OVER THE STATE.

Items of Much Interest Briefly Collated.

An attempt was made before Judge Bryan yesterday to get Alex Rouse who is confined in Lenoir county jail released under a writ of habeas corpus. The application was refused. Rouse has been in jail since May under a charge of incendiarism at Kingston.

There is a movement on foot to purchase the monument and grounds at Moore's Creek. The battle of Moore's Creek was fought February 9, 1776. A monument commemorating this event was created there by popular subscription a few years previous to the war and it is still there, says the Wilmington Review.

Mr. Charles D. Upchurch, who for several years has been living in Chicago, is reported to be sick. His disease is consumption.

The infant child of Mr. Walter W. Parish died last night, aged one year, and Rev. A. M. Simms conducted the funeral this afternoon.

The State Republican, a newspaper whose editors are well known colored men, appeared today. It is "for sound money and against populists," it appears, and gives Gen. Weaver a hard hit.

Mrs. W. H. Bagley and family returned here today from Washington, D. C., and will make Raleigh their home. Mr. Worth Bagley, who has just graduated at the naval academy, is also here for a few days. He will be a midshipman on the cruiser Montgomery. Mrs. Bagley is occupying her home corner East South and South Blount streets.

AT PULLEN PARK

Many Improvements are to be Made in the Near Future.

Pullen park is now one of the most attractive places in this section. It grows in popular favor each season. Very little money has been expended on it by the city; in fact it has had a struggle for means. The new city administration has decided to make it a regular appropriation. This is sensible and right. Three men are employed at the park. One more is needed. There are 70 acres in the grounds, exactly the same as at the A. and M. college. Mr. R. S. Pullen gave all this land. The drive through the park is exactly a mile in length. It ought to be widened and macadamized. The amount of money available for labor in beautifying the grounds has been pitifully small. Long ago all the wooded portion of the park should have been seeded in grass, but as yet nothing has been done to it save the removal of some of the undergrowth and infrequent plowing. By and by it will be one of the most attractive parts of the park. The city cannot do too much for this resort. Every yard of it should be made beautiful and attractive.

Weather for Tomorrow.

For North Carolina: Increasing cloudiness.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity: Fair, north-easterly winds, slightly cooler by Sunday evening.

Local data for 24 hours ending 8 a. m.: Maximum temperature, 90; minimum temperature, 70; rainfall 0.00.

The storm off New England has nearly disappeared, while the "low" in the northwest seems nearly stationary, with a pressure of 29.7 inches still at Bismarck, though the pressure has also fallen over Texas, indicating the formation of a secondary "low" there. In fact it is already raining at Memphis, Vicksburg and Amarillo, and 1.18 inches has fallen during the past 24 hours at Palestine. A considerable high area has appeared over the lake region, with a slight fall in temperature in that section, and north to north-east winds. The pressure also remains high over Florida. The weather has become generally cloudy or partly cloudy over the south and west, though the number of stations reporting rain is much less than yesterday. The probabilities are for north to northeast winds Sunday and Monday with slightly cooler weather while the increasing cloudiness and rain in the lower Mississippi valley indicates light showers by Monday evening.

Children's Day.

The regular children's day services will be held on tomorrow, Sunday, afternoon, at 4.30 o'clock, at the First Baptist church. Public invited.

MINISTER RANSOM

Spent the Morning in this City on His Way Home.

Minister Matt. W. Ransom arrived here today from Lenoir, Caldwell county, having left that place last evening. He was at the Yarboro several hours and had many callers. He is quite weak, yet says he is better than in three months past. Biliousness, boils and carbuncles are the things which have upset him. He goes to his home near Weldon. Later he will go to the White Sulphur Springs, West Va., and to springs in Ashe county, N. C. In August he will return to Mexico. He is quite feeble. His son, Mr. Robert Ransom, was with him today.

MORMON ELDERS

Are Making House to House Visits Here in Raleigh.

Two Mormon elders, Samuel Mills, Jr., and Hugh W. Douglass, are here. They are men of nerve and are making a house to house canvass. They are giving away tracts. They say there are no less than 225 elders at work now in the south, which is regarded as a great field of labor. Of these 22 are in North Carolina. In Georgia there are none. They say they are all under the direction of the president of the southern mission board. They were asked how many believers were on their rolls in North Carolina and said there had been perhaps 1,000, but now there are not over 200, owing to deaths, removals to Utah, backsliding, etc. In this county they say they have made no converts. If this be true it is a high compliment to the good sense of the Wake people. The elders declare that their church, "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints," is now as much opposed to polygamy as the Presbyterian church. They say they have a duty to perform, and that the people are very kind to them. They advise converts to remain in North Carolina. Formerly converts went to Utah. The elders say Mormon converts are unpopular and not well liked by their neighbors, and this is one reason so many have gone away. But while these elders thus defend their church and claim it to be non-polygamous, some papers in the west, of wide information, say the Mormons are evading the law in order to get Utah admitted to statehood. These elders say that these statements are made for political reasons and that there are two political parties in Utah.

The Public Printing.

Mention was made yesterday of the fact that the new public printers had not complied with the law in furnishing the acts of the legislature and journals and documents in 90 days after its adjournment. The Visitor is informed on high authority that these are now in Richmond, Va., being bound by Walthall & Jenkins, who joined Stewart Bros. in their bid for this work. The question is now who pays the freight on these from Winston to Richmond and from Richmond to Raleigh? It is a pertinent inquiry. Walthall and Jenkins furnished Stewart Bros. a bid for the binding, on the basis of which the latter made their bid. One of the Richmond firms was here when the bids for the public printing were opened.

Mr. Guy Barnes of Barnes Bros said today that the reason why there was delay in the turning over of the laws to the secretary of state was that the latter did not furnish Stewart Bros. with the copy for the index to the laws until June 11. He says Stewart Bros. so write him.

The Code, sec. 3639, requires the State auditor to deduct $50 a day from the public printer's pay for each day he is late in delivering the laws, &c., beyond 90 days. This is mandatory. In the face of these statements it is not worth while to make comment, beyond saying that while this North Carolina work is being bound in Richmond, binders here are out of work and some of them have left the state.

At the sale of the Watson property on Tuesday last, while the purchasers obtained good bargains the sellers were not dissatisfied. The sale will be resumed at 12 o'clock on Monday, June 17th, on Swain street near Cabarrus, beginning with houses and lots, and continuing with houses and valuable vacant lots on Lenoir street. There will also be sold valuable lots and small parcels of land on new streets laid out east of Bloodworth street, affording admirable opportunities for bargains. The mansion will be sold if a suitable offer is made.

Chief justice Campbell of the Arrington court says the members of that august tribunal are simply "masters chancery." He says Mrs. Arrington has not availed herself of the judgments of the supreme court and sold certain lands?

This month there have been extremely few seizures of illicit distilleries. The cause is that the internal revenue "fund fund" is exhausted, and there are no rewards for informers. It is upon the latter that the revenue officers depend. "No information, no seizures" is the status of the case.

Senator Marion Futler was here today on his way home from the Memphis silver convention. He was delighted with the convention but expressed his disappointment that none of the fifteen delegates appointed by the Raleigh mass meeting attended. He thought some of these devoted friends of silver would surely have been at Memphis.

At Charlotte last evening the "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine" met. These are high Masons and there are not many of them in the State. There was a banquet at which speeches were made by Rev. Dr. Creasy, Rev. Mr. Hoffman, Dr. Matheson and Messrs. B. R. Lacy and Liddell. At Mr. Lacy's plate was a handsome bouquet with the Charlotte Observer's compliments. The menu was handsomely served. Messrs. Toms and Hartman, of Hendersonville; Kantner and Glenn, of Greensboro; Nading, of Winston; Quinn, of Salisbury; Dr. D. E. Everett, W. A. Withers, B. R. Lacy and John C.
