

EVENING VISITOR.

VOL. XXXII.

RALEIGH, N. C., MONDAY, JANUARY 21, 1895.

NO. 68.

For the New Year.

We are not cleaning out a lot of old books and shopworn stationery, but we are cleaning out some of the most readable books, in stylish bindings, you ever saw. Some of the finest stationery that pen or pencil ever traveled over.

When you learn that we are selling the famous standard books for 25¢, we know you will be surprised. What a pleasure to read such books at such prices.

The best of ink and the best of pens help the fingers to help the brain to do some good work.

We have just stocked upon Blank Books, Day Books, Ledgers, Pass Books and everything a business man wants to begin a new year's work. Prices lower than you have ever bought before.

Mrs. George V. Strong's condition is not so favorable today.

Dr. Murphy, superintendent of the Morganton insane asylum is in the city.

Mr. John Blackhall, now living at Waterbury, Connecticut, is visiting his parents here.

Mr. Rafas Patterson, of the Carr bagging company, returned to Durham today.

Mr. John Jenkins, city editor of the News and Observer, returned from a short trip today.

Mr. Quent Busbee, who has been sick at Baltimore, is now here on a visit to his mother.

Judge T. C. Fuller and son Jones left today for Santa Fe, New Mexico, to be absent some months.

Col. T. M. Argo left this morning to attend court at Louisburg. He will defend a man named Champion who is charged with perjury.

Improvements at the A. & M. College.

Work has been commenced at the A. & M. college on the water works which are to supply water for the dormitories. A cistern is now being put in. The college buildings and the grounds are also to be lighted by electricity and a dynamo to supply the current is daily expected. The college boys say that this year they will have a "corking" ball team. Games have been arranged with Trinity, Wake Forest and the university. The grounds at the college, formerly so rough and rocky, will be nicely graded and otherwise improved.

Raleigh as a Horse Market.

There are many horses being sold in Raleigh now, and people from a distance come here to get what they want in the horse line. Capt. B. P. Williamson's annual spring sale of blooded horses will take place here February 13 and 14, when some 80 head of trotters, high class harness and trimmed saddle horses will be sold for the best bid. There will be in it 8 or 10 standard bred trotting stallions of fine size and the best breeding, also tested brood mares, fillies and colts, and some elegant family horses.

The Monday Evening Club.

The Monday evening club will meet at the governor's mansion this evening at 8 o'clock promptly. The subject for discussion is "Marlowe's Faust" in the following divisions.

1. Plot; 2. Dramatic effect of play; 3. Faust; 4. Marlowe's Memphis-topholes as compared with Milton's Satan.

Among those who will present essays are Col. A. Q. Holiday, Miss Denon and Mr. Morrison Brown.

Mr. Caudle Dead.

This morning at five o'clock Mr. Wm. H. Caudle, an old and beloved Raleigh citizen, passed quietly away at his home near the union depot. He was 78 years old and leaves seven children, besides many friends, to mourn his loss.

ANSWERS ITSELF.

The Christian Advocate's Vile Attack on Raleigh's Ladies.

The following extracts are taken from the Christian Advocate criticizing Raleigh ladies for giving a ball for the benefit of the Confederate monument. The article was referred to in Saturday's Visitor: "We are not surprised since the cheek of this dancing set has been exhibited so frequently heretofore. For exhibitions of abominable taste we will risk these devotees of the ball room against the world. Not satisfied with the desecration of morals and manners, incident to work on their own responsibility, they seem determined, like birds of prey, to follow every other enterprise and gratify their lust for reveling at the expense of every noble sentiment. It will be enough to make the Confederate dead, in whose honor this monument is reared, turn over in their graves!

"If these people will dance, let them not dance in memory of the confederate dead. Such a scene would suggest a jubilee over the dead. It is exceeding bad taste. Let the public take notice that this whole business is a catch. It is meant to have a big time by drawing a heavy draft upon public sentiment. Like the charity ball, it is intended to take advantage of the occasion under the pretext of helping a good cause." Then follows a clipping: "We are opposed to balls of all sorts; but most of all to the 'charity ball.' It is a profane performance masquerading in the livery of benevolence while working the ends of lasciviousness."

Nice stuff for a religious paper to publish; especially against such good and pure women are the managers of the ball. The Visitor had intended commenting on the article but, on reflection, it is seen to display such a lack of taste and gentlemanly wording and to show so much venom that it carries with it its own condemnation. Intelligent people everywhere will readily see this. The article needs no comment.

THE FANCY BALL.

To be Held at the Yarboro Tuesday Evening.

The fancy ball for the benefit of the confederate monument will be held at the Yarboro house on Tuesday evening, beginning at 9 o'clock. The patrons of the ball are among Raleigh's best citizens and the fact that they are managing it assures all who attend a pleasant evening. Here they are:

Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, Gen. and Mrs. F. H. Cameron, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Haywood, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Skinner, Lieut. and Mrs. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith, Maj. and Mrs. S. F. Telfair, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Raney, Mr. and Mrs. Omega H. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich, Mrs. McAden, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Timberlake, Mr. and Mrs. Child, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pogue, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cross.

A Splendid Show.

Hi Henry's minstrels will be at the academy of music this evening. They gave a splendid show, the Charlotte News says: "The largest house since Booth was here greeted Hi Henry's minstrels last night. The building was packed and the show was worthy the house. The company presents some unique things in minstrelsy and is composed of artists from first to last. The songs are good and the music excellent. The good opinion formed of the company on its southern tour was strengthened in Charlotte and our people are cheerfully willing to accord it the praise of being the best minstrel show that has ever visited this city."

Deputy collector J. Smith reports to collector Simmons the seizure and destruction of a 55-gallon copper illicit distillery and outfit near St. Matthews P. O., Moore county. The supposed owner is Thomas Anderson.

DOTS AND DASHES

MADE ABOUT TODAY'S HAPPENINGS.

Items Gathered in and Around the City.

The trains, formally so irregular, are now coming in on time.

The work on the confederate monument is being rapidly pushed.

The legislature took a day off today. Neither the senate or the house met till 3 o'clock.

The street committee has done a good thing in cutting down the old tree in front of the supreme court building.

This morning a batch of prisoners left for the county roads. Nine were sent on. There are now nine prisoners left in jail.

In Christ church and the church of the Good Shepherd the pastoral letter prepared by the general council of bishops was read.

The governor today appointed three notaries public. They are: James H. Lassiter, of Vance; D. L. Gadger, of Buncombe; Wm. L. Pittman, of Forsythe.

There was an absurd rumor this morning that the great horse, John R. Gentry was dead. The story was without foundation. Gentry is wintering splendidly.

The endowment fund of Wake Forest college is rapidly growing. During the past month the president has received over $7,000 in notes payable in bank for the fund.

Deputy collector J. H. Shelburn reports the seizure of a 125-gallon illicit distillery with 2000 gallons of beer, near Orange factory, Durham county. The still was owned by Ed. Johnson.

"No news," said commissioner Robinson today; "we have plenty of work and are receiving numbers of letters asking about North Carolina's advantages." Sounds like good news doesn't it?

Any one finding a copy of the mail scheme of North Carolina counties, lost Saturday, will confer a great favor on the owner by leaving it at this office. It is a long, slim book bound in black.

Hi Henry's minstrels arrived today in their handsome car, Clipper. They gave a street parade which delighted the populace. Twenty-six men were in the parade. The band is a particularly fine one.

The suit of Mrs. Pattie D. B. Arrington against Mr. W. H. Arrington, her former husband, comes up at Louisburg tomorrow. The charge is for offences alleged to have been committed in Nash county.

The Leazer literary society of the A. and M. college will on the 25th of this month give an entertainment, composed of debate, oratorical contests etc. These entertainments are always interesting and should attract a large crowd to the college.

A runaway occurred on Martin street this morning. The horse, with the remnants of the buggy hanging to him, dashed across Fayetteville street at the postoffice corner. He slipped at the Citizens bank and slid 15 feet in the gutter which stopped his mad flight.

Prof. Moses says that the increase in the number of public school children since the holidays has been wonderful. This is particularly true of the colored children. Today a new room was opened in the Garfield school and completely filled by nine o'clock. Many children had to be turned away.

Ladies and Children's January Sewing.

We advise our patrons to have their spring and summer sewing done now during the winter months—between seasons—at a time when good sewing help can be had.

Our new lines of white goods, laces and embroideries are on sale and prices rule lower than we have ever known.

THE WEATHER.

The Conditions and the Forecast.

For North Carolina: Showers today. Fair tonight and Tuesday. Warmer, followed by cooler in north-west portion.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Rain. Clearing by Thursday afternoon. Decidedly colder Tuesday.

Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today: Maximum temperature 45; minimum temperature 38; rainfall 0.20.

A storm of great intensity is central over northern Illinois. It is accompanied by rain in the lake region and in the Mississippi valley. On the eastern and southern sides of the storm high temperature prevails, while in the northwest a cold wave is following. The weather is cloudy and threatening nearly everywhere east of the Mississippi. The storm will probably move eastward across the northern part of the country today and tonight.

The Legislators Worried.

The legislature did not convene until 3 o'clock this afternoon but the legislators had plenty to think about. The statement in yesterday's News and Observer about the expenses of the legislature stirred them up mightily. The committee rooms were filled with politicians discussing how to "fix" things. One of them was overheard to say: "This thing has got to be fixed somehow. The expenses must be cut down as low as they were in 1893, but no lower." The legislators are in a pretty bad fix. If they don't cut down expenses the public will condemn them; if they do the News and Observer can say, "we made you do it."

What he Had Always Wanted to See.

A gentleman from Rockingham tells a good story about a colored man who came from that place to Raleigh in search of a job from the legislature. He saw the negro the other night and asked him how he was getting along. "Well Boss," said he, "I didn't get no job and I lost $20 by the trip but I'm glad I came. I have seen what I always wanted to see." "What is that," asked the gentleman. "A white man working under a nigger," said the darkey. He spoke of one of "Abe" Middleton's white assistants
