THE BANK STEAL.

THE AFFAIR AT CHARLOTTE GROWS STILL WORSE.

Cashier Holland is a Forger as Well as a Thief.

The Charlotte Observer today gives a mass of information regarding the defalcation of cashier J. R. Holland of the Merchants and Farmers' national bank. It tells how bank examiner Miller discovered the theft.

Week before last Miller was stopped at Gastonia and examined the national bank there. He spent last Friday at the Merchants' and Farmers' bank and discovered on looking over cashier Holland's books, a loan of $5,000 charged to the Gastonia bank. He called Holland and asked if that was correct. He said yes. Miller found the cash short one dollar. That was easily accounted for and paid in. That night Miller took the train for Gastonia, rang up Mr. Jenkins, the president of the bank, and told him he wanted to look over his books again. Jenkins wondered what was up, but said little. He and Miller spent the night in going through the books. No loan of $5,000 to the Merchants' and Farmers' bank was found. Miller said: "You have lent the Merchants' and Farmers' bank of Charlotte $5,000, of which there is no record." "No," said Mr. Jenkins, "I have not." That was the beginning of the end.

Miller said nothing more. He returned at once to Charlotte and appeared at the Merchants' and Farmers' bank and said to Holland that he might have made a mistake in counting the cash the day before and believed he would count it again. Instead of finding it only one dollar short, he found it $16,000 short. Holland, as was his custom had borrowed money to put to his cash while the examiner was there, but thinking he had finished and gone and that he was safe at least for another year, withdrew the $16,000 and returned it to the men from whom borrowed. Fate had overtaken him at last, and seeing all was lost he confessed to president McAden he was a defaulter. It was not breathed outside of the bank, except to the lawyers. To them it came with stunning force. Mr. George Wilson, attorney for the bank and also a director, was in Raleigh. Not suspecting anything wrong at the bank on his return home he met Judge Burwell. Have you been to the bank?" asked Burwell. "No," said Wilson, "what's wrong?" "Go to the bank quickly!" said Burwell. Wilson went, and he has been there ever since. He said when he went in the room and Holland came in and told him he was a defaulter he was so dazed he could not take it in. He was paralyzed with astonishment. He would have trusted Holland with anything in the world.

The deeper the affair is probed the more heinous it appears. It is now discovered that to the catalogue of crime of which Holland is guilty must be added the terrible offense of forgery. A note was found on which he forged the name of J. H. Sloan for $10,000. The note was on the bank. It was at first reported that he had gotten Sloan for $10,000, but that is not true. He got the bank instead of Sloan. It was also reported that J. D. Church was a loser of $8,000. Church had paid into the bank $8,000 which Holland had failed to credit, but it was known in the bank that Church had paid in the money, so the bank makes it good. Yesterday J. D. church met Holland. He expressed his sympathy, and said he had hoped that the matter had been exaggerated, and that things were not as bad as reported. Holland replied: "Yes, as bad, and the worst is to come."

Holland has for years been a member of the board of deacons of the First Presbyterian church. It had often been the comment in the church, especially among the officers, that for years he had not taken communion. After the terrible exposure took place he said to a friend, who went to offer sympathy: "You often asked why I did not take communion. Now you know."

Prosecution of Holland in the United States court is to follow. District attorney

Carr will preside and sixty vice presidents will have seats on the stage. The following gentlemen will make speeches: Messrs. Thos. Badger, P. E. Hines, R. T. Gray, Thos. S. Kenan, Thomas P. Devereux, Charles M. Busbee, N. B. Broughton, Octavius Coke, Josephus Daniels, Pulaski Cowper, C. F. Lumsden, J. B. Batchelor, S. A. Ashe and A. A. Thompson.

The clergymen of the city are invited to occupy seats on the stage. The ladies will lend their presence and occupy seats in the gallery. The Independent band will furnish music.

They now have to prove the time.

BASKERVILLE-SNOW.

A Pretty Wedding at Christ Church this Afternoon.

At Christ church at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon Miss Mary Boylan Snow, oldest daughter of the late George H. Snow, Esq., was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Baskerville, assistant professor of chemistry at the state university. Rev. Dr. Marshall performed the beautiful marriage of the Episcopal church which united these popular young people. The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. William B. Snow. Her sister, Miss Adelaide Boylan Snow, was maid of honor. Mr. Michael Hoke was best man. The ushers were George Graham, of Hillsboro, E. W. Meyers, of Chapel Hill, H. C. B. Nitze of Baltimore, H. L. Miller, of Wilmington, George H. Snow, Howard Thomas, Perrin Busbee and Victor Boyden, of Raleigh. The church was filled with people, and the great regard felt for the charming young bride was heartily and fittingly expressed. In the audience were the groom's mother and Miss Juanita Bell, his cousin, from Columbus, Miss.

The bride was attired in a pretty traveling costume, and she and her husband left at 4:10 for Chapel Hill, which is to be their home. Dr. Baskerville is originally from Columbus, Miss., and is a grandson of Col. Charles Baskerville, of Mecklenburg, Va. He is very talented and is a graduate of the university, where he won honors. Both families are of much prominence socially.

Housekeeping Furniture. We took advantage of the rain-weather last Wednesday to go through the various lines of housekeeping furniture and take out a number of pieces which we will close out. We have placed this furniture upon our large carpet room floor and marked every piece in plain figures. We make the price now JUST ONE HALF—50c IN THE DOLLAR.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & CO. Our Sale of Housekeeping Furniture. At 50 cents on the dollar we are losing out certain pieces of housekeeping furniture. There are some of the articles. We haven't the space here to name all iron bedsteads, banquet and piano lamps, Japanese tables, reed rockers, gentlemen's easy chairs, ladies' writing desks, odd pieces of parlor furniture, oak buffets, children's cribs, beds, etc. Everything marked in plain figures and your choice from this lot at 50 cents on the dollar.

A Fourth Less than Cost. All men's clothing will be sold in suits for one-fourth less than the actual cost of same. And we have a beautiful assortment of men's summer suits and a very large stock to select from. We will not have a clothing department when we move to Norfolk and shall not carry any clothing from here if our low prices will sell it here. For instance, a suit that sold for $15 cost $10, and we now sell at $7.50. So you see this is just half the retail price and a fourth less than cost. D. T. Swindell's.

BEST RESERVE CAN CORN, the finest corn on the market. Has been sold to the best trade in Raleigh for the past three years. I have reduced this corn to 15 Cents Can. the price generally asked for inferior grades. Try a can. JESSE G. BALL: TELEPHONE 77.
