

The Unveiling.

The News and Observer made a big show. The Daily Press was out in force, but it got there just the same. As it always does. If you are not a subscriber you should be. If you are a subscriber tell your next door neighbor about the paper. The Visitor has no canvassers and relies strictly on its friends for its support. Help to roll the ball.

To the Clothing Trade.

We have a nice stock of light and medium weight coats and vests in mohair flannels, kersays, seersuckers and linen, which will be sold at less than New York cost at D. T. Swindell's. Also a full line of boys suits in light and medium weights; all sizes to be sold at moving prices at D. T. Swindell's. Men's suits for three dollars at D. T. Swindell's.

Fine Butter at a Low Price.

I have arranged with the Riverside Dairy Co. at Lowell, N. C., to handle its Butter on the market. This Dairy is in charge of Mr. H. Howland, who formerly had charge of Mr. W. G. Upchurch's Creamery. The Riverside Butter needs no recommendation to those who know Mr. Howland or have used "Upchurch's" butter. For the present I will retail this fine Butter at 25 cents per pound. Cooking butter at 20 and new Tarbell Cheese at 15 cents per pound. D. T. Swindell's. Phone 28.

THE SUPREME COURT.

And a Summary of Its Important Decisions at this Term.

The term of the supreme court just closed made an unusual number of decisions of general interest. Among these are Moroney vs. building and loan association and Rowland vs. the building and loan association, which affirm the decision in Mills vs. the building and loan association, rendered years ago, to the effect that building and loan associations are subject to the usury laws of the state, and which add that the legislature cannot (if it had so intended) make a discrimination in favor of these corporations. Then there is Sutton vs. Phillips, in which it is held that the legislature has the power in its discretion to give the whole or a part of a penalty to anyone who shall sue for the same. Bank vs. Gilmer holds that an assignment under the act of 1893 is invalid unless the assignor files his schedule in thirty days as required by the act. Ewart vs. Jones and Cook vs. Meares settled the contest as to the two criminal court judgeships. Logan vs. the railroad holds that the lesser company, unless expressly exempt by statute, is liable for torts, both to the public and to the employees of the lessee company. Commissioners vs. lumber company settled (on reaching) the rights on a floatable river. Learell vs. telegraph company determines that a telegraphic message sent between two points in North Carolina is subject to the commissioners' rate at 25 cents, even though the message passes through an adjacent state en route. Sherrill vs. telegraph company reaffirms the liability for damages for mental anguish for failure to transmit messages of a non-pecuniary nature. Commissioners vs. Blackwell manufacturing company determines the extent of a corporation's liability to taxation. Then there is the Farthing case, which held that what is known as the "assignment act of 1895" did not not apply to mortgages, and Carr vs. Coke, which held that this act could not be set aside, even though the signatures of the speakers were procured by fraud, the bill never having passed in fact having been defeated on its attempted passage. In this last case the court stood three to two, judges Avery and Clark filing vigorous dissents, on the ground that the legislature itself, and not the lobby against the legislature, could make laws for North Carolina.

This is One Way to Raise Money.

Raleigh raised by means of a lawn party in Nash square four or five years ago the first money for the soldiers' home. Later the first money for the confederate monument was raised in the same way. These affairs were great pecuniary successes. Now why cannot another one be held to raise money for the statue to Vance? It will make a pleasant mid-summer amusement, and the cause will be extremely popular. The Visitor suggests another lawn party on a grand scale.

Weather for Tomorrow.

For North Carolina: Fair, followed by increasing cloudiness and probably rain in extreme western portion Friday. Warmer.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Friday, fair in morning, followed by threatening rain Friday night.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m.: Maximum temperature, 64; minimum temperature, 44; rainfall, trace.

The Happenings of a Day Told in Little Space.

Editor H. A. London, of Pittsboro, was here today.

Late planted cotton and corn are said not to be coming up.

The new electric company will in a few days turn on its lights.

Where is the "Arrington committee"? Will it ever meet again?

One saloon man here sold drinks at the rate of $1 a minute for ten hours last Monday.

The Surry Farmers' Alliance has sent to governor Carr $5 for the Vance monument fund.

It is as yet not decided whether there is to be a fence around the confederate monument.

Mr. T. R. Jones, the well known beer dealer, has put on the streets a very handsome wagon.

Mrs. J. N. Harwood, of Baltimore, who has been visiting Mr. J. N. Hubbard here, left for home today.

Quite a number of new buildings are going in up Idlewild, which after awhile will be a pretty suburb.

Mr. Jesse A. Jones went to Louisville today to attend the Raleigh district M. E. Sunday school conference.

The circus next Monday will attract a great many country people. The bill posters have done their work well.

Great quantities of the old material in the yards of the S. A. L. here have been shipped to Richmond and sold as junk.

Active work has been resumed on the residences of Mr. Theodore Dobbin and Mr. Joseph F. Ferrall on Hillsboro street.

Col Muldoon, the builder of the monument, gave Mrs. Armistead Jones a check for one hundred and fifty dollars for the monument fund.

Mr. W. E. Dulin, who in 1858-62 was a telegraph operator in this city, and who now lives in Washington, D. C., is here, the guest of Mr. E. B. Roberts.

The S. A. L. train north-bound was an hour and a half late today, owing to the breaking down of an engine at Rockingham. A compound engine was utilized to bring the train here and on arrival had barely a shovelfull of coal.

James C. MacRae, Esq., is at Fayetteville in attendance of the Episcopal council of the diocese of East Carolina. Among the bishops to be present are Cheshire and Watson, of the state; Capers of South Carolina; Dudley, of Kentucky; and Randolph of Kentucky.

Mr. John Brown the undertaker, or to use the correct new word, "mortician," has just received from Cincinnati a $750 hearse. By the way it is not "hearse" any more; the correct term is "funeral car." So in up to date phrase "the handsome funeral car of Mr. Brown the mortician has arrived."

Next Wednesday evening, May 29th, a dramatic performance will be given at the opera house at Wilmington to aid the fund to purchase a silver service for the cruiser Raleigh. The state of North Carolina cannot pass by unnoticed the fact that the cruiser that bears the historic name of Raleigh is still without this usual gift. It is the intention to raise the sum of $3,000 for this purpose.

Miss Eliza Potter, of Wilmington, sails next Saturday for Europe. The party she is to join consists of Mr. W. R. Tucker and Misses Bessie, Sadie and Minnie Tucker, of Raleigh; Midge Morehead and Lida Carr, Durham; Mary Sanders, Richmond, and Cornelia Boykin, of Baltimore. Mr. A. A. Thompson left today. He will also sail on the Entruria for England and a European trip, to be absent seven weeks. Mr. H. Decker also takes his departure Saturday. He will return in September.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Passes Upon Quite a Lot of Complaints.

The railway commission takes action in the following cases: Samuel Archer vs Southern R. R., overcharge and damages; no jurisdiction; dismissed.

Navassa guano company; request for reduction of freight rate between stations on the Lynchburg & Durham railway; 10 percent reduction ordered. W. T. Owens vs Wilmington & Weldon railway; complaint of overcharge and damages; overcharge refunded and matter adjusted.

S. T. Moore vs Southern R. R., refusal to ship freight by route directed; evil corrected; case dropped.

Ledbetter vs Southern R. R., loss of transportation of freight; loss paid; case dismissed.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker vs Atlantic & N. C. R. R., complaint of minimum charge on package shipments; corrected and case dismissed.

W. B. Jones vs R. & A. R. R., complaint for refusal to replace siding at saw mill; siding replaced; case dismissed.

What They Say About the 20th.

Col William Lee Davidson of Lincoln county on his return from Raleigh, accompanied by his two daughters, gave the Charlotte News a glowing account of the 20th in Raleigh. There were not less than 50,000 people here, he says. There were 30,000 in Raleigh in 1852 when Henry Clay spoke, and Col. Davidson says he knows the crowd on the 20th was much the largest. "It was a fine crowd," he says, "well behaved, and I came away from Raleigh prouder of North Carolina than I ever was before."

Notwithstanding the large number of people here on the 20th, the trains all reached their destination on schedule time and not an accident happened during the entire day to mar the pleasure of the trip. This is a very creditable showing for good railroad service.

Mr. Charles Hopkins, passenger agent of the Southern railway, says the Southern road brought 15,000 people into Raleigh, all safely and without an accident of any kind. On the day of the 20th alone the Southern ran 125 cars into Raleigh.

Peace Institute Commencement.

The first exercises begin tomorrow night. There will be numbers in elocution, physical culture, and music. The exercises begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and visitors will enter on the lower floor. The public generally is cordially invited as well as the patrons and particular friends of the institute; but young gentlemen will be admitted by ticket only.

REMNANTS.

The Baptist tabernacle excursion to Norfolk, Portsmouth, Virginia Beach, Ocean View, Old Point, etc., Wednesday May 29th, will be the largest and grandest excursion of the season. You can stay one or two days, just as you prefer. The round trip rate is $2.

The suits against the Caraleigh phosphate company for selling phosphate in sacks not having the state tax tags was to have been heard before justice Roberts today, but was postponed until next Saturday, in order, it is said, that several other suits may all be heard at the same time.

Hon. Matt. Ransom, United States minister to Mexico, is at Monterey, and is taking treatment at the hot springs. He has improved very much, but is still weak, and will not return to his post in the City of Mexico for several days. The high altitude of the City of Mexico did not agree with him.

Col. Paul Means is out in an open letter, published in today's Charlotte Observer, in which he states his reasons at length for his vigorous opposition to the resolutions of the state democratic executive committee in committing the party to free coinage at the 16 to 1 ratio. He declares that the committee had no jurisdiction in this case and was acting arbitrarily.

NEWS NOTES.

The Little Events of a Day in the Capital City.

UNDERQUEENSBERRY RULES.

The Marquis and Lord Alfred Douglas Had a Fight.

London, May 22.—The Marquis of Queensberry and his younger son, Lord Alfred Douglas, had an exciting quarrel yesterday. Lord Douglas received a severe chastisement while his father showed traces of the scrimmage. The fashionable afternoon promenade in Piccadilly was filled with aristocratic spectators today when the Marquis of Queensberry met Lord Alfred Douglas. A few words passed and there was a brief but violent conflict. The police separated the contestants and took them to the police station. Lord Alfred's countenance was disfigured with a black eye.
