DEATH OF MRS. BAKER.

She Died Suddenly at 9 O'clock Last Evening.

At nine o'clock last evening Mrs. Abby L. Baker died suddenly at her home on Halifax street. For months she has been a sufferer from nervous prostration but, though her health had been bad, the announcement of her death was an unexpected blow to her many friends. Yesterday afternoon her condition was seen to be serious and her aunt, Mrs. Swenson and Mrs. Lottie McAden, her sister-in-law, were summoned to her bedside. Her condition grew rapidly worse and she finally passed away at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Baker has only lived in Raleigh a year, having come here from Baltimore when her husband became secretary and treasurer of the Virginia cotton mills. She was a lovable woman, and although she has been a great sufferer, has yet made many, many warm friends here who are deeply grieved at her untimely death and sympathize with her afflicted husband and relatives. Mrs. Baker was a daughter of the late R. Y. McAden, of Charlotte, a niece of Mrs. Swenson. Her mother was recently here with her but returned home, thinking her daughter's condition improved.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 from the residence. Mrs. McAden arrived from Charlotte this afternoon.

Polk Miller Friday Evening.

On next Friday evening famous and original Polk Miller will appear here in Metropolitan hall and give an entertainment, his well known "Evening of Story and Song." Mr. Miller comes highly recommended and all those who attend may be sure of spending a pleasant evening. The entertainment will be given for the benefit of the Epworth League, that vigorous society of Methodist young people. The charges for admission are moderate. The enjoyment and profit obtained from one of Miller's entertainments will far repay the sum of 50 cents spent to hear it. There will be no extra charge for reserved seats, although they can be obtained at either W. H. King & Co's. or J. Hal. Bobbitt's drugstores.

A FEW MINUTES,

ONLY WILL IT TAKE YOU TO READ THIS COLUMN.

But When You Have Finished, You Will Know It All.

The street sprinkler got in more of its work on Fayetteville street this morning.

Last night the house made soon today the special order for a discussion of the printing business. For some reason, however, it was postponed.

Thomas Nelson Page says "No man living can equal Polk Miller in telling dialect stories of the old plantation negro." Hear him Friday evening at Metropolitan hall.

There was the largest crowd of spectators of the session watching the proceedings of the legislature last evening. The lobbies of the house were so crowded that it became necessary to refuse admittance to outsiders.

The fight against the University has died the death that has been expected for it for some time. It is stated that many legislators were elected on the "anti-state aid" issue. If so, what have their constituents gained?

That bird eating contest at Dugh's is getting interesting. Major Martin has thus far eaten twenty birds. He has ten more to go before winning his wager. Will he go them?

Governor Carr exercised that famous gubernatorial power—the appointment of notaries, in three instances. Here are the results: A. L. Harrison, of Pitt county; John Farland, of Carteret, and R. M. Walker, of Milton.

In the superior court this morning only one case was settled, a negro divorce case. Julia Ford desired to be freed from her husband, Robert Ford, and the court granted her request.

Henry Watterson, the distinguished editor of the Louisville Journal says of Polk Miller's entertainment, "it is the best one man show in America." He will appear at Metropolitan hall Friday evening for the benefit of the Epworth League.

The doorkeeper in the house last night, Ferrell, received orders to admit no more people to the floor. In carrying out the order he was rough and insolent and finally became involved in a row with an indignant man, who had been denied admission. A policeman was sent for but made no arrests.

A negro man, known by several names, who has been stealing numbers of chickens for a month and who, it is supposed, cleaned out the house and yard of Wash Hawkins, even stealing his push cart, was arrested by deputy sheriffs last night. The negro was a awful sly one and was only caught after a chase at 10 o'clock last night, on Capt. Burwell's farm.

There was a helter skelter runaway down Fayetteville street last evening Dr. Scuggs was attending the man whom the bale of cotton ran over and his horse and buggy were standing by the curb. Just then a policeman passed with a drunken woman, screaming. Her cries frightened the horse which ran away and smashed the buggy and hurt himself.

Colored Lobbyists and Advisers

This morning there arrived here from Goldsboro a committee of colored citizens who were sent here to urge the passage of a bill to redistrict Goldsboro and to "see what demagogues of ours am doing." It seems that the negroes, who are a power in Wayne county politics, do not like the stand taken by their representatives. A crowd of negroes reproving an intelligent white man is a strange sight, but that is what happened today. Several of the committee ran on Maj. Grant in the house today. After some talk the spokesman said, "We thought you came here to represent the people, Major, but it don't look like you do it. You are not broad enough we didn't think you was such a narrow man." This went on for some time. "The trouble with you people," said Maj. Grant, "is that your mouths talk a great deal and your brains not at all." Then he walked away.

THE UNIVERSITY WAR.

Another Interesting Meeting of the Educational Committee.

Yesterday afternoon there was another very interesting meeting of the educational committee to hear a discussion of the question of a University appropriation. There were many and some excellent speeches but the meeting was not as exciting as that of the day before, for the personalities were eliminated. Dr. Win-ton first arose and stated that he was sorry to have indulged in personalities; that it was unworthy of himself, of Dr. Durham, of the committee, of the question; whatever might be said about him would not affect the question at issue.

This took the wind out of Dr. Durham's sails for he had evidently come prepared to make a personal matter of the question. He spoke for quite a while and did well. He is a good speaker and a bold, aggressive man.

He was followed by other speakers, a number of whom spoke for and against the University and prolonged the meeting till a late hour. The best speeches of the day were made by Major William A. Guthrie and district attorney Aycock. Major Guthrie's speech was pronounced to be one of the best that has ever been heard here. It is regretted that lack of space prohibits a summary.

The meeting was livened all through by sharp little questions, interruptions and answers but there was nothing of a personal nature.

Those who spoke against the appropriation were Dr. Columbus Durham, Rev. Dr. Skinner and J. C. Cadell. Those who spoke for it were, Major W. A. Guthrie, W. J. Peale, C. B. Aycock, Judge Russell, Jim Young and Rev. Leak.

In closing his speech Dr. Durham made an unwarranted sling at Mr. Josephus Daniels saying, "a man who does not vote as he pleases, is no more fit for citizenship than Josephus Daniels is to edit a newspaper." The war is ended for two years, anyhow, for the joint educational committee has decided to let the appropriation run. The vote was nearly unanimous. "Durham is down, Winston on top."

Fell from a Wagon.

Yesterday afternoon Primus Haywood, a colored driver who for years worked at Pool and Moring's, fell from a wagon on which were loaded five bales of cotton. In some way he managed to fall under the wheels and the wagon passed over him, hurting him very badly, though it is thought not seriously. Dr. Scuggs was called and attended him. He was taken to Rex hospital where he is now getting on nicely.

S. A. L. CUTS RATES.

They are Sweeping and Went into Effect Today.

The long talked of "war" between the Southern and Seaboard Air Line systems is on. Active hostilities commenced today and the Seaboard is now on the offensive. The Southern will in all probability "come back" and perhaps go the Seaboard "one better." Then the game will grow interesting and the man who wants to take a pleasure trip may do so very cheaply.

The Seaboard Air Line "opened the pot" this morning. Circulars have been sent out all over the country with the low rates, which go into effect today. The reductions are sweeping and range, mostly, one dollar lower than formerly. For instance the fare from Raleigh to Baltimore is $7.95 cents; it was about $9. The biggest cut is on tickets between Atlanta and Portsmouth which now sell at the low rate of $8.

To give one an idea of the big cut in this instance it may be stated that the fare yesterday from here to Atlanta was over $13.00. This same rate applies to all intermediate stations up to the $8.00 mark. Therefore a man can travel from Atlanta to Portsmouth almost as cheaply as you can travel there from Raleigh.

The "war" will be watched with great interest and it is a question as yet as to what action the Southern will take. A law recently passed robs ticket "scalpers" of immense profits they would have reaped from the cut in rates.

GOOD FOR CASH.

MILLS' LAST DAYS.

He Will Probably Have 60 Days of Life Left.

George Mills, the murderer of his niece, Iana Wimberly must die, says the supreme court when they confirm the decision of the lower court. The opinion was handed down yesterday afternoon, too late for publication. The Governor has not yet been notified by the court of its decision and he will not probably receive notice for a month. He must then sentence Mills, and it is customary to give a convicted murderer 30 days of grace. So George Mills will have about two months left in which to "sit and study," as Mrs. Wimberly says he does.

If George has any bad thoughts during his "studies," he does not show the fact. He has retained the same stolid, brutal indifference he has ever displayed. It is doubtful whether or not George Mills can suffer, mentally. Not that he is an idiot, for he has plainly shown himself to possess plenty of sense, but because of his life, rough, brutal and degrading.

He must now surely die the death unless executive clemency is granted him; and that is well nigh out of the question.

Dughl will receive tomorrow splendid, fresh lemons, bananas, apples, oranges and coconuts.

Granulated sugar 5 cents,
Pure lard 10 cents.
