

State Library

EVENING VISITOR.

VOL. XXXII.

RALEIGH, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1895.

NO. 105

For the New Year,

We are not cleaning out a lot of old books and showroom stationery, but we are cleaning out some of the most readable books, in stylish bindings, you ever saw. Some of the finest stationery that pen or pencil ever traveled over.

When you learn that we are selling the famous standard books for 25¢, we know you will be surprised. What a pleasure to read such books at such prices.

The best of ink and the best of pens help the fingers to help the brain to do some good work.

We have just stocked upon Blank Books, Day Books, Ledgers, Pass Books and everything a business man wants to begin a new year's work. Prices lower than you have ever bought before.

WILL REACH A CRISIS

UNLESS MORE MONEY IS GIVEN TO THE 'PEN.'

So Says Governor Carr In His Special Message Sent Out Today.

The affairs of the State penitentiary are in such shape that a special appropriation by the legislature is well nigh a necessity. Governor Carr realizes this and at the close of the session today sends a special message in regard to the penitentiary. It was read at a little after 12 o'clock today in both branches of the legislature. Here it is:

"To the general assembly of North Carolina:

It is regretted that circumstances compel me to send in a special message at this time.

Under the sense of my responsibility, as chief executive, for the proper care and management of the state's public institutions, I must call your attention to the fact that the appropriation made to supplement the resources of the penitentiary for its support, is entirely inadequate to null absolute necessities.

Without further aid from the general assembly, this institution must meet a crisis within a year.

My duty is discharged with the statement of the grave fact involved and I leave the responsibility upon the hands of the general assembly.

ELIAN CARR, Governor.

That the legislature will do as the governor suggests would certainly seem to be the only thing that could be done. The penitentiary has suffered greatly during the past two years on account of the fall in the prices of farm products, raised on the state farms, and by freshets. This accounts in great measure for the pressing need of a larger appropriation.

Still They Come.

Mr. W. N. Scales, or "Wallace," as he is better known here, is now dignified with the title of "Judge." He came by the honor honestly, squarely, as he does everything. "Wallace" is now a citizen of Idaho and, in a contest with eight competitors has been made judge of a probate court.

TURNER & WYNNE, 732 Cor. Halifax and Johnson Sts.

One convict arrived to swell the force at the penitentiary today. He came in with the sheriff of Halifax county.

The chamber of commerce of Raleigh will meet this afternoon. Business of importance will come up at the meeting.

The trustees of the University meet next Thursday. The board was to have met in February but the meeting was postponed.

Soon Miss Alice Raiborn will become Mrs. W. B. Underwood. Register of Deeds Rogers issued the marriage license to the young people this morning.

Last night the infant boy of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brown Jr., died at the home of its parents here. The funeral took place at 10 o'clock this morning.

Col. T. M. Argo left this afternoon to attend court at Smithfield where he will appear in a land suit involving large and valuable tracts of Johnston county land.

"Squire" Wesley Whitaker writes to say that the evidence against 'Bill' Goodwin was strong enough to bind over that gentleman. No reflection was intended on Mr. Whitaker.

The legislature will not adjourn until Thursday morning, probably. The way the law-makers are holding on is a matter of great surprise to people generally.

The University students are going through a troublesome period in college life at present, the spring examinations. They end on the 20th. Seniors are excused and some of them are leaving for home to spend holidays.

FROM FORTY DOLLARS A Month, to General Agent—A. N. C. Boy's Success.

The VISITOR is always glad to note the advancement of a North Carolina boy and North Carolina boys have a curious way of always being advanced. So you frequently see in these columns the story of the success of such boys. And it all proves that "Tar Heels" are "the stuff"

The latest is Mr. J. P. Beckwith, who only a few years ago took a subordinate position under with Savannah Ocean Steamship company. His salary was just enough to support him, $40 per month. But it is the same old story. Up and up he worked his way until on March 6th he was appointed general passenger and freight agent, with offices at New York and a salary that will keep a whole pack of wolves from the door. Mr. Beckwith was raised in Smithfield and is known here. He is a cousin of Mr. B. C. Beckwith, of Raleigh.

Fine Dairy Butter 30 cents per lb., Country Butter 5 to 10 lbs at a time, 15 cents per lb at D. T. Johnson's.

PAYING IDEAS,

PERHAPS, ARE CONTAINED IN THIS CONSOMME.

Of Which News, Pure, Fresh and Crisp is the Stock.

Mr. C. A. Sherwood is confined to his room with eye trouble.

The list of Wake county magistrates has been made out and approved.

This is the "week of prayer" and special services are being held at all the churches.

Mr. Charles M. Busbee is still confined with la grippe. He has been ill nearly three weeks.

In the mayor's court this morning a negro boy was fined $5 for disorderly conduct on the streets.

"You-see-by-us" in the chair in the senate was the startling plot made up by the fun loving senators this morning.

Mr. D. R. Julian, whose serious attack was reported yesterday, is greatly improved and will go home tomorrow.

Sheriff Page has issued a number of notices of sale of personal property. The sale are made to collect back taxes.

MRS. OLDS IS DEAD.

PASSED AWAY AT MORGANTON THIS MORNING.

Was Laura, Eldest Daughter of the Late Ex-Governor Holden.

A telegram, received here this morning, announced briefly the death at Morganton of Mrs. Olds, the oldest daughter of the late ex-governor Holden. Her death was not entirely unexpected, and although she had been in bad health for some years, its announcement was a shock to her friends. She was at the time of her death 52 years old. As Miss Laura Holden she was well known here. Years ago she married Col. Olds, the father of Col. F. A. Olds, who was a well known Raleigh lawyer.

The remains will leave Morganton for Raleigh at 5 o'clock this afternoon and will arrive here at 7 o'clock in the morning. The funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Holden was the sister of Mrs. F. A. Mahler, of Mr. Charles Holden and the half sister of Mrs. Sherwood. She was the step mother of Col. F. A. Olds. The funeral services will be conducted from the Catholic church at 10:30 o'clock.

A GOLD WATCH TO WALSER.

Presented Last Evening as a Token of the Esteem of the Minority.

A day or so ago the fusion majority in the senate did Mr. Doughton the courtesy of presenting him with a handsome silver service and of speaking of him with kind, feeling words as a token of its regard; last evening in the house the democratic minority came back by giving speaker Walsler a gold watch as a token of its esteem. A curious state of affairs prevails at the capitol, a democratic presiding officer of the senate and a fusion speaker of the house. Yet two more conscientious, fair and impartial gentlemen never presided over the legislative bodies. The presentation last evening was made by Mr. Robinson, Mr. McClammy occupying the chair. Mr. Robinson made a speech that showed clearly that he appreciated the consideration with which he and other members in the minority had been treated by the speaker.

Mr. Walsler responded in happy and pleasant style. There were other speakers.

FELL TWENTY FEET.

But was Still Unhurt—Mr. Edward Straughan's Narrow Escape.

Last evening Mr. Ed. Straughan, who is a compositor in the VISITOR office, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury. As it is he is sore and stiff and every movement causes him exquisite pain. This is how it happened.

Last evening Mr. Straughan visited the News and Observer office to see a friend compositor, who works there. He went up the side steps of the building, leading to the composing room. The landing of the steps is 20 feet from the ground and at one place the railing has been torn down. When Mr. Straughan came out he made a miscalculation and, as there was no railing to stop him, fell off the landing to the ground. Some of the Observer printers heard him fall and ran out expecting to find him dead. He was unconscious but soon recovered and it was found that, beyond a number of severe bruises, he was unhurt. Mr. Straughan will lose nothing by his accident except the price of a bottle of liniment and several day's work.

Another wagon came to grief today. The driver imprudently tried to cross the track in front of the car and was struck a little aft of amidships. The wagon gave a sharp turn and bounced off the track, throwing the horse to his knees and the driver in the mud. No casualties resulted from the accident.

WANING DAYS.

SOON THE LEGISLATORS WILL BE SAFE AT HOME.

But Raleigh Always Has Visitors—Some of Them.

Mr. John C. Rhodes, of Dudley, arrived here today.

Mr. B. M. Cates, of Burlington, arrived here today.

Mr. Sol. C. Weil, of Wilmington, left for home this morning.

Dr. John L. Moore, of Apex, is in the city today, at the Yarboro.

Judge Phillips, of Tarboro, is among Raleigh's distinguished visitors today.

President John C. Kilgo was here this morning but left on an early train for Trinity college.

Mr. W. J. Riddick, who has been here several days, returned to his home in Durham today.

Mrs. Jack Falkner and children of Houston, Va., is visiting her sister Mrs. Joseph F. Ferrall.

Capt. P. B. Manning, of Wilmington, arrived here this morning. He is at the Yarboro house.

Messrs. F. Bernard, H. S. Harwood and J. M. Graves, all Greensboro citizens, came in on an early morning train today.

UNDER FUSION CONTROL.

BILL TO "FUZE" A. & M. COLLEGE AND AGR. DEPT.

President of State Alliance to Manage H. M. Lineback's Bold Stand.

Last evening the house passed a bill providing that the agricultural department and the A. & M. college should be consolidated. The bill was vigorously opposed by Mr. Lineback, that republican free-lance who dares to bolt caucus action, but it passed just the same. The management goes to the fusionists, for the president of the state alliance is to be manager and a board of directors is to be elected later. Mr. Lineback's bold stand against the bill cannot be too warmly commended. But Mr. Lineback has a curious way of doing and voting just as he thinks right, regardless.

The bill provides for the management of the agricultural department by the president of the state alliance and a board of nine directors to be elected later, and that the same board be the board of directors of the A. and M. college. Mr. Lineback said an act of congress provided that the college should be forever separate from any other institution. If the legislature wished to lose $17,500 which the general government gave the college, the way to do it was to pass this bill. He denounced it as outrageous and asked the house to bury it so deep that not a bubble would ever rise. Mr. Hileman said the committee on retrenchment and reform had reported the bill, and had reported it weeks ago to the joint caucus of populists and republicans, and that the latter had decided to support the bill and had ordered this particular bill drawn. He made a thrust at Lineback for daring to antagonize a caucus mandate. Mr. Lineback voted straight through with democrats against the bill.
