knows more than one usually gives him credit for, and above all things he knows where to buy cheap books. And strange to say, that's one of the few things he didn't learn out of books. Somebody had to tell him. We told several book worms—not only about cheap books, but about writing paper, ink, pens and a few specialties, such as visiting cards and Easter cards. The address of the place is

Smiles & Frowns.

That that will produce smiles on many faces may cause a few to be frowny with frowns, but what care we for the frown of the few when we consider the many who are made happy by the great values we are offering in our New Spring Dress Goods, both in woolen and cotton fabrics in all of the latest effects. We are now receiving our new spring stock and assure you later styles and lower prices than you can hope to get elsewhere, as our stock was carefully selected after the rush and bustle of the season and bought for spot cash.

DID MURDER AND FLED.

Now a Reward for His Capture is Offered.

Governor Carr this morning offered a reward of $50 for the capture of William Craig, alias William Gadbury, who has committed murder in Yelkin county. The reward was offered on the recommendation of the solicitor of that county.

On March 19th Craig murdered a woman, his paramour, named Lissie Carter. The murder was a most revolting one and Craig escaped. He is still in the county it is thought and the solicitor's opinion is that a $50 reward will "fetch him from the bushes." It is generally the custom in some of the western counties for a murder to go into hiding, wait for an offered reward, give up to a friend and have the reward money to defend himself with.

The Fast Mail Tonight.

A complete train of fourteen cars, illuminated caboose and practical working engine, a magnificent scene of Niagara falls by moonlight, with real mist, as seen from suspension bridge. The flight of the fast mail which crosses the stage at the rate of seventy miles an hour, and a realistic steamboat ride and explosion on the Mississippi, are among the most novel and unusual effects shown in a season. J. Carter's scenic production, the "Fast Mail," which appears at academy of music this evening.

Royster's Buttercups.

We are constantly directing our attention to the production of palatable and wholesome confections and in our efforts to produce something worthy of special attention we have succeeded in revolutionizing the manufacture of the very popular and meritorious candy known as "Buttercups." Heretofore they have been extremely high priced. We now are furnishing them at a moderate price and in no manner reducing the quality.

We commend them to your attention and predict for them large sales and popular approval. 20c per pound.

AN INTERESTING TRIAL FOR ENTICEMENT.

A Brief Summary of Court Doings Today.

Superior court convened this morning at 9.30 o'clock. The first case to come up on the docket was the famous Gram bigamy case, but it never came to trial. On motion of Col. T. M. Argo, counsel for the state, the case was again continued. It is very doubtful if the case will ever be tried, as the plaintiff is said to be anxious for a compromise.

A case that is of considerable interest is that of state vs Q. S. Adams, for enticing a servant. It seems that C. R. Ray, who lives in the same township with Adams, accused him of having enticed away a black-smith with whom he had a contract. There is a statute forbidding this. The case was continued from yesterday and this morning the jury returned the verdict "not guilty."

State vs William Jeffries, 1. and r., plead guilty, four months on roads.

State vs Robt. Bost, c. o. w., plead guilty, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

The case of state vs Mamie House created a good deal of excitement in the court room. She plead guilty of keeping a disorderly house and, on payment of costs, judgment was suspended.

State vs Columbus Leach, for the larceny of a particularly large and fine pair of brogans from a brother colored man, was called after an exciting trial. (for Columbus) his innocence was established to the satisfaction of the jury.

The case of state vs General Atwater, a colored thief with a high sounding name, was on trial when the Visitor went to press.

BOTH SENT TO COURT.

Chas. Bray and "Red Lizza" Will Probably Suffer Equally.

In the mayor's court this morning the case of Charles Bray, who, as told in yesterday afternoon's Visitor, tried his best to murder a colored woman named Hattie Powell, but better known as "Red Lizza," on the Bowery, came up.

Witnesses were examined and a clear case made out against Bray. It seems the trouble arose from Hattie ordering Bray from her house. He is a delicate looking boy, not more than 20 years old, and if the matter had settled down to a physical tussle "Red Lizza" would probably have come off victorious.

Bray was sent to court under a $100 bond, and, as Hattie is a tough character, she was also sent to court. "It can be shown by policemen that she has often been here, charged with drunk and disorderly," said Chief Heatt. "Yes, and I've been paying for it," said "Red" defiantly. But she went on to court, all the same.

LITTLE PERSONAL SQUIBS

About People Whom You Should, If You do Not, Know

Mr. W. W. Willard, of Durham, arrived here this afternoon.

Mr. M. S. Clifton, of the University, arrived via Southern, today.

Mr. A. B. Andrews, Jr., returned this afternoon from Greensboro.

Father Marion returned this morning from a short visit so Southern Pines.

Miss Ella Brown, of Salisbury, is here visiting Mrs. T. K. Bruner, on McDowell street.

Dr. Charles E. Taylor, president of Wake Forest college, who has been here for some days returned to his college duties this morning.

Mr. Eugene Albie, of Winston, was here today on his way to Washington where he will attend a meeting of the Protective Travellers association. Mr. Albie is secretary of that organization.

COULDN'T STAND RIDICULE.

Thos. Brockwell Attacks Col. Argo On Account of Ridicule.

When the case of state vs. the Moore brothers for assault with deadly weapon upon Thos. Brockwell was called in superior court Monday, Col. T. M. Argo appeared for the Moores.

As the case progressed Col. Argo sought to help out his case by holding up Brockwell the man who was out, to ridicule and scorn. The colonel can do this more successfully, perhaps, than any other attorney in Raleigh and has exhibited this trait to advantage often before in the court house. Now Col. Argo may have meant no personal insult to Mr. Brockwell but might have indulged in the language he used entirely for professional reasons. Be that as it may, Mr. Brockwell took the remarks as strictly personal and was as mad as a wet hen, accordingly. "I'll whip Argo, the first time I see him on the street," he is reported to have said as he left the court house.

This morning Mr. Brockwell met Col. Argo and, as might have been expected, a fight ensued. Mr. Brockwell first abused Col. Argo in a good deal plainer terms than the Col. abused him yesterday. Then he suddenly snatched Col. Argo's stick from his hand and commenced to belabor him with it. Col. Argo, of course, resisted manfully and the fight waged hot for several minutes. Then bystanders parted the combatants and the fight was ended; Mr. Brockwell had satisfied himself and Col. Argo was very little the worse for the encounter.

CONVICTS TO THE PEN.

Twelve Additions. From Pasquotank, Warren and Gaston.

It is evident that the criminal courts of the various counties are now in full blast. This is well shown by the fact that the convicts have been literally rolling into the city for the past few days. Yesterday afternoon and this morning the force was swelled by 12 convicts from Pasquotank, Warren and Gaston counties.

Yesterday afternoon four were brought in by the sheriff of Pasquotank and one from Warren county. This morning sheriff H. A. Lofters, of Gaston, brought in seven, all of whom go for short terms.

April Weather.

The following is for the month of April, taken at this station for a period of eight years:

The mean normal temperature was 59 degrees; the warmest April was that of 1893, with an average of 62 degrees; the coldest April was that of 1892, with an average of 57 degrees; the highest temperature was 91 on the 7th, 1893; the lowest temperature was 30 on the 10th, 1892; average date on which last "killing" frost occurred April 10th. The average rainfall was 2.68 inches; cloudless days, 13; partly cloudy days, 9; cloudy days, 8.

Pretty Streets.

Correspondence: If anybody wishes to see some of Raleigh's prettiest streets, they should go and look at Jones street from Dawson west, see Earrington street from Jones north, peep at West street from the railroad north, Dawson street from Jones north, Lane street, from McDowell west. If anybody, even a child, wishes to learn the art of road-making they should see these streets. Mr. McMackin might gain some information in this line. They are beauties. JACK.

The Weather For Tomorrow.

For North Carolina: Fair, warmer Thursday morning.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Thursday fair, warmer.

Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today. Maximum temperature 58; minimum temperature 40; rainfall, 0.00.

A. O. U. W. meets tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock.

The poles for the new electric light line have nearly all been put in place.

Sheriff Page is again in his office, having recovered from his recent attack of sickness.

The confederate monument is already beginning to look imposing. It will be beautiful, when finished.

The Fast Mail company arrived here on time this afternoon. They appear at the academy of music this evening.

Travel on the Seaboard Air-Line has picked up to such an extent that it looks as though it were good to be boycotted.

New "Metropolitan signs" for the coming and departure of trains on the S. A. L. have been placed at the Union depot.

Clerk of the court Moyer sat at his desk with a glum expression today. The deputy was sick but he kept on with his work.

The change of the telephone office is about completed. The operation will not be interfered with for more than half an hour.

Tom Jones got out of the work house two days ago where he was sent on account of habitual drunkenness; now he is in the guard house again, awaiting trial.

There have been no seizures of moonshine stills reported to the collector's office for a whole week. And the revenue clerks and the people wonder greatly thereat.

Dr. Aeveritt, of Kittrell, will lecture at the Cathedral church of the Good Shepherd this evening. He is an eloquent speaker and a large audience will doubtless hear him.

The Raleigh minstrels played to a fair sized house at the academy of music last evening. A feature was the "gags" gotten off at the expense of the Arrington triumvirate.

It may not be generally known that there is an entirely new registration required for the coming city elections but such is the case. This was necessitated by the change of the city wards.

There was still another beautifully carved stone put in place on the monument today. Next Monday the big shaft will be put in place. The derricks have been strengthened in anticipation of the strain they will then endure. The shaft will be merely placed on top. No cement will be necessary, as the immense weight of the stone will keep it firmly seated.

EFFECTS OF THE LAW.

Farmers Who Wanted to Give Mortgage Turned Down.

The farmers of Wake county are now truly in a deplorable condition. Many of them are poor, too poor to raise a crop, or even to live until harvest time without borrowing money, and under the new law, reported yesterday they cannot now do this.

Today several farmers felt the sting of the legislature's action. Knowing nothing of the passage of the "assignment bill" they came to town this morning in the hope of giving mortgage on their crops or property to borrow money with which to raise their next year's crop. But when they went to their old lenders, the merchants, they met with a cold reception. Kindly but firmly the merchants refused. "No money loaned now on mortgages," was the general reply. And ever and anon a loud and vigorous country oath went quivering through the still air.

Ex-Judge John Gray Bynum was fined $50 for contempt of Morganton court.
