THE CITY ELECTION.

RUSS WAS A WINNER BY A MAJORITY OF 319.

There Are Six Democratic and Six Republican Aldermen.

The election in the city yesterday was in every sense of the word a popular one. More interest was manifested in it than any municipal election held here in a great many years.

The number registered was 1547 white and 1008 colored; total 2555. This was the heaviest ever known. The vote cast for mayor was: For Russ 1350, for Wynne 1031; total 2,381, or only 174 less than the registration.

The vote for clerk was: First ward Smith 418, Jenkins 138; second ward Smith 387, Jenkins 118; third ward Smith 363, Jenkins 363; fourth ward Jenkins 374, Smith 228; total for Smith 1399, Jenkins 992; Smith's majority 404.

For tax collector the vote was: First ward Hutchings 411, Alford 147; second ward Hutchings 388, Alford 125; third ward Alford 308, Hutchings 355; fourth ward Alford 376, Hutchings 224; total for Hutchings 1376 for Alford 1016; Hutchings' majority 359.

For aldermen the democrats elected C. E. Johnson, John R. Ferrall and H. M. Ivey in the first ward and J. D. Boushall, John C. Drewry, and Frank Stronach in the second ward, while the republicans elected C. W. Hoover, C. E. King, and Luther N. White in the third ward and James Baker, P. H. Stewart and B. J. Robinson in the fourth ward.

Interest centered in the third and fourth wards. In the former E. V. Denton ran as independent democrat. Some of the democrats declared this caused their defeat there, as they had 28 registered majority. Denton says the vote for him helped the democrats and made votes for Russ.

In the fourth ward two of the regular republican nominees, M. Bowes and Ed. Johnson, were "downed" by independent republicans, Stewart and Robinson. It was said by the republicans who voted against Bowes and Robinson that the purpose was to show them that they were not in line with their party last year because they opposed fusion with the populists.

In the fourth ward two of the regular republican nominees, M. Bowes and Ed. Johnson, were "downed" by independent republicans, Stewart and Robinson. It was said by the republicans who voted against Bowes and Robinson that the purpose was to show them that they were not in line with their party last year because they opposed fusion with the populists.

The election was quiet. There was more scratching in the third ward than anywhere else. There were no incidents of an unpleasant character. It was a model election. The democrats were well pleased, because, as they said, their party had held its vote so well here. At noon today aldermen-elect Pat. Stewart, James Baker and B. J. Robinson made their appearance in the mayor's office. They had certificates of election duly signed by clerk of superior court Young. A few minutes later aldermen-elect Frank Stronach, J. C. Drewry, J. D. Boushall, H. M. Ivey, John E. Ferrall, L. N. White, C. W. Hoover and C. E. King appeared. Mayor-elect Russ and clerk-elect H. F. Smith and tax collector-elect Hutchings also made their appearance. Mr. Russ and some of the new board conferred with city attorney J. N. Holding.

Mayor Badger and clerk Lambeth were not present. It has in past years been the custom for the retiring board of aldermen to meet at noon the day after the election and turn over the government. Quite a crowd gathered to see the expected ceremony. There was a little talk between mayor-elect Russ and city attorney Holding. Chief of police Heatt stated that under the new charter the aldermen were required to sign a written or printed oath and file the latter with the clerk of the board. He said he was having the oath blanks printed and that they would not be ready before 1 p. m.

Some of the new aldermen said they wanted to have the reports of the outgoing officials, etc. made before they took office. It was stated by the chief of police that all the reports had been made, but that it was not compulsory to print them. It was not stated when the old board would have its farewell meeting.
