REMNANTS.

At the colored Congregational church here this morning Rev. W. R. Seade, pastor of a church at Newbern, was married to Hattie Williams.

This morning, by invitation of the board of agriculture, Col. A. B. Andrews appeared before it and made some remarks in regard to the transportation of the articles now in the museum to the Atlanta exposition. The plan is that the railways are to do this free of charge.

At Davidson college today Dr. Jas. A. Hodges, formerly of Fayetteville, now of Richmond, Va., delivered the annual address, and James Osborn, Esq., formerly of Charlotte, now of New York city, delivered the address before the alumni association. The alumni met this afternoon and had a banquet. Tomorrow is commencement day. There are 29 graduates; the largest number in many years.

Mr. W. C. Damon and Prof. Jewett Allen of Chattanooga are here in regard to the location of a colony of 5000 northwestern people in Cherokee county, this state.

A. & M. COLLEGE.

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES WERE HELD TODAY.

A List of the Honors, Distinctions, etc.

This was commencement day at the A. & M. college. The exercises began at noon. Oration were delivered by many of the graduating class as follows:

Patterson of Orange, V. V. Privott of Chowan, H. Wiswall, Jr., of Beaufort and C. G. Varbrough of Caswell.

Prof. C. M. Pritchett of Cartersville, Ga., graduated with the degree of mechanical engineering, having completed the postgraduate course in mechanics.

The honor roll was read. It is made up of those students whose average grade on all studies during the year is not less than 90 out of a possible 100, and is as follows: Seniors, H. Wiswall, Jr., J. A. Bizzell, W. A. Bullock, L. B. Everett and A. H. Privott. Juniors: Geo. S. Fraps, of Wake; Robert G. Mewborne, of Lenoir, freshmen, N. R. Stancil of Robeson; Joseph F. Hunter, of Halifax.

The distinctions in the graduating class are: First distinction mechanical course, Howard Wiswall, Jr.; agricultural course, J. A. Bizzell. Second distinction agricultural course, W. A. Bullock; mechanical course, S. C. McKeown.

These were presented by the members of the senior class who did speak; as follows: Ashe, design of a machine shops; Bizzell, steamed cotton seed vs. raw cotton seed as a food for milk and butter production; Blount, construction of a machine for the determination of coefficient of friction; Brawley, the milk separator, theoretical and practical; Clark, design of auditorium for college; Corbett design of a foundry for the N. C. Col. of Agr. & Mech. arts; Darden, tile drainage; Davis, relation between actual and indicated horse power for engines; Dey, the Irish potato; Ennett, main principles in stock breeding; Faust, construction and reading of a current meter; Gold, tile drainage; Harris, relation between actual and indicated horse power for engines; Hughes, construction of a galvanometer of high resistance; Hunter, design of a water supply and electric pumping plant for college; McKeown, design of a dynamo; Paterson, partial construction of a machine for testing electricity; Pierce, steamed cotton seed vs. raw cotton seed as a food in milk and butter production; Privott, design for a grand stand for Pullen park; Wiswall, construction and reading of a current meter; Pritchett, balancing engines.

Richard H. Rattle, Esq., presented the diplomas to the 29 graduates. Rev. John N. Cole closed the exercises with the benediction.

This evening president Holladay and the faculty will give the annual reception in compliment to the students and their lady friends.

THE SILVER CONVENTION.

Its Session Began at Memphis Today.

The silver convention at met Memphis in the auditorium where the sound money convention was held last month. There is a very large attendance, including a number of men prominent in national politics. There is a noticeably large proportion of men from the country and smaller towns. The personnel of the convention embraces democrats, populists and a few republicans.

Delegations are present from 25 states, but scarcely any from states east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio. There are ten United States senators on hand—Jones and Berry of Arkansas, Bates and Harris of Tennessee, George and Walthall of Mississippi, Turpie of Indiana, Stewart of Nevada, Shoup of Idaho and Butler of North Carolina. The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by W. N. Prows, president of the bimetallic league of Memphis. Judge L. R. Estes of the circuit court a prayer and an address of welcome was delivered by ex-congressman Casey Young of Memphis. Among the speakers were ex-congressman Shibley of Pennsylvania, Alex. Delmar of California, ex-Gov. Prince of New Mexico, senators Jones, Turpie, Stewart and Shoup and ex-congressman Bryan of Nebraska. Senator Harris will not speak, but devote his time to the business of the convention.

USED ICE FROM A CORPSE.

A Hotel Sensation in Winston That Led to the Assignment of Mr. Kittelle.

Mr. George W. Kittelle, formerly proprietor of the Buford House in Charlotte, but who has been proprietor of the Phoenix hotel in Winston for three years past, made an assignment to D. H. Browder. He turned over all of his property, including hotel furniture, etc., to his creditors.

The Charlotte News says Kittelle's assignment was precipitated by a sensation which developed last Friday night, when a number of the guests left the hotel. The cause of the sensation was the charge that the ice upon which the body of the late Charles Johnson was placed was afterwards used in icing the tea and water for the guests of the hotel. It was claimed, that a rubber sheet was between the ice and the body, and that the ice was as pure as any that could have been used, but the fact of it having once been used in cooling a corpse was more than the guests could stand and they were not slow to raise trouble. The ice was also put in the water coolers.

"Triple Link Neurion" leaves July 3d. You spend the glorious 4th in Norfolk.

The Andrews opera company gave a delightful performance of the "Pretty Persian" at the academy of music last evening, to a light house. Why did not this company draw fine houses? The answer probably is that there were opposition attractions at St. Mary's and the A. M. college. It is quite probable that manager Meyers will book this company for fair week. It will be a capital thing to do.

Merek's "Pharmaceutical Report" contains the following: "Augustus Bradley deserves praise for the stand he has taken in the matter of urging Dr. Carr to Raleigh as pharmacist to the insane asylum. Medicine and pharmacy are distinct branches of science. Dr. Carr is only a physician and as such cannot fill the position of pharmacist as it should be filled. Therefore, as Mr. Bradley says, let Dr. Carr resign, and let some deserving registered pharmacist have the position. The afflicted at the asylum will fare better by it."

PICKED UP IN RALEIGH AND VICINITY.

The Happenings of a Day Told in Little Space.

Co. B gets the prize at the A. & M. college this year.

At St. Mary's school this evening the annual concert will be given.

There are now 19 street hands, 7 having been dropped from the roll.

There are four North Carolina fusion congressmen at the Memphis convention.

The board of agriculture attended the exercises at the A. & M. college today.

It appears that there is to be no special train to Wake Forest college tomorrow evening.

Mr. Jesse Pope died at Brooklyn yesterday, on his 80th birthday. His funeral was held there this afternoon.

Gov. Carr, secretary of state Coke, treasurer Worth and auditor Farman were on the platform at the A. & M. college exercises today.

Mayor Russ yesterday sent three persons to the roads. Today he ordered a tramp out of the city. Two little boys, too small to be punished otherwise, were whipped by their parents in the station house.

The funeral of the late Mr. Jefferson Denton was held this morning from the late residence. Mr. Denton leaves a wife and six children.

Ground was broken at Greensboro yesterday for new buildings at the normal and industrial school. Two wings are to be built and a large annex will be used as a dining hall.

The 3-year-old son of Mr. H. T. Hicks whose illness was mentioned yesterday, died early this morning. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence.

The grand jury in the federal court at Charlotte has returned two true bills against F. R. Holland, the ex-cashier of the Merchants' and Farmers national bank, both for embezzlement of $50,000. He was put on trial today.

Associate justice A. M. Campbell of Cherokee, of the Arrington investigation committee is here. He has notified Phillips and Bryan of the committee to be present, and says all will now "get down to business." T. R. Purnell, Esq., is the committee's attorney general.

At Wake Forest college today Capt. Thomas W. Mason, one of North Carolina's most eloquent orators, delivered the annual address before the Phi and Psi literary societies. Rev. Dr. H. W. Wharton preached the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class. Last evening Prof. W. L. Poole delivered the annual address before the alumni.

A Rockingham Index reporter called on the town clerk there and found that the returns of only one of the recently elected officers are made out correctly. The returns of mayor Everett are properly made out but those of the five commissioners state that they went to no expense in the April election but do not allude to the May election when they were candidates and when they were elected.
