very weak, lying down with his head in her daughter's lap. She sent after a doctor, Dr. Sykes, and herself sewed up the wound. She took a knife from her husband's pocket to clip the thread. The knife was closed. It was about 8 o'clock in the evening when Perry called at the house.

Mrs. Bailey said that the first cut was the cut that killed her husband and when he turned to go to the gunrack Perry followed him, cutting all the time. She thought this from the holes in her husband's clothes. The shirt and hat worn at the time were introduced in court. They had cuts in them, showing they must have been made from behind. On cross examination the witness said that as far as she knew Perry and her husband had always been on good terms. She said that she did not say that she thought it was George Davis called; that Davis was a relative but did not visit them; that her daughters followed their father closely when he left the house. She said that there were eleven cuts in all, three on the left side of his neck, one on the right side of his neck and one on the back of his neck. There were also cuts in the left shoulder, one on the left hand and one on the left side of the face. She stated that the wound in his neck, at different times started bleeding.

In answer to a question as to whether or not Dr. Sykes when dressed the wound took out the stitches she had put in she said that she was not in the room when the doctor dressed the wound. Bailey was on the porch when the doctor arrived. When Perry started off after the cutting he was walking; when he saw her following him he started a trot. In answer to a question as to a family fuss she said that she and Perry's wife had had words. On re-cross examination she said that the quarrel arose on account of a breast-pin which Perry's wife had accused her child of stealing. Her husband had told Perry's wife that his children should not visit his house. The breast-pin quarrel occurred on Monday before the Wednesday on which the cutting occurred.

The next witness was Beulah Bailey. Her testimony in regard to Perry's coming was the same as her mother's. Perry said "I have come to kill or to be killed, — you." He then commenced cutting. She saw her father strike at Perry. After her father turned back to the house Perry followed, cutting him in the back. Her father came to the house, bleeding, got his gun from the rack and shot at Perry. Neither man said anything. Was so weak he could not hold the gun to his shoulder. When her mother came out she picked her father up and brought him in the porch. Her father placed his head in her lap; said to her that he was bleeding to death and would die. On cross examination this witness got slightly worried over questions in regard to the magistrate's trial, but came out very well, sticking to her story. She created a good impression. Said that there was no scuffle whatever between the men. Said that she did not state on the magistrate's trial that she handed the gun to her father. Her sister followed Perry and did not come back until between eleven and twelve o'clock.

Then Lena L. Bailey was called to the stand. She testified that when Perry called she ran through the house and saw the cutting. Saw her father run into the house after his gun and saw him hit Perry with his fist. Held the gun when he fired in his hands, not to his shoulder. When Bailey fired Perry dodged behind the carriage house. Her mother followed until her sister her, saying that her father was dead. She went after Brown to get a doctor but Brown would not go. Saw Perry; he went to his house. She went to see a man named Loyd; Loyd would not go; finally she got a man, Woodward, to go to the doctor. Reached home, at 10 o'clock. She said she heard of no difficulty except about the breast-pin. Her father would not let them go to Perry's house on account of a Mr. Brown. She did not remember how long before the cutting it was that her father had forbidden their going to Perry's house. The cross examination brought out nothing of interest. She said that she heard no scuffle, as Mrs. Bailey and Beulah Bailey had stated before. The witness stated that she was excited that night but was positive that he had no conversation with Perry.

The defendant was represented by T. R. Parnell, and solicitor Pou was assisted by T. M. Argo. At 1:30 o'clock the court took a recess until 3 o'clock.
